In and Around the City.

Cooler.

Vegetables scarce in market.

A fertilizer license was issued today by the State Treasurer to the Navassa Guano Company to sell Ammoniated Soluble Navassa Guano.

And now Chapel Hill wants a $40,000 hotel for the accommodation of summer tourists. Shall Raleigh be behind.

The fire seen, southwest of the city last night, was the woods on fire around Catawba Springs, about two miles west of Col L D Stephenson's. The wind was blowing a gale and fire spreading and doing much damage.

It is reported that many of the fish in the water works pond are being found dead. The cause it is thought by some, is the carbolic acid which is freely used upon the premises being carried by the rains to the to the pond.

Weather Report.

For Raleigh—fair weather, colder.

Fine Fishing.

County Treasurer L O Lougee, and C B Edwards, Esq. in company with some other gentlemen set some nets in the water works pond a few days ago—day before yesterday they took 83 fine mullets from them, and again yesterday by the good luck to take eighty three more. Who can beat that gentlemen send in your reports

What They Say of Us.

We hardly recognized the RALEIGH EVENING VISITOR this morning. It has a new head, and the matter is arranged in an attractive and more readable manner. Glad to see the improvement. May it continue to go from success to success, and accomplish all its proprietors wish.—Durham Sun.

And now the RALEIGH EVENING VISITOR, the oldest of its evening brethren, comes to see us all diked out in a new dress. We bid it God speed.—Twin City Daily.

Superior Court.

Court met this morning at usual hour, Judge MacRae presiding.

Case of State vs Lizzie Horton; perjury; verdict guilty; judgment suspended on account of extreme youth of the woman's children; was discharged.

The regular jury for the first week was discharged.

State vs J J Boyle. The trial of this case was resumed. The following additional witnesses were introduced by the State and examined:—Mrs Robert H Bradley, Mrs Wesley Whitaker, Isaac Hodges and M B Barbee.

The evidence was then closed. The Solicitor, Col Argo, made an argument for the State outlining the points to be made in conclusion, and was followed by Col Fuller for the defense. He was followed by Mr Battle who will be followed by Mr Snow. Col Argo will close for the State.

The VISITOR takes occasion to give its hearty concurrence to the remarks made by Judge MacRae prohibiting the attendance in court, of boys, during the remainder of this trial. This decision entitles the Judge to the thanks of every parent in our city, and they are hereby tendered by the VISITOR on its own behalf, and on behalf of our citizens generally. It is a decision in the interest of morality, and entitles Judge MacRae to the gratitude of all who value it.

A Glance at The Week.

The world moves through darkness and light, through evil and good, at times steadily, evenly, without much noise or excitement, while again great upheavals take place, nations are stirred from centre to circumference, and great epochs mark the world's changes. The week had been rather quiet at home and abroad, until near the close one of the most fearful catastrophes which has ever visited our fair land burst suddenly upon us, and hundreds of lives have been lost, over a thousand homes being seriously injured, towns swept away, and at this writing so much property destroyed that the figures cannot be reached. The terrible wind storm which swept through the southeastern portion of the country carrying all before it, on Thursday night and Friday morning will be recalled in history as one of the most fearful events of modern times. The Johns town disaster shocked the whole land but this cyclone covered so much a larger strip of country, leveled to the dust more homes, that it now looks as if it will far exceed it in the terrible severity. The beautiful city of Louisville, Kentucky, sits in desolation. Twenty five hundred of her houses are in ruins. One hundred of her people are reported as being killed, who were in a large public building. Seventy five children in another found their untimely end. Whole streets are left without a house standing, and men and women are crazed with grief. The Union Depot, and large business buildings yielded to the terrible wind and fell in. The fearful event was not without warning. But no one seems to have heeded the signals and when the cyclone struck, men and women were attending their ordinary avocations and hundreds suddenly faced death and eternity without a moment's thought. Oh! me, there are many danger signals unheeded by the multitudes today. Sympathy and aid will not be wanted in this sad hour. But these while doing much cannot bring back to life the dead ones, nor entirely bind up the broken hearts of the living.

