City Briefs.

—Now for Spring
—It looked like a "cloud-burst" Saturday afternoon.
—Important meeting of the Governors Guard at their armory tonight.
—The site for the new ice factory of Messrs Leach & Andrews will be that occupied by the Ruffin Roles' factory on West street. A large force is engaged in clearing up for commencement of building.
—A child's cloak was found last Friday afternoon in Oakwood cemetery. The owner can get it by calling at the house at the entrance to the cemetery and paying for this notice.
—The Governors Guard with their characteristic chivalry, have determined not to enter the proposed competitive drill on April 29th. They will courteously give the preference to visiting companies.
—Yesterday was quarterly meeting at Edenton Street Church. In the morning Rev W S Black preached a fine sermon, as did Rev J H Gordon at night. One person joined the church by profession of faith. Communion services were held in the morning. The quarterly conference will be held tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock in the Sunday school room.
—Owing to the abrupt throwing up of his route by one of our carriers last Saturday afternoon, without giving us time to supply his place, the eastern and southwestern routes in the city may have suffered to some extent. We ask the indulgence of our subscribers in the districts named, under the circumstances.

A Noble Gift.

The Raleigh Casino when it suspended last year had in the treasury $21.50, which had not been appropriated for any special purpose. The governing board of the Casino decided to give the amount to St John's Hospital, and this was accordingly done. This is a noble gift and reflects great credit on the donors.

Wake Superior Court.

This tribunal met this morning, Judge McRae presiding. The following grand jurors were drawn for the term:
J D Allen, foreman; T M Ferguson, L D Bancroft, H D Olive, C H Clarke, A J Matthews, Gaston Jones, Jas F Ferrall, J W Penny, H T Moore, J R Hart, T M Franks, R H Sanders, P B Bryant, Jno F Fonville, J W Shearlin, L H Jones, J W Allen.

Sympathetic Message.

On Saturday last Gov Fowle sent the following message expressive of sympathy over the death of General Smith, former Superintendent of the Virginia Military Institute:

RALEIGH, N C, March 22, '90.
To Major Frank H Smith, Adjutant V M I, Lexington, Va.:

I only voice the wishes of Virginia Military Institute cadets, in North Carolina, and of our people in extending to you my sympathies upon the loss the South has sustained in the death of Major General Smith.

D G FOWLE, Governor.

The Raleigh Business College.

Having purchased Prof G Millman's interest in the Raleigh Business College I take this method of saying to the students and the public generally that the work of the College will be continued without any interruption, under the management of competent instructors Stenography, Telegraphy and Book-keeping will constitute the full course. Hereafter the tuition in each department will be $10 per month, payable in advance. Students can enter at any time for day or night classes.

N B BROUGHTON.

March 23d 1890.
It gives us special pleasure, to note the above. Mr Broughton's high character as a business man is such as to be a sure guarantee that he will push with vigor and energy any matter he may undertake, and that the college under his care, will prove a complete success. It can truly be said in this case that he is "the right man in the right place." We can congratulate the public, no less than Mr Broughton on the undertaking.

Funeral Services.

The funeral of the late Mr B M Upchurch took place at Edenton Street Methodist Church yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock and was attended by one of the largest congregations we have ever seen in Raleigh on a similar occasion.

The services were of the most solemn and impressive character and were conducted by Rev J H Cordon assisted by Rev L L Nash. The floral decorations were beautiful. One of the special features was a dove in the act of taking flight, surmounted upon a broken column of flowers. After the services at the church the solemn cortege wended its way to Oakwood Cemetery, followed by an immense crowd. The following gentlemen acted as pall bearers:
Earnest Haynes, C K Shaw, J Floyd Brown, J Y Phifer, Chas Ferrall, C B Hart, John Cross, and Dr G A Renn.

The arrangements of the funeral were under the direction of Mr John W Brown, undertaker of this city, and were carried out with that promptness in all their details that he is so noted for. The church truck, on which the bodies of persons are conveyed from the door to the altar of the church, is a new device and is peculiarly well adapted to the purpose. It is certainly a great convenience, and much aid to the pall bearers. Mr Brown is skilled in his business in all respects.

THE GREAT STORM.

Wind and Rain Play Serious Antics in this Vicinity.

On Saturday afternoon last between the hours of 4 and 5 o'clock, we were visited by one of the severest storms of rain accompanied by lightning, that has occurred in this vicinity for many years. The wind blew fearful, being estimated at a speed of forty miles an hour. In less than an hour the fall of rain was about one and a half inches. The electric display was almost terrific and caused much trouble with the wires of the telegraph and telephone companies. There was a blinding flash in the Western Union Office which burned out the switchboard leaving no connecting wire with the outside world. The electric lights were put out, and could not be turned on again owing to the entanglement with the telegraph wires; thus it was that the city was left in almost total darkness. Fortunately the Postal Telegraph Office escaped an entanglement of its wires, so that the United Press was received. The damage in the city fortunately was comparatively small. The skylights of Stronach's warehouse were low off and several chimneys in different sections of the city were blown down. We fear there was much damage in the surrounding country, but, at this writing, no loss of life has been reported.

Sunday at The Baptist Tabernacle.

Yesterday was a beautiful day after the storm of Saturday afternoon, and as a result, the Sunday School at this church was unusually well attended. The total number present was 357 with eight new scholars. N B Broughton, the Superintendent has the power of drawing others into the work and holding them.

The morning service by Rev Mr Hall, was largely attended and his sermon from the text "Worse than an Infidel," was pronounced by many to be one of the finest sermons ever preached in this church. The building was crowded again at night, and after the sermon from the text found in Genesis 7 chapter, part of the 1st verse upon invitation many persons manifested an interest in the prayers of Christians and remained to an after meeting. Nine persons were received into the church during the day, four by letter and five on experience. This church is preparing a directory of the members and it will be a book that all will preserve, giving a history of the church, showing what has been done by this congregation on the line of missions, relief of the poor, finances, Sunday School work and residence of members, etc.

A Frightful Accident.

About 9 o'clock last night, Mr. Dempsey Webb, who has a room over Mr. David Rosenthal's store, on Fayetteville street, having placed his bed clothing out on the skylight for airing, went to get them. In doing so, he stepped on the glass, which gave way, the unfortunate gentleman falling through to the ground floor of Mr. Rosenthal's store, a distance of forty feet. In the fall he struck the electric wire, it seems, with his back, which broke the force of the fall to some extent, throwing him out to one side from a perpendicular fall. Mr. Rosenthal was sent for and Mr. Webb was taken up in an insensible condition and sent to St. John's Hospital. We paid him a visit this morning, and, to our surprise, we found him resting very comfortably, considering all the circumstances. He is badly cut with glass on his limbs. His ankle is sprained and badly cut. His back is swollen and severely injured, but it is not known to what extent. It is thought he struck on his back when he fell, as his head is neither cut nor injured. He seemed to be doing well this morning, and every attention and kindness is shown him at our noble hospital by physicians, matron and attendants. It is thought he will recover, unless some severe complications set in from spinal injury. Any one viewing the place and distance which he fell, will feel that it was almost a miracle that a person could fall that distance and be taken up alive. God's protecting Providence has certainly been displayed in this case.

Sheriff Flack, of New York, has been convicted of conspiracy against his wife in the matter of obtaining a divorce from his wife.
