

WILL JOIN HIS WIFE.

Henry Was Very Much Incensed at the Charge Made Against Her.

Our readers will remember that a darkey by the name of Henry Berry was arrested in Durham, upon the charge of stealing wearing apparel from Prof. R. L. Flowers, of Trinity College. The Greensboro Record has the following to say of Perry and his wife:

"A good many people will recall Henry Berry, whose wife was accused, a year or two ago, with burning a house on Prey street. She was arrested at the time on a charge of larceny and at court was convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary. Her husband, Henry Berry, was very much incensed at the charge of arson and after her conviction on the larceny charge, he moved to Raleigh to be near her, but before he left another house was burned. Since this time Berry has lived in Raleigh but has worked most of the time in Durham at Trinity College, going back and forth.

"Some time ago various things began to be missed from the college, but no one suspected Berry until last week, when Officer Woodall, of Raleigh, searched his house, finding a lot of stolen articles, and now Berry is in a fair way to join his wife."

The Widow Goldstein.

Russell Sage and Hetty Green are the central figures of the farce The Widow Goldstein which is the attraction at Academy of Music Friday night. The enmity existing between them was utilized by Lillian and Lawrence Marston for the purposes of a travesty on Wall street methods. The actor who takes the part of Cyrus Russell makes up in exact imitation of the celebrated philanthropist—and the Widow Goldstein is a breathing representation of the richest woman in the world. The gentleman carries his representation to the extent of presenting Mr. Sage just as he is—with all his peculiarities of speech and his appetite for apples. The study of Mrs. Green ends with the make-up. Her part calls for a hebrew dialect. She is the type of that noblest and loveliest of woman whose virtue and honor has preserved the hebraic race intact from generation to generation. Of course a play dealing with Sage and Mrs. Green must have for its environment Wall street.

Sowing the Wind.

One of the theatrical sensations of recent years was the appearance a couple of seasons ago, on the London stage, of Sydney Grundy's emotional melodrama, "Sowing the Wind." Subsequently it was produced in New York and other leading cities of this country, and every where won universal attention. Its treatment of a delicate social problem was so daring that it almost took one's breath away at first, but the seriousness and honesty of its purpose were so apparent that its audacity was overlooked and its wholesome, moral tone was admitted by all. There is no more popular play on the stage today, and the people in this city are so fortunate in having an opportunity to witness its production. It will be the bill at the Metropolitan Opera House Monday evening.

Mysterious Disappearance of an Editor.

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 7.—John Hughes, a finely educated Latin and Greek scholar, and the editor of "The Wheel" here, has mysteriously disappeared, having deserted his wife and child. His wife is in frail health and is almost heartbroken. All efforts to trace him have proved futile. He came here from North Carolina. Hughes was addicted to the habit of excessive cigarette smoking, and it is feared by his friends that this affected his mind seriously and caused him to wander away. Through appeals of the wife and friends the story has been suppressed by the local papers.

Justice in Arkansas.

Heard, who so brutally murdered Sid Blair at Little Rock, Ark., some time ago, was tried last week, the jury bringing in a verdict of not guilty.

Mr Blair was a brother of Prof. Blair of this place. The papers said it was a wholly unprovoked attack, Heard walking up to Blair and shooting him.

Mr. Kenneth Ledbetter, who has been visiting his cousin Stanley G. Smith, returned to his home in Petersburg, Virginia this morning.

PERRY BROKE DOWN

Overcome in Bidding Children Good Bye.

HANGED AT DECATUR.

Was Accompanied from Atlanta by Strong Guard—Wife and Children in Jail all Night With Him.

By Telegraph to the Press-Visitor. ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 8.—Horace S. Perry, who was sentenced to death for the murder of Bely Lancer, for whose pardon his wife made a sensational but ineffectual appeal to Governor Atkinson about a week ago, was hanged at Decatur this afternoon. Perry's wife and five children were with him all night in jail. He was accompanied to Decatur by a strong guard. Perry broke down completely in bidding good-bye to his wife and children.

GEN. LEE ARRIVES

In New York Today—Not Thought He Will Return

By Telegraph to the Press-Visitor. NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Consul General Lee, of Virginia, arrived this morning from Cuba on the Ward line steamship, Segurania, with his son, Robert and Oliver, the United States consul at Merida. According to official statements, Lee comes to this country on a thirty days leave of absence but it is probable that he will not return to duty in Cuba. It is thought his resignation has been tendered McKinley and will be accepted and his successor appointed.

