The Daily Evening Visitor

LARGEST CITY CIRCULATION.

In and Around the City.

Stormy.
News scarce.
Poor market this morning.
Attention is directed to the corrected condensed schedule of the Richmond and Danville Railroad Co.

Everything is being gotten ready for the reception of machinery in the new cotton factory and soon the hum of another industry will be heard in our midst.

A large crowd of spectators was present last night at the prize drill and military ball of the Governors Guard. The drill prize was won for the sixth time by Mr Joseph Crowder.

The alarm of fire about 2 o'clock this afternoon was caused from the slight burning of a roof on the premises of Mrs E O Macy, corner of West and Hargett streets. The fire department responded promptly. Very little damage done.

There is a petition being circulated by the colored people of this city and vicinity against the passage of what is known as the "Congo bill," recommended by the committee on agriculture in the Congress of the United States.

We are much gratified to learn that there are about one hundred and fifty matriculates at the Greensboro Female College, of whom one hundred are boarders. The institution is reported to be in a most flourishing condition in all respects.

Persons who have friends buried in cemeteries and the tombstones, headstones, monuments, etc, over the graves, leaning, or having become stained, will be surprised how cheap these defects can be remedied by Mr Chas A Goodwin, of the Raleigh and Fayetteville marble works.

Weather Report.

For Raleigh—warmer, rain.

Personal Mention.

Capt R B Glenn, of Winston, is in the city.

Mrs Alfred Upchurch is quite sick at the residence of her husband, 402 East Hargett street.

Mrs Dr Young, of Rolesville, is visiting her brother, Mr John R Terrell, on East Person street.

Miss Addie Bledsoe is visiting the family of Mr W N Snelling, corner of Blount and Person streets.

The beautiful and accomplished Miss Hattie G Sapp, who has been visiting friends in this city for several weeks left for her home in Greensboro yesterday afternoon. It is believed that more than one of our young men will find it convenient to visit Greensboro soon.

We had a pleasant call today from Mr R M Hicks, of Mt Airy, N C.

Brother Roscow, of the Goldsboro Headlight, is in the city. He will remain here two days and is engaged in taking testimony in the Boyle case.

Rev O C Horton, pastor of the Baptist Church at Selma, was in town this morning on his way to the Union Meeting at Garner.

Rev J J Hall, pastor of the Tabernacle Church, Hon John O Scarborough and J M Broughton went down to Garner today to attend the Union Meeting of the eastern section of Raleigh Association held with the church at that town.

Terrible Cyclone—Great Loss of Life.

A dispatch received here of date Washington, D C, 5 o'clock this morning announces that a most destructive cyclone accompanied by great loss of life and destruction of property passed over Louisville, Kentucky, last night. It is estimated that eight hundred lives were lost.

THE NEW BELL.

Impressive Services at Christ Church.

After Lenten services yesterday the congregation of Christ Church assembled in and around the belfry in which the new bell had been placed to witness the ceremony of setting it apart for holy purposes. The rector, Rev Dr M M Marshall, ascended the tower from the north side and blessed the bell with the following impressive prayer:

Our Father, etc. Let us pray: Almighty God, who, by the mouth of Thy servant, Moses, didst command to make two silver trumpets for the convocation of solemn assemblies, be pleased to accept our offering of this this, the work of our hands; bless; hallow, and sanctify it with Thy heavenly benediction, and grant that through this generation, and through those that are to come, it may continually call together Thy faithful people to praise and worship Thy Holy Name, through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

Grant, O Lord, that whosoever shall be called by the sound of this Bell to Thine house of prayer, may enter into Thy gates with thanksgiving, and into Thy courts with praise; and finally may have a portion in the new song, and among the harpers, harping with their harps in Thine house not made with hands, eternal through the heavens; through Jesus Christ our Lord, Amen.

Grant, O Lord, that whosoever shall, by reason of sickness or any other necessity, be so let and hindered that he can not come into the house of the Lord, may in heart and mind either ascend, and have his share in the Communion of Thy Saints, through Jesus Christ our Lord, Amen.

Grant, O Lord, that they who with their outward ears shall hear the sound of this bell may be aroused inwardly in their spirits, and draw nigh unto Thee, the God of their salvation, through Jesus Christ our Lord, Amen.

Grant, O Lord, that all they for whose passing away from this world the bell shall sound, may be received into the paradise of Thine elect, and find grace, light and everlasting rest, through Jesus Christ our Lord, Amen.

Grant, O Lord, that all who shall minister to Thy service by ringing this Bell, may be fulfilled with all reverence and Godly fear, and mindful of the sacredness of Thy house, may put away from them all idle thoughts and light behavior in the discharge of their service, and so continue in holiness of life that they may be counted to stand with them who praise Thee evermore in the heavenly Jerusalem, through Jesus Christ our Lord, Amen.

Ascription "Praise God from whom all Blessings," etc.

Benediction: At the conclusion of the ceremony a short psalm was rung and on Easterday its joyful notes will call worshippers to the services of the church for the first time.

Property Advancing.

Dropping into the real estate agency office of Messrs J M Broughton & Co, we learned that the building of the Cotton Factory, the reorganization and setting to work of the Wagon Factory, and the locating of the Baptist Female College in Raleigh had given an upward tendency to real estate. Mr Broughton told us of one lot that he sold for $450 about a month ago and had sold the same lot again on Saturday for $750.

