The Luetgert Jury Stays out Sixty-Eight Hours.

NINE FOR CONVICTION.

Luetgert is evidently worn out by the strain and a collapse is imminent when the jury reports.

By Telegraph to the Press-Visitor.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—The Luetgert jury failed to agree, standing nine to three for conviction. They have been discharged, after being out 68 hours. When it became known that the jury was coming in, the crowds about the court house became denser. Judge Tuthill was in his seat awaiting their entrance. Luetgert was brought from his cell and walked in dazed, and fell stupidly into a chair beside his counsel, his face blue and white and his eyes sunken, and lips drawn. The jurors walked in single file and no hint of the result could be gathered from their faces. Luetgert faced the jury and the judge asked the jurors to look upon the defendant and the defendant to look upon jurors, and asked if they had agreed. Foreman Hosmer replied, "We cannot agree." Luetgert swayed suddenly, and fell back into his seat. The court room buzzed, and the bailiff rapped for order.

Cyclone Devastates an Island.

By Cable to the Press-Visitor.

MADRID, Oct. 21.—Leyte, one of the Philippine Islands was almost devastated by a cyclone. Many were killed.

The trades display today was more extensive than was anticipated, notwithstanding the fact that a great many of those who were expected to take part, for reasons best known to themselves, declined to get up a display. However it was very creditable and it is hoped that next year at the gathering of the Clan that a parade may be organized that will do credit to themselves, Raleigh and the fair.

TO VISIT THE SOUTH.

New England Manufacturers to Visit Raleigh Very Soon.

The New England cotton mill manufacturers will start on their Southern tour November 1st. The convention of the National Association of Manufacturers meets in Philadelphia the 27th, and it is expected to remain in session three or four days. As soon as the Philadelphia meeting comes to an end, the mill men will start on their Southern tour. It is more than probable that they will come by way of Norfolk. From Norfolk the party will come to Raleigh and from Raleigh to Charlotte. From Charlotte to Columbia. From Columbia they will go to Augusta and thence to Atlanta.

Raleigh should royally entertain these progressive citizens of the north. The organization represents a large amount of wealth and influence.

A Card From Dr. Simms.

RALEIGH, Oct. 19, 1897.

Editor Press-Visitor:

DEAR SIR:—I did not know until today that your paper of yesterday had anything to say about the Tabernacle service on Sabbath night. The following statement of your reporter is what I refer to: "Pastor Simms stated that Mr. Nichols said when he appeared before the board that he made the appeal for the opening of the saloon at the request of the executive committee." I said just the reverse, viz: "That Mr. Nichols had written me a personal letter stating that the executive committee knew nothing of his appearing before the aldermen, but that he went there at the solicitation of an alderman of the city." I announced this fact to my congregation, and said there that I was glad to know that the Christian men of the committee knew nothing about it.

The point I made was that though they knew nothing of his appeal to the aldermen, yet as all men are responsible for the acts of their agents until they have repudiated them, that these Christian men would, in the public conscience, be judged until they had fully repudiated the act. I said furthermore that the very fact that the influence of Christian men could be so used without a repudiation of the agent's conduct, was enough to raise a cry of sorrow in every thoughtful soul.

Thanking you beforehand for your kindness in printing this correction, I am yours,

A. M. SIMMS.

Fabio Romani.

Alden Benedict's "Fabio Romani" which will be presented at the Academy of Music Wednesday evening, October 21st, is a spectacular production of much merit, being an adaptation of Marie Correlli's novel, "The Vendetta."

The story of the play is sad, weird and interesting, with the dark passage of the sombre story are many enlivening scenes, that help to make the whole a pleasant entertainment. The promised realism comes at the end of the drama in the earthquake scene. The last act commences with a Mausoleum scene, which occupies the entire stage.

At the climax of the emotion the whole tomb sinks out of sight and reveals dwellings falling in ruins, the earth rocking and rent with fury, and fiery fissures, while Mt. Vesuvius, in the back ground, belches forth huge columns of fire and smoke and pours red streams of lava on the City of Naples at its feet.

A Handsome Portrait of Dr. Durham.

