A Non-Sinkable Ship-

George Shone, of 705 Collinsville avenue, East St. Louis, has a patent for a non-sinkable ship which he wishes to sell to the Greek government, says a St. Louis paper. Mr. Shone's ship is a marvel, if it will accomplish all that he claims for it. A rock thrust through the hull would have no more effect than the puncture of the outer coat of a bicycle tire. As that tire consists of a tube within a tube, so Mr. Shone's invention might be termed a ship within a ship.

There are two hulls, with a space of 10 feet between them. For submarine obstacles would penetrate the first crust and then smash into the second, 10 feet further in. Even if such were the case, the second hull is as strong as that on an ordinary vessel, and would withstand tTe shock whose force had been

The Statesville Landmark says: "Marshal Millikan yesterday wrote to the Attorney General for permission to move the marshal's office from Statetville to Greensboro. Permission will of course be granted and it is expected that the office wili be moved inside of ten days. This news will create little if any surprise. It has been expected ever since Mr. Millikan's appointment, that the office would eventually go to Greensboro. Mr. Willie Allison, son of ex-Marshal Allison, who was a clerk in the office under his father and has held his position since Mr. Millikan's appointment, retired from the office yesterday."