The establishment of this agency about a year ago net a long felt want in our city by fixing a medium for the renting and selling of property. "It is astonishing how we have been enabled to rent houses and rooms, that have long been vacant," said Mr B. "And every day our business is increasing, and you would be astonished to know how many strangers we have located in our city since opening our agency."

THE LAW VINDICATED.

Shackelford alias Davis, the Murderer of Horton, Pays the Penalty of His Crime.

Special to the EVENING VISITOR.

PITTSBORO, March 28.

Shackelford was hanged at 12:43 today. He was pronounced dead in 11 minutes. Before the cap was drawn he read a farewell address and was perfectly calm. His last words were: "I used the boot jack."

Prayer was offered by Rev O Cecil. No relatives of the condemned man were present. There were about 6,000 persons in attendance, from six counties.

The prisoner ate a hearty breakfast this morning and slept well last night. The body was interred at the county poor house.

A Celebrated Establishment.

We visited today, the celebrated coffin house in this city, which was established in 1836, by the late Mr H J Brown, and, of which Mr John W Brown is the present Superintendent and funeral director. Mr Brown has had fifteen years experience in the business and he carries at all times one of the largest and finest stocks of caskets, coffins, burial robes and all the other arrangements for the proper interment of bodies to be found in North Carolina. Especially in the line of fine and beautiful caskets, he cannot be excelled. He has in stock a casket of specially beautiful design. It is of plush finish inside and out—ashes of roses. In our grounds through his store rooms we found each and every department full and complete, with all grades from the ordinary to the most costly and beautiful.

The burial robe department deserves special mention from its variety and excellence embracing robes for ladies, gentlemen and children. His stock of silver handles and plates cannot be surpassed, while the stock of fine silk gloves, silk linings, etc, are of the finest order. Crepe for pall bearers, beautiful in design is furnished free of charge. A beautiful child's pedestal of unique design can also be here seen.

Mr Brown has three hearses, one of which is the most beautiful in the State, and he has a complete set of embalming instruments, by which he is prepared to do service in that line, not only in the most satisfactory manner, but unequalled in North Carolina.

He has also a perfume, for use called "Kreotiline," a most efficient disinfectant, pleasant to smell and valuable in sick chambers or where bodies are located.

In the business office of the establishment there is a feature which attracts the attention of all callers. He has quite a large selection of portraits beautifully framed, among which are some of our most prominent deceased persons whom he has furnished with burial outfits and whose funerals he has superintended. Among these we noticed: Gov Worth, Geo W Mordecai, Esq, Dr Chas E Johnson, Col Buck Tucker, Hon B F Moore, Dr W H McKee, Capt Randolph A Shotwell, Chief Justice W N H Smith.

There are some other special features we might mention if space allowed.

In conclusion we can say that Mr Brown is as well prepared as any one in the country to give most perfect satisfaction to all who have occasion for material or service in his line. As an emporium for all the arrangements for the interment of the dead this celebrated house has no superior in the South.

Superior Court.

The case of the State vs J J Boyle, occupied the entire attention of the court today. The following witnesses for the prosecution were examined: Miss Effie Whitaker, Miss Alice Upchurch and Mrs A L Ferrell. The colored sexton of the Church of the Sacred Heart, Charley Young, was also placed on the stand.

The attendance in the court room was very large, and there is no abatement of interest in the trial. Thus far, there has been no evidence elicited that was not brought out on the former trial. The case will probably be concluded so far as evidence is concerned this afternoon, as the examination of witnesses is not as long as on the previous trial.

ANOTHER POINT RAISED.

Mr. W. R. Henry of Counsel for White and Cross Makes Another Effort for his Clients.

Mr W R Henry, of counsel for Messrs Cross and White has raised another point in behalf of his clients. He returned, yesterday, from New Berne where he presented for the consideration of Judge A S Seymour, of the United States District court, a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, in the name of C E Cross. The point raised by Mr Henry is that the agreement made with Cross and White while in Canada places them in the same position and secures to them the same immunities as if they had been regularly extradited; that being in the same position they could not be tried for any other offense than that for which extradited until allowed an opportunity to return to Canada. Mr Henry contends that the treaty of 1842 contemplates only common law forgery, and that his clients have been tried for statutory forgery. The writ, if granted will be made returnable to June term, and, in the meantime the sentence of the prisoners will not be suspended. It is probable that Judge Seymour will render a decision in a few days. Mr Henry cites several cases in which parties have been extradited and put on trial for statutory forgery and released on habeas corpus.

The Boyle Trial

Is attracting attention here just now to a great extent, but not so generally as the new spring goods at the Big Racket Store are. Every one says that our styles and prices are the leaders for Raleigh this season, and we know they are, for we have the prettiest line of dress goods we have ever had, and that is saying a great deal, for we always carry a pretty line. Then in clothing we challenge the State to sell as good and pretty styles as we are doing in spring suits for men and boys for the same money. They can't do it. We have got the inside track and we are going to keep it. Don't forget our millinery department. We have the best trimmer in the city—Mrs Sarah King. Everybody knows her, and with such a stock as we have to select from you cannot fail to be pleased. Wool lace, all colors, 4 to 8 inch wide, 3c a yard. BIG RACKET STORE.