A handsome portrait of the late Dr. Columbus Durham adorns a niche in the First Baptist church, says the Durham Sun. It attracts the attention of every stranger that sees it. It is indeed a splendid portrait, and fittingly brings to the memory of all who loved him the sacrificing zeal and devotion of this great man. Dr. Durham was formerly pastor of this church, and his memory is honored and revered, not only by Baptists, but other denominations as well.

The State is Liable.

The supreme court says the state is liable for the costs in Pamlico oyster cases. Of these costs there are several thousand dollars due the sheriff and clerk. Auditor Ayer does not see how he can issue a warrant for the amount, and so will recommend to the claimants that they appeal to the legislature for relief.

$9,300 BLAZE TODAY.

The Harp Factory Building Burned.

WAS NO INSURANCE.

One of the Largest Brick Buildings in the City in Ashes. T B Yancey, T A Bowen and C Ferrall the Principal Losers.

A disastrous conflagration, one of the worst in many days, visited Raleigh this morning about 5 o'clock. The well-known Harp building on East Morgan street, near Blount, was entirely destroyed and nothing but the tall black brick walls remain to mark one of Raleigh's oldest landmarks.

The loss approximates $9,300. There was no insurance.

The fire originated in the wooden sheds in the rear of the building. Seasoned timber and wood work were stored back in the sheds and the flames made rapid headway. Before the fire companies could reach the scene, the flames spread to the large four story brick building. The building which has been in use for more than a generation as a buggy and wagon factory, was a veritable tinder box. The accumulation of waste and shavings and the free distribution of oil on the floors for all these years made it almost impossible to check the flames.

The building burned fiercely for more than an hour. The flames shot from the roof and out of the brick walls, where many windows once were, presenting an altogether picturesque sight, such as is seldom seen. Many expressions of sympathy were heard for the owners, who were so unfortunate as not to have taken out insurance.

The building was the property of Mr. T. B. Yancey. It was the largest brick building in the city, being four stories in height. It was built by Mr. N. S. Harp and has been used for the manufacture and storage of vehicles. Mr. Yancey valued the building at $9,000, though the structure could not be erected for twice that amount. Mr. Yancey also lost two buggies, valuable papers and other property.

Mr. T. A. Bowen, who rented part of the building, sustained a loss of $1,200. He recently put in a $500 outfit and stock. In addition to his machinery he lost eight buggies, three finished wagons and several unfinished.

Mr. Finn Bowen lost a stock of Victor bicycles and other property to the extent of $300.

Mr. Charles Ferrall had a stock of hardware stored in the building, which at the lowest figure was worth $1,000.

Mrs. Fasnach had $600 worth of furniture stored in the building. Mrs. Fasnach loses the insurance on this property as she failed to secure a permit from the insurance company when she moved it.

A Mrs. Pool had furniture valued at $250 stored in the building. The losses total $9,300. The fire companies were powerless to save any of the property. One bicycle was taken out.

CONFEDERATE VETS.

The Annual Meeting Last Night—Election of Officers.

The North Carolina Confederate Veterans in annual session last night elected Col. Francis M. Parker, of Littleton, president; George T. Leach, of Pittsboro, vice-president, and C. B. Denson, of Raleigh, secretary. Speeches were made by R. H. Battle, J C Birdsong, G E Leach and Rev James Battle Avirett. A C Avery, W H Day, C B Denson and James C MacTae were appointed to memorialize the Legislature to make more liberal provision for the Soldiers' Home here, which now gets only $8,500 annually and has already exhausted this year's appropriation. It gets far less than the home in any other State, and substantial brick cottages are needed for not less than 200. There are now 97, and twelve die annually. A resolution of thanks to Charles Broadway Rouss was adopted by a rising vote.

THE PETRIFIED WOMAN

On View on a Platform Near North Entrance of Floral Hall Facing Race Track.

Everybody is talking about this wonderful specimen. It is the body of a beautiful woman turned to stone, found in a California mountain. The great wonder comes endorsed by thousands of physicians, scientists and geologists, also chemical and microscopical examinations which prove beyond a doubt that it is a genuine case of petrification. The leading citizens of our city agree that no more wonderful or meritorious exhibit ever visited Raleigh. Go and see the specimen and you will join in the belief of all preceding you. It is a scientific and educational exhibit in charge of ladies who take special pains to thoroughly explain the great wonder. All who visit the fair should see this interesting exhibit. The small admission fee of 10 cents places it within reach of all.