JOHN L. IN COURT.

Assaults a hack driver who lands on his Purse.

By Telegraph to the Press-Visitor. BOSTON, Sept. 7.—John L. Sullivan was arrested last night at Lewiston, Me., for assaulting a hack driver. He refused to pay drivers demands. This morning he was arraigned in police court and settled by paying the driver and costs in court.

The Vestmaker's Strike.

By Telegraph to the Press-Visitor. NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—The vestmaker's strike will probably be declared off. Less than a hundred men are striking today. The few contractors who have been holding out were anxious to sign the new agreement today. The cloakmakers ordered a few strikes, and settled some old ones. Many new shops held meetings last night and prepared demands.

The cigarette makers are still out. Broke jail.

By Telegraph to the Press-Visitor. ZANESVILLE, Ohio, Sept. 8.—Early this morning parties on the outside saw two iron bars to a window of the county jail, and entered the corridor and then unlocked the doors of two cells and liberated Rosenberg, the notorious horse and bicycle thief and Barney Devine a burglar. Sheriff Woostell did not discover their escape until after day light.

Plans Intercepted.

By Telegraph to the Press-Visitor. PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7.—Broad street depot was thronged with secret service men from Washington with the purpose of arresting members of the Cuban filibustering expedition which was to have arrived at the station this morning early and go across the river to Camden, where the start was to have been made.

WANTS A PARDON.

Mayor Caldwell of Statesville Here to See the Governor.

Mr. L. C. Caldwell, mayor of Statesville, arrived in the city today.

Mr. Caldwell came here to urge Governor Russell to grant a pardon to a man named Miller, who is serving a ten years' sentence in the penitentiary.

Miller was convicted in Iredell court in 1894 of manslaughter. He has served three years of his term. Mr. Caldwell, who is a prominent populist, has numerous petitions asking that Miller be pardoned.

Mr. Caldwell will present the matter to Governor Russell this evening upon his return from Wilmington.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Decided to Open Schools Earlier—Colored Committeemen Elected.

The county board of education was in session today. It was decided to open the county schools before January 1st, where desired by the various school districts. The following resolution was passed:

WHEREAS, It has been decided by the Superintendent of Public Instruction that schools may be begun before the apportionment of January 1898 is made. And

Whereas, The committeemen of the several districts have almost unanimously expressed themselves desirous of beginning their schools in the month of November.

Resolved, That it is the sense of the board of education of Wake county, that the school committee of the different districts may open their schools in the month of November, 1897. Provided no orders shall be given on the treasurer till the apportionment money shall then be made, nor for more money than may be apportioned to the respective schools.

The board elected the following school committeemen in the places of those originally elected, who declined to serve.

Cedar Fork township—A. B. Lynn, Rev. W. G. Clements, A. Thompson, (colored.)

White Oak township—H. E. Norris, A. S. Upchurch.

Oak Grove township—J. M. Lynn, Jackson Guess, (colored.)

Buck Horn township—J. J. Edwards, H. C. Barker and W. C. Bright.

A resolution was passed ordering that the school census be taken during the month of December.

FAIR, WARMER.

Is the Prediction of the Weather Bureau for Tomorrow.

The weather bureau predicts fair weather tonight and Thursday, warmer.

The maximum temperature was 30 yesterday; the barometer this morning was 30.24.

The barometer continues quite high over the country east of the Mississippi river, from New England to the Gulf, while the depression in the extreme northwest has increased in depth.

West of the Mississippi very warm, clear weather prevails, with southerly winds. The line of 70 degrees this morning passes north of Bismarck and Marquette.

Heavy rains occurred over Florida and the northeasterly winds and cloudy weather seem to indicate a disturbance in the Gulf of Mexico.

It May be Murder.

The Greensboro Telegram says: O. D. Boycott, who returned from Mt. Airy last night, tells us of a serious cutting affair that occurred at Flat Rock, just beyond Mt. Airy. Two employees of the Mt. Airy Granite Co., by the name of Ceasar and French, both colored, have had a quarrel on hand for about two weeks, and when the two met Saturday night they proceeded to settle their differences with blows.

