The trustees of the college had a Graduating Exercises at the short session this morning which lasted only a few minutes.

> This evening at four o'clock the board met again, but only routine business, such as the receiving of reports, was transacted. The boaad will hardly take any action today relative to changes in the faculty, though there may be some movement of this kind tonight.

It was said today that Governor Russell postponed his trip to Trinity in order to be near the board when the changes in the faculty are

The Sale of the Castle Hayne Farm.

The land of the phosphate mines, mill and farm located at Castle Havne, which was purchased by the penitentiary for $16,000, embraces 800 acres. In bidding in the property for the penitentiary, young gentlemen who delivered Mr. Chadbourn stated that as director and chairman of the finance comcredit and skill. The orators and mittee of the penitentiary, he made the subjects of their orations were as the bid and that he was not person ally responsible, in any way, shape Walter Jones McLendon, Jr., of or form. He also stated that he bid Wadesboro-"Burns' Influence on the property in as a trustee in order to secure a part of the debt due the state penitentiary by the North Carolina Phosphate Co.

The debts of the phosphate company amount to $88,500. Among the creditors are the Citizens' National bank, of Raleigh, whose claim is $31 000; Dr Hogg, of Goldsboro, whose claim is $18,000; C M Hawkins, of Raleigh, whose claim is $7,000, and the state penitentiary, the claim of which is $17,000 for convict labor furnished.

For the past two years the penitentiary has leased the farm, but this been discontinued and the mines are being worked by about 40 convicts. Mr Chadbourn says he thinks the sale will be confirmed and in the event that it is the mines and mill will be operated, the farm will be worked and brick making will be carried on on an extensive scale.

to appoint. Judge Purnell has the appointment of the clerk at Raleigh, though it is not known that he will make any change. The clerkship in this city is a circuit as well as a district office and would therefore have to be ratifled by Judges Goff and Simouton.

Judge Purnell has not completed the list of appointments of United States commissioners. He can appoint as many as he deems fit, no specified number being provided for in the statute.

The following appointment of comnissioners was made last evening: John E Bryan, Moncure, Chatham county; Carson Johnson, Pittsboro, Chatham county; J W McAdams, Siler City, Chatham county; Ed Pow ers, Fayetteville, Cumberland county: H B Register, Whiteville, Columbus county; J W Brown, Oxford, Granville county; John B Holland, Dunn, Harnett county; Walter B Clark, Southern Pines, Moore county; D S Barrett, Carthage, Moore county; P H Massey, Smithfield Hugh Humphrey, Goldsboro, Wayne county; BF Bullock, Franklinton, Franklin county; John D Grimsley, Snow Hill, Greene county; Benj F M'Lean, Maxton, Robeson county; M B Culpepper, Elizabeth City Pasquotank county; John Nichols, Raleigh, Wake county; RS White, Elizabethtown, Bladen county; RH Bunting, Wilmington, New Hanover

FAIR WEATHER

Tonight and Tomorrow- It will be Much

Warmer-The weather prediction for Raleigh and vicinity is clearing today and fair tonight and Thursday. It will be much warmer. The thermometer was 64 this morning and the barometer 30 0G. The pressure continues moderately high from the lake region and north Atlantic down to the gulf. The weather continues cloudy from South Carolina northward, but has cleared in the southern and central valley. A distinct storm center has formed in the extreme northwest which is causing warm southerly winds west of the Mississippi, where a considerable rise in temperature has been experienced. The largest amounts of rain oc-

SUGAR SCHEDULE

Is a Compromise -- Calhoun Calls on Mc kinley, But Leaves For His Illinois Home...Cuba to be discussed On the Trip.

By Telegraph to the Press-Visitor. WASHINGTON, D. C., June 9.-Senator Aldrich says regarding the sugar schedule adopted by the republican senators, that the refiners wont fare quite as well as they do under the present or Wilson law. The new schedule is a compromise between the senate and house bills. The last as passed and the first as reported He believes the schedule will be accepted by the senate immediately; also that the tariff bill will have passed the senate by June 12th. Commissioner Calhoun had another interview with President Mc-Kinley at the White House this morn ing. TheRuiz case was talked about, but the President wont take any action until after his return from the southern trip. He is anxious to know all the details in order to consider with the members of the Cabinet on the Nashville journey to be made, the characterof the representation to Spain.