A Big Suit.

The Salisbury Sun says: "Mr. T. D. Roseman and his attorneys returned last night from Statesville where they had been to attend court now in session in that place. He understood that the case was to come up for trial yesterday, consequently he was there prepared for trial. The readers of the World will remember this case for it has been in court for several years and as yet never decided. This case involves $3,000 worth of whiskey seized by one of the government officers some time ago. Mr. Roseman will be represented by Capt. Charles Price and Hon. Lee S. Overman of this city. The case will come up for final trial tomorrow morning and the parties will leave in the morning to be present."

The Attraction Tonight at the Metropolitan Opera House.

The excellent company of H. Guy Woodward, which has drawn large crowds all the week at Metropolitan Opera House will present one of the best of their repertoire tonight. The play tonight will be "Cheek" and Mr. Woodward, the inimitable comedian, shows to the best of advantage in this mirth-provoking comedy. It is rarely that Raleigh has an opportunity to see such an excellent troupe as the Woodward-Warren company, and the crowded houses that they have every night attest the fact that it is the best attraction for the price which ever visited Raleigh.

The Wilbur Opera Company.

"Erminie" was the opera that Miss Susie Kirwin and the Wilbur Opera Company presented to a top-heavy house at the Academy of Music last night.

Miss Kirwin, Mr. Harvey, Mr. Fuller, Mr. E. Wagner and the others of the cast were as delightful as ever.

Mr. Harvey gets his ovation every evening as a fun maker. He is a jolly little fellow and has made many personal friends here. His remarks to the "gallery gods," who keep their hats on during the performance were timely. Some of the ladies who are weighted down with "tower" hats might take a hint.

Tonight "Olivette" will be the opera. Tomorrow night will be grand opera evening, when "Carmen" will be sung. That funniest of operas, "Said Pasha," will be given Saturday evening at matinee, there having been so many requests for it.

The Cuban Girl.

At the meeting of the executive committee of the Winston Tobacco fair association it was decided to extend an invitation to Miss Cisneros, the young Cuban girl who was recently rescued from prison by a representative of the New York Journal, to attend the fair and be the guest of the association while in Winston. The invitation was forwarded to Miss Cisneros, who is now in New York, yesterday.

Hon Thomas Settle to Marry.

THE NEW ROAD.

The Work from Mocksville to Mooresville to Begin at Once.

Mr. T. B. Jones, a member of the firm who has been awarded the contract to build the new road from Mocksville to Mooresville, left last evening for his home in Baltimore to look after the shipment of tools and other material so that work can be commenced on the road at once. He informed the reporter that he expected to return Monday or Tuesday of next week.

He will ship his material to Salisbury and then have it hauled out to Cleveland, Rowan county, near which place are the five miles Messrs Jones & Co., will build.

Mr. J. T. Pruden has the contract to build the first six miles of the road—from Mocksville to South Yaddin river.

Messrs. Bachelor & Magruder, of Winston, have the next six miles. This is said to be the choice of the several sections, as there is more grading to be done.

T. B. Jones & Co., the first contractors, will build the next five miles.

The contract has not been closed but Col. W. P. Fortune & Sons, of Abingdon, Va., are expected to build the remaining ten miles.

Mr. Pruden is near Mocksville building stables and a camp preparatory for beginning work on his contract.

Messrs. Bachelor & Magruder will probably go over tomorrow or Thursday to begin work on their contract.

SCORE ONE FOR GEORGE.

He Feeds the Hungry With an Abundance of Oysters.

By Telegraph to the Press-Visitor.

New York, Oct. 21.—It is charged that the Raines hotels are being colonized by Tammany. One man was arrested with an illegal registration ticket. The Knights of Labor have swung into line for George, promising twenty-five thousand votes. Last night George visited a long line of poor who nightly await the distribution of stale bread at the Vienna bakery, which he says shows the crying injustice of the distribution of wealth.