Ceasar cut French, inflicting a serious wound, and it was thought that he would die, but he was living when Mr. Boycott left Mt. Airy.

The Coming of a Great Production.

Rancroft, the great magician, fills a notable engagement here at an early date. This is one of the most magnificent and expensive productions on the road and Raleigh is fortunate in being able to have it.

For one of the most mysterious feats in his entertainment, Rancroft, the magician, uses the skull of Chunder Hula, the Hindoo sorcerer who invented the world famous trick of the boy who climbs into space on the invisible ladder. The relic is superior to any money value, and was obtained in India by Rancroft only at the price of some of his most cherished secrets.

A large number of A. & M. Students arrived in the city today.

Prof. Drew Patterson, of the Georgia University and Miss Alexander, daughter of Prof. Alexander, late minister to Greece, now a member of the North Carolina University faculty were united in marriage at Chapel Hill this afternoon.

A big barbecue was given at Tucker's farm, near the city yesterday afternoon and was largely attended by a number of citizens. Splendid Brunswick stew, barbecue and other tempting dishes et cetera were served. The occasion was very much enjoyed.

TO CONTINUE MORGAN ST

Report of Committee Made to County Commissioners Today.

The county commissioners were in session all the morning, and then adjourned until next regular meeting.

The election of the superintendent of the county board of health was deferred until the next meeting.

The committee of appraisers, consisting of M. T. Leach, Wm. Primrose, G. W. Thompson, Charles McDonald and Frank Ellington, appointed to lay off and assess property on the West Morgan street extension, made its report.

The extension of Morgan street due west through the Boylan and Cameron property to the penitentiary road is recommended. It is recommended that the road be taken equally from each property, and it is further recommended that the county replace all the fences and houses which have to be removed.

The report of the committee was accepted and extension of West Morgan will be accomplished at an early date.

Mr. T. F. Brockwell submitted his bond of $200 as standard keeper.

The Sup't. of the county work house was requested to repair the Powell bridge over New River and the ford at Smith's Creek near Wyatt.

Mr. J. R. Buffalo submitted a letter from H. A. Whiting, president of the North Carolina State Dairymen's Association urging the county commissioners to offer premiums for dairy and stock products, the prizes to be awarded on tests made in county contests. Mr. Whiting named the following committee of Wake county citizens whom he asked to cooperate with the county commissioners in holding the contest: F. J. Weathers and R. W. Weathers of Raleigh and R. J. Medlin of Method.

A HANDSOME STORE.

J. W. Metcalf & Co.'s Store Now Completed.

Messrs. J. W. Metcalf & Co., have had the work at the entrance of their drugstore on the corner of Martin and Fayetteville streets completed, and the work is done in most handsome style. The name of the firm is laid in beautiful mosaic in the floor of the entrance and the finish of the entire interior is one of the most attractive in town and such as to make it one of the most pleasant resorts as well as one of the best and most reliable of our drug establishments.

Having purchased the branch drug business of Mr. John Y. MacLae at the corner of Fayetteville and Martin streets, they have had the store remodeled and enlarged, and will carry a full line of drugs, patent medicines and toilet articles. Their prescription department will be the main feature of their business—nothing but the purest drugs will be used, and the utmost care and promptness guaranteed. Dr. G. A. Reun, who is not only a regularly registered but a thorough and competent pharmacist, will be in charge of this department. Prices, which are cash, will be as low as is consistent with pure drugs and careful compounding.

They have a soda fountain too for the benefit of customers. While this is not a main feature of business, they dispense the coldest and best of drinks. They also carry the most complete line of cigars, cigarettes, smoking and chewing tobacco.

Official Vote of Bond Election

The result of the bond election yesterday was a foregone conclusion. The opponents of the issue admitted defeat yesterday.

The following is the official vote by wards.

| | FOR BONDS. | AGAINST. |
|-------------|------------|----------|
| First ward, | 157 | 24 |
| Second " | 230 | 23 |
| Third " | 288 | 64 |
| Fourth " | 226 | 47 |
| | 901 | 158 |

The total vote for the bonds was 901, and against 158.

The total registration was 1,415 and it will be seen that the bonds received a majority of 387 of the registered voters.

British Opposition Disappearing.