President McKinley and party eft at noon today for Nashville to attend the exposition. The president was accompanied by Mrs. Mc Kinley and the members of the cabinet. The train is a special and is the handsomest that ever pulled out of Washington.

Commissioner Calhoun did not go with the presidential party to Nashville. He will go home to Danville, Ill., and will return when the president returns home.

It is learned that the president has offered the post of minister to Spain to ex-Governor Jacob D. Cox, of Ohio. Whether or not he will accent is unknown

ST. MARY'S.

Institution.

The Press-Visitor takes pleasure in publishing the following letter from one of the Alumnae of St. Mary's

"Dear old St. Mary's!" How many hundreds of girls and women in their homes over this broad land will echo the words at the beginning of this article. From Canada bordering on the North. Mexico on the South, and from the borders of the broad Atlantic, and peaceful Pacific on the East and West have girls gathered under the sheltering care of this dear old school. There is always a ring of pride evident in the words, "I am a St. Mary's girl." Each of us recall, with fondest re collections, the times in "the long ago," when she answered the clang of the bell as it told us our next duty, and with tenderest memory do we recall the loving care given each by the beloved principal, Rev. Dr. Aldert Smedes. Fifty-five years ago he opened the school for girls (it had previously been a boy's school) and year after year, until 1877, when the summons from on high came to him, he labor ed faithfully to place St. Mary's where it now stands, on the topmost round of the ladder of learning. When his hands were folded [calmly in the clasp of death, his son, Rev. Mr. Bennett Smedes, the present beloved principal, took up the duties of his father, and has since then carried on the work amid difficulties and discouragements known only to specially fine work under the guiding hand of Miss Ward. They part in the chapel music on commencement day and and play the accompa niments for the concert. Miss Such has charge of the vocal department and the evidence of good and thorough training is seen specially in the chorus singing. There are five specially fine pianists under Prof. Mack and Miss Dowd. The commencement pieces are selected from their best work and not specially prepared for commencement. The fine results in tone and phrasing are to be attributed to the system used-that of Dr Wm Mason as exemplified in his "Touch and Tecnique"-and other modern studies. The music of the Processional Hymn Thursday is composed by Prof Mack and dedicated to St Marys. Miss Fennor, the art teacher took great pains to show and explain her department. The first work is in outline drawing in still life. The original Econventional design is fine. Then comes the charcoal sketches. The "one hour time" sketches are beautifully done. The landscapes are copies. The still life groups are fine. They have many casts from which to work Water colors come next in order, In this line the 11 hour sketches are fine. By this is meant a picture is begun and finished within the specified time. In water colors Miss Cheshire's Wisteria is one of the certificate pictures. Violets by Miss Mary Latta and the Venecian scene by Miss Susie Marshall deserve special mention. Also Miss Lizzie Briggs' still life pictures. Original designs in water colors done by Miss Pattie Lewis, Miss Cheshire, Miss Root and Miss Briggs arefine. In oil, Miss Lewis, Miss Root, Miss Latta show fine work. Miss Lewis a few snow balls from nature and realistic art groups. For the best in this work alone Margaret Clayton took first prize and Francis Womble second prize. Theolder girls study physiology. There are life size manikins showing every part of the human body; not simply studying a book, but these figures are in layers as it were, and each leaf or layer is lifted and one can see deeper into the mystery of the formation of our bodies. In the biology class life is studied from its very beginning. This class is Miss Slaters pride. The class desects animals or parts of animals and so does the teacher all in the class room. This dissecting is done under water This class has no books, but is simply lectured to by Miss Slater. The class room is very thoroughly equipped with a library and all apparatus necessary for carrying on the study of nature. There is a $1,500 microscope with all its varied parts among some of these equipments. Miss Slater goes to Cornell for the next session, but her place will be supplied by MissGreen, who took Batchelor of Science degree at Benthel, Ohio, and Master of Science at Cornell. The program for the commencement exercises in all the departments is particularly fine. The alumna association held its meeting Tuesday afternoon and it was the largest ever held. In its need, St Mary's will have the gen erous support of all its old pupils The ladies at that meeting voted for all funds collected for the endowment fund to go to the purchase fund for St Mary's, but nothing of the Aldert Smedes scholarship fund is is to be touched. There is on hand for that purpose $1,346, and the sum required to endow this scholarship is 3,000. Mrs. Iredell, the president of the association spoke earnestly and dearly and feelingly on the subject of St. Mary's, and she had the heart-felt sympathy of each of her