PENITENTIARY MANAGEMENT.

Board Places it With an Executive Committee.

VERDICT AGAINST KIRBY SMITH.

He is Judged Guilty of Gross Immorality—Supt. Smith is Shorn of His Power—No Families Allowed to Live in the Pen—Russell's Victory.

The directors of the penitentiary finally adjourned this evening. Governor Russell and his friends passed such resolutions as they saw fit and when the session was over they had completely shorn Superintendent John R. Smith of all power and authority in the management of the State's prison.

After being in session all day yesterday taking evidence in the case of Dr. Kirby Smith, who was charged with criminality in the care of the criminal insane under his charge, the board today reached a decision.

A resolution was passed by the board censuring Kirby Smith and finding him guilty of gross immorality of the charges preferred against him. Dr. Kirby and Supt. John R. Smith were commended for their prompt action in removing Kirby Smith.

The most important business of the day was the passage of a resolution taking the management of the prison from the direction of Supt. Smith and placing it in the hands of an executive committee.

The resolution was drawn by Director Chadbourn and it gives the management of the affairs of the prison to the Executive Committee. The Superintendent is required to act under their direction. This Executive Committee is composed of Messrs. Chadbourn, Wheeler, Newton and Cotton.

Another resolution was adopted requiring that all bills against the penitentiary be approved by the Executive Committee, the Chairman of the Board and the Superintendent, and the clerk was authorized to issue no vouchers without the approval of the chairman of the board, superintendent and executive committee.

The board, by resolution, forbid any family of officers living inside the prison enclosure.

The supervisors of farms were also forbidden the privilege of raising produce, stock or game on the farms.

A resolution was also passed, requiring all officers and supervisors in the employ of the penitentiary be charged for the service of all convicts engaged for their personal service.

The question of leasing the convicts by contract was given up entirely without action. The greed for pie fed the lease.

A committee, consisting of Messrs Chadbourn, Dockery and Cotton was appointed to inquire into the advisability of leasing 100 convicts for work in a shirt factory and report at the next meeting.

Mr. Chadbourn stated to the Press-Visitor that he looked on the proposal with favor.

The Greensboro Patriot says: "Mr. Frank P. Morton has assumed the management of the Henbow House. His friends are confident that the hotel will prosper under his control."

Mr. Steinmetz has a plenty of flowers for fair week to supply all the demands of visitors. He is prepared to furnish roses, chrysanthemums and the choicest of cut flowers in the greatest quantity to all comers.

The exhibit of Royall and Borden at the state fair is the best and most elaborate they have ever had. Mr. Miles Goodwin, the energetic and popular manager is in charge and will take pleasure in showing visitors through the many attractions of his exhibit.

One of the most attractive features at the fair is the exhibition of pantry supplies in Floral hall. This beautiful display is in charge of Mrs. Habel, who presides over it in such a graceful way as to make it doubly attractive. The most lovely cakes, preserves, catsups and other delicacies are exhibited in an array which both tempts the taste and delights the eye.

COL. TURK PRESIDENT

Of the American Association of General Passenger Agents.

By Telegraph to the Press-Visitor.

St. Louis, Oct. 21.—The American association of general passenger agents now in session here, with delegates present representing the principal railroad systems of the United States, Canada and Mexico, has adopted resolutions calling attention to the necessity for State and national legislation against the ticket scalping business. State legislatures that have not already done so are urged to adopt laws confining the sale of tickets to the properly authorized agents of the transportation companies, and at the same time that they will require, under suitable penalties, the redemption of every ticket or part of ticket that may be not used. Congress is also requested to pass the so-called "anti-scalping" bill now before that body.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: W A Turk, of the Southern railway, president; Chas. S Fee of the Northern Pacific railroad, vice-president, and Mr. Smith Reed, secretary.

President Turk announced the following executive committee for the next term: Mr. Sebastian, of the Rock Island, chairman; Messrs. Lee, of Philadelphia; DeLaven, of Grand Rapids; D. L. Edwards, of Cincinnati; C. P. Atmore, of Louisville; Kendall, of Boston, and Nicholson, of St. Louis.

