RAID IN JOHNSON

After D stroying a Still a Farty of Depu ties Were Fired Upon From Ambush-No One Seriously

A posse of deputy marshals were fired upon in Johnston county while returning from a raid this morning and Deputy Jones was wounded.

Hurt

Yesterday morning United States Deputy Marshals J. Wiley Jones and William Ledbetter left Raleigh for Smithfield. At Smithfield they were joined by deputy marshal Surly, of Dunn, in Harnett county. Last night other deputies, whose names are not known were selected at Smithfield and a posse organized for a raid. The posse penetrated the depths of Johnston county sometime last night or early this morning.

The revenue department was informed of the success and misfortune of the raiders by the following telegram received at 10:26, which explains

Selma, N. C. E. C. Duncan, Collector at Raleigh.

Made a raid this morning, destroyed one still. Way laid on road. No one hurt but himself. I was hit in the face and hard. Nothing serious. J. W. JONES.

Collector Duncan has received no further communication from Deputy Jones but a gentleman from Selma came in this morning and gave a few additional facts. He says that the raiders were returning when they were fired upon from ambush. The raiders were in a two borse wagon and the horses were slightly wounded which caused them to run away throwing the deputies out. A messenger was sent to Selma for another team to bring the posse to town.

Deputy Jones is one of the boldest and bravest men in the service and his friends here are glad to know that his

At present the Southern uses, as a part of its main line betweeen Washington and Atlanta, a strip of railroad 93 miles in length, between Greensboro and Charlotte, and which is a portion of the North Carolina Railroad, threefourths of whose stock is owned by the State of North Carolina. The North Carolina Railroad really extends from Charlotte, via Salisury and Greeens boro, to Raleigh and Goldsboro, a distance of 223 miles, and since 1871, has ecen under lease of the Southern an I its predecessor, the Richmond and Danville system. COTTON OPERATIVES.

The Manufacturers' Record Called At tention to the Condition of This State.

In his comprehensive and thorough annual report Hon. James Y. Hamrick, commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics of North Carolina, presents interesting facts about the 29. 287 men, women and children employed in the cotton mills of that State which ought to be widely circulated, says the Manufacturers' Record. His report

"The employes of the cotton mills of the State form a very important part of her population. There appears to be an abundance of mill labor in the State, and the employes in these mills are better satisfied than any other class, and there is no antagonism between the employer and the employed. The matter of hours of employment is being settled by themselves, and neither employer nor employe favor legislation, for, in answer to questions on this point, only 5 per cent, were in favor of legislation. The employes seem to be satisfied, and the matter of time, if let alone, will be adjusted by themselves. There are no strikes, no favoritism, no dissatisfaction, no unjust decisions among the laborers of this State.

"Ninety-four per cent, of our facto ries report sufficient religious advantages for their employes, and this being true, tends to show the rapid advancement in religious training of this class of our citizens. There has been especial attention given to their religious training, almost all the mills having churches for their operatives, some that would do credit to our cities. Employes can attend church and Sunday School every Sunday, and a great ma jority take advantage of the opportuni ty. We find in a great many cases the officers and stock-owners of the mill teaching the operatives in the

"Financially, the operatives in mills are very well off, for their our playment is regular and their ware sure. Of the mills reporting, 79.8 recent, report the condition of their can playes to be good; 23% per cent, that it is fair; and of all the replies received only five stated their condition to b bad. Not only is this class of our citi zens living well and comfortaly but many of them are saving money, and a number of cases have recently come under the notice of this departmen where operatives have saved sufficient poney to buy $1,000 worth of the stoel of the factory in which they were employed. "The moral condition of our factor workers is most excellent, for as a gen eral thing they escape the dens of vie that are so numerous in the great cities of this country, and at the same time enjoy the social intercourse of the town and receive the advantage of good school education. The apart ments in the factories are commedicus well lighted, heated and ventilated and as much care is taken in the ar raugement of the apartments of the operators as of the office; most of the enses are well built and celled or plas tered, and are more comfortably arranged than these of any other class enness occurs, for as a general thins no barrocoms are in operation near the

It is reported that in eastern Wake ounty a man by the name of Spenhas been preaching sanctification, and in order to carry out his points he announced to his hearers that on las-Sunday he would walk on water, says the Apex News. Saturday night he went to a pond and drove up some posts and laid some planks along about three inches under the water. Sunday mornin, by appointment, a large crowd assembled to see the wonderful feat. During the night some mean boys took out one of the planks. After spending several minutes in prayer the sanctificationist proceeded to walk. With eyes fixed heavenward he slowly and deliberately walked in. Everything was still and such remarks as "Ge whiz! that man shorely am sanctified!" could he heard from the eager crowd of onlookers. Suddenly, when about middle of the pond, he came to the missing plank. Ker choog! under went the parson above his head in water. The now thoroughly enraged crowd dispersed with very little faith in sanctification. Mr. Fraps does not think there will be war. On the eve of the civil war he heard drums beating up and down the streets and this evidence of approaching hostilities is thus far absent.

It is reported that the Spanish authorities at Havana have already taken charge of the Maine wreck in a sevagely eager manner. Yesterday, so it is said. Ensign Powelson of the Fern, whose testimony before the court of inquiry practically led to the definite conclusion that the disaster was due to an exterior explosion, was ordered off the wreck, which he had visited for some trifling purpose. He was told to be off much as a suspicious character lurking in a dark corner at night is ordered away by a policeman. He was given plainly to understand that he was a trespasser upon what had become Spanish territory since the withdrawal of American authority from the wreck. This affair is of no particular consequence in itself, but it easts some light on the nature of the Spanish officials in Havana and particularly upon the attitude of those of-