By Cable to the Press-Visitor. SIMLA, Sept. 8.—In official circles here it is considered evident that the rising of tribesmen against the British is rapidly losing its force. There is no longer doubt of the enemy leaving the Saanana territory.

Senator Morgan Off for Hawaii.

By Telegraph to the Press-Visitor. SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 8.—Senator Morgan of Alabama, sailed yesterday on the steamer Australia for Honolulu.

Mr. W. P. Headrick, of Lexington was in the city today.

TO FORCE LANGDON.

Motion Before Judge Purnell by Miss Waite This Afternoon.

This evening before Judge Thos. R. Purnell in the United States district court a motion was made by Ex Judge T. B. Womack, counsel for Miss Katie K. Waite that a limit be made to the time allowed for collecting evidence in the case instituted by Mr. Samuel G. Lungdon against Miss Waite.

Judge Womack stated that it was the desire of the defendant that the case be brought to trial, that it had been eight months since action was instituted and no evidence had been taken by the prosecution.

Various issues have been injected in the case and it is now desired that the issue be brought to a termination.

Langdon sues Miss Waite for the recovery of $50,000 in bonds, which he claims rightfully belong to him.

Depositions are now being taken by those persons having claims against the company and they will be submitted to Mr. E. C. Smith, the special master, at an early date to decide which has priority.

Dr. Smith's Brilliant Lecture.

The Greensboro Telegram says: Prof. P. P. Claxton, of the Normal College, in a few well chosen words, after an earnest appeal for the establishment of a public library, introduced Dr. C. Alphonso Smith, of the University of Louisiana, to the audience in the court house last night.

Dr. Smith's subject was "Southern Orators Before the War," and his speech was a gem. The gifted young speaker took his audience through the picture gallery of the past and showed them beautiful word paintings of the South's most gifted orators, revealing the wonderful personalities of Patrick Henry, Hayne, Calhoun, Clay, and Prentiss.

This is the first of a series of lectures to be given for the benefit of the public library, and in the matter of speakers we hope the management will be equally as fortunate in their future selections.

The Press-Visitor's New Offices.

The Press-Visitor was at home today in its new offices in the Academy building, where it was pleased to receive its friends. The Press-Visitor occupies two offices in the Academy building—the editorial office, fronting on Martin street, and the business office fronting on Salisbury street. Each office will be equipped with a telephone. The number of the telephone in the editorial office is 171, and that in the business office, which is now being put in, will be announced as soon as the work of putting it in is completed.

The Press-Visitor hopes to see all its old friends in its new home. The work of establishing ourselves in the new quarters, while a tedious and troublesome ordeal, has been successfully accomplished without any interruption to the publication of the paper, which has appeared every day on time. With improved facilities, we will continue to greet our readers and friends every afternoon from our new offices.

The box sheet for the splendid drama, "Sowing the Wind," will be opened at King's drug store tomorrow.

Mr. J. W. Setzer has accepted a position with Mr. E. Hugh Lee and will be glad to see his friends at any time.

Several additional wagons, heavily freighted with gypsies arrived in the city today. The last assortment consists chiefly of horse traders.

Commissions were issued today at the executive office to a number of notaries public. Among the number was H. H. Roberts of this city.

The Pace building, which is the property of the Capitol Club will be sold to the highest bidder. See advertisement in this issue.

Forty North Carolina editors expect to leave on the night of the 20 instant for the Tennessee exposition. They will stop one day at Lookout mountain.

The Southern Railway will continue to sell week-end tickets to Old Point Comfort, Ocean View, Virginia Beach, Morehead and Wilmington on every Saturday and Sunday till Sept. 26th.

Capt. W. R. Kendrick will deliver his lecture on "The Ups and Downs of Wife Hunting" November 18, under the auspices of the Royal Arcanum.

A convict, Jim Eaton, who a year ago escaped from the penitentiary, was captured Sunday at Spartanburg, S. C. and was brought back to lay. He was from Vance.

Mr. Joel Whitaker returned from Guilford College today where he has been training the football team of the college. Mr. Whitaker thinks Guilford has an excellent eleven, though a light one.

Mr. W. J. Olive accompanied the remains of his little daughter Lela to New Hill this morning for burial, making the third one of his family who has died recently. His many friends extend their kindest sympathies.