Resolutions of regret were passed upon the recent deaths of Messrs. B. W. Thatcher, of the Mexican Central railroad, and C. C. Hancock, of the Philadelphia and Reading.

Detroit was chosen as the place for holding the next meeting.

THE SEABOARD SUIT.

Ryan Sparing No Efforts to Get Control of the Company—Two Replevin Suits.

The New York Mail and Express says: Thomas F. Ryan is sparing no efforts to secure control of the Seaboard Air Line. In the United States Court at Baltimore he has begun two replevin suits to obtain a portion of the pooled stock.

The suits are to secure twelve shares of stock issued to Margaret D. Scarborough and five shares issued to Sarah B. Cooke, which have been purchased by Mr. Ryan. After a formal demand has been made on Louis McLane, chairman of the pooling committee, for the surrender of the certificates and the demand had been refused, the suits were brought. It is claimed by Mr. Ryan that it was shown at the recent annual meeting of the Seaboard and Roanoke stockholders at Portsmouth, Va., that the pooling agreement had been violated and cast aside by the parties to it, and that therefore it cannot now be binding.

The proceedings at the stockholders' meeting, it is alleged, showed that some of the pooled stock had been sold with the assistance, and knowledge of the pooling committee, and that some of the subscribers to the pooling agreement had vested the voting power in their share in proxies other than those named in the agreement. Even if the agreement had been valid, it is claimed, this action of the subscribers to the pool has broken it. Under the agreement the pooled stock was tied up for five years, from October 2, 1896. Some of the subscribers to the agreement, it is alleged, entered the pool with the understanding that their stock was to be sold to Mr. Ryan for $125 a share, and they were disappointed when this was not done.

The weather bureau predicts fair weather tonight and Friday and cooler Friday morning.

The weather conditions are generally unsettled throughout the east. The storm has disappeared, leaving slight areas of low barometer off the south coast of Florida and in the upper St. Lawrence valley. The weather is still cloudy in the east, with small amounts of rain at many stations.

A moderate area of high barometer is central over Nebraska, with cooler weather and frost reported from Omaha. The sky is clear on the Rocky mountain slope and at scattered points in the central valley and south.

Earl, the little 10 year old son of Mr. W. H. Lancaster, yesterday fell down a flight of stairs and broke his arm above the wrist.

GREAT CROWD HERE

The Inclement Weather Proved No Obstacle.

10,000 VISITORS PRESENT.

The Exhibits Were all Good and Attracted Great Attention—The Midway Did a Great Business—One Race.

Lowering skies with veils of rain was not a propitious beginning to the principal day of the Fair, the day was great in spite of the inclement weather. The sombre atmosphere was dispelled by the multitudes of bright and happy people who came from all sections of the State and crowded the Fair to its attractions to the utmost.

The early trains brought great crowds of people, and the principal streets of the city were thronged with masses of people on their way to the grounds.

The street cars were packed, likewise the Seaboard trains, and there were two continuous streams of vehicles going and coming, reaching from the Capital to the fair grounds.

It is a great fair, and the crowd today was on the same scale.

The Midway did a landslide business—everything went here before the day was over.

Millie Christine was a draught, and proved to be a wonderful human freak.

The petrified woman, exhibited by Miss E. L. Taylor, is one of the principal curiosities, and attracted great attention.

But, for fun—well, you only need to go to the Crystal Maze, and it is there. The managers here have hands full, crowds of people thronging it all day.

Owing to the threatening weather the only one race took place, but as the sun came out about four this morning, and the weather man predicted to give it to us fair tomorrow leading events will probably be off.

The crowd for tomorrow is expected to be large.

THE DAY'S RACES.

The fair races were declared again today.

It was decided, however, to let the running race for the $500 purse $100.

This was won by Grandars, by J. B. McCann, of Liberty, and Lady Teacher, owned by J. O. Charleston, S. C., was second.

Mr. Carter and Jenora ran a 2 to 1 race and their owners divided the money. Geo. C. Leach, of Raleigh, was second.

The races tomorrow begin tomorrow promptly.

Mr. Perry, of the bicycle races, says that to the miserable condition of the track, the bicycle races, both today and tomorrow, have been deferred. He has telegraphed the riders not to come.
