Next to the hospital, we want say next in importance, but next in location, is one of Raleigh's most worthy charities, although there are some few of our own people who do not know of the existence of St. Luke's Home for Aged and Infirm Women.

Through the efforts of the little band of King's Daughters the Home is now in a very prospering condition, though it is by no means self-sustaining, and we are yet forced to call on the generosity of our fellow-citizens.

The first Friday of each month is set apart as "donation day," and we hope the friends of noble charities will respond heartily to the call today.

Elliot, Ottenheimer and Elliot are a progressive firm. They have now on sale at the drugstores and cafes of this city a cigar called "Dewey's Victory."

Superintendent Ray has second gang improving the highways around Camp Grimes now. They are working on the Hillsboro, Oberlin and Brookville roads.