Miss Susie Tillmuth left today for Morganton, where she will spend a few days before leaving for Florida, where she accepted a position in the state school for the deaf at Tallahassee.

Governor Russell came back from Wilmington this evening. The Governor and Mrs. Russell made this visit to Wilmington to witness the marriage of L. W. Stein, who manages the dairy farm of Mrs. Russell.

Sampson Anderson is serving every day the best of Brunswick stew and barbecue at the Bonanza. Those who have ever tasted Sampson's Brunswick and barbecue know that he can make the finest in the land.

"The apparel oft proclaims the man." In no other way can you be so well dressed as in a tailor made suit. Messrs. Whiting Bros. have opened the season in their tailoring department with very bright prospects. See their new ad.

Inspector-General B. S. Royster and Major E. M. Hayes, went to Kingston this morning as special guests of the Kingston Naval Reserves at a reception and ball. The band of the first Virginia regiment will furnish the music.

Mr. L. T. Brown will remove his family back to Raleigh next week and they will make their home here in future, occupying a residence on McDowell street. We are glad to know that Mr. Brown will probably locate in business in Raleigh again and the many friends of himself and family will be glad to welcome them back to the city.

SUTLIFF AN EXAMPLE.

Mayor Russ Sends a White Tramp to the Roads for Begging.

John Sutliff, of Fall River, Mass., changed his address this morning. For the next thirty days his address will be "John Sutliff, County Work House, Wake County, N. C."

Mr. Sutliff is a tourist. His tears are confined to car trucks and dirt roads. Occasionally he lingers in cities and resorts just to pass away the time. His visit here is more extended than he contemplated. Mr. Sutliff is very extravagant—extravagant in his conversation, and that is why his visit here is prolonged.

Last night Sutliff was on Morgan street and an unconquerable hunger came over him. At the first gate he passed he stepped in and demanded supper. The citizen was somewhat abashed by the stranger's imperative manner and tone of voice and being peevishly inclined brought out a tempting meal, neatly wrapped in a paper.

"Bring me a chair and I'll make way with this hash right here, See!" said the stranger.

An officer happened along and carried Sutliff to the station house where he made way with the supper with ease and pleasure.

This morning Sutliff was arraigned before Mayor Russ on the charge of begging. Mayor Russ very properly sent the insolent fellow to the roads for thirty days.

Tramps are continually passing through the city. Not a day passes but that healthy bodied looking tramps are soliciting funds or something to eat on the street. There is a city ordinance prohibiting begging and citizens should see that it is enforced.

ANNUAL INSPECTION.

Governors Guard Complimented by Inspector General.

The annual inspection of the Governor's guard was had today by the inspector general of the state guard, Maj. B. S. Royster.

An annual inspection is required of all the military companies in the state. The inspection is governed by marks and if a company falls below a certain percentage it forfeits its membership in the guard.

The armory was first inspected by Inspector General Royster. Then the company, with its full complement of men was inspected on the lawn in the rear of the postoffice. The arms, equipments and general bearing of each soldier was put to the test.

The guard came off with flying colors by the inspection and the company was complimented by Maj. Royster. The organization was ranked high.

Hearing continued.

The United States Circuit Court was to have convened in special session at Wilmington yesterday to hear argument on a writ of injunction sued out by the Western Union Telegraph Company to restrain the North Carolina Railroad commission from enforcing its recent order reducing rates on messages in this State. Judge Sumonton intended to hear the case, but continued it till the November term of court.

BRIEFS.

Mr. F. O. Landis, a popular traveling man is in the city.

Mr. W. W. Holding of Wake Forest, is in the city today.

Jim Young returned to the city this evening from Rocky Mount.

The box sheet for the Widow Goldstein is now open at King's.

Judge Montgomery and Mrs. Montgomery leave tomorrow for Baltimore, Washington, Winchester and Gettysburg, Penn.

The A. & M. College will open for the fall term tomorrow. The entrance examination for freshmen was held today and 65 stood.

The popular store of W. E. Jones is continually offering some rare bargains. Watch their ad. from day to day and it will be the means of saving you money.

Mr. C. K. Woodruff and Mr. C. K. Shaw leave for Atlanta tonight, where they have accepted positions with a large dry goods house. Raleigh regrets to lose two such estimable and popular young gentlemen.