If we turn our eyes abroad we find Germany still uneasy over the relationship of the Emperor to Prince Bismarck. The late Chancellor is receiving many expressions of the people's confidence and love. The labor conference has closed, but what practical good will come of it remains to be seen.

The action of the Russian authorities in arresting two persons who informed the world of the barbarities of the officials in their treatment of political prisoners, and the probable sentence—death, of these two arrested, show again the despotic tyranny with which the people of that great Empire are ruled. It cannot so remain long. Revolution will take place, or the feeling of the outside world so intense that a great change must surely occur; and may the day hasten. England is still troubled with Ireland, and the Parliament has witnessed during the week heated debates over that much vexed question.

In the US Senate another educational bill is presented. Its merits will be considered when the bill is under discussion.

OBSERVER.

DIED.

Two miles west of this city, yesterday morning, of pneumonia, Mrs Hattie Simons, wife of Haywood Simons and daughter of James Bashford, aged 34 years. She leaves three children. The funeral took place at 11 o'clock this morning, Rev W J W Crowder, officiating.

Warden Keaty and Deputy Sheriff McGonigal, of Ludlow street jail, N Y, have been arrested on indictment for bribery.

True to the Letter.

The Durham Sun says: The prosperity of a town is not gauged by the wealth of its inhabitants but by the uniformity with which they pull together when any important undertaking is to be accomplished. A man with a thousand dollars at his command and a love for his town in his heart can do more for the upbuilding of it than the millionaire who locks up his capital and snaps his fingers at home progress.

Death of Mr Willie W Forest.

The death of this estimable young gentleman took place on Wednesday morning, 27th, at the residence of his father, in Houses Creek Township, of typhoid fever after an illness of more than a week.

Willie was twenty years of age, and though in life he had been "one of the boys," was possessed of many noble and gentlemanly qualities, which were fully appreciated by his hosts of friends and all in whom he came in contact.

The body was interred in the family burial ground at Mr Joe Hayes' on Thursday, 27th. R P.

Journalistic.

The Charlotte News appears in a new dress and is as bright as a bride, we wish it the utmost success.

The Roanoke News became of legal age last Thursday, having attained its 21st, year. It is one of the most progressive weeklies in the State.

The Kernersville News makes its reappearance and is much improved in all respects. It is published by a stock company of which Mr J M Graham is manager. It is a model paper.

The Wilmington Star has been published twenty two years and a half, and grows better with age. It is beyond doubt one of the most progressive dailies in the South. Long may it live and prosper.

He is always in the lead in everything that pertains to his line and he conducts his business on the strict line of the best goods for the lowest prices. All who desire to see the finest display of everything in the gentlemen's furnishing line should give him a call. "Dave" will take the greatest pleasure in showing you around.

The Great Tornado.

Additional particulars of the great tornado of Thursday night last which proved so disastrous to Louisville, continue to come in. An estimate is, that twenty five hundred houses were destroyed, with five hundred persons killed and thousands injured. A four story building was prostrated, in which one hundred men, women and children were buried while taking dancing lessons. Other points in the country suffered much. The town of Bowling Green, in Kentucky was entirely destroyed. It had a population of between five and eight thousand inhabitants, and the loss of life is conjectured to be correspondingly large. The ill starred town was directly in the path of the tornado as traced on the map, and the report beyond doubt is true.

Relief measures are being taken in different sections. In many respects, it is the most fearful calamity of the kind that has ever taken place in this country.

Report of the Grand Jury--Conditions of the County Prisoners.

The Grand Jury yesterday submitted a report relative to the condition of the work house and jail of Wake county. While the condition of the prisoners is generally good a more varied bill of fare is recommended. The allowance was ample enough. They reported the water closets in jail as out of fix and recommended that they be replaced by new ones. The county poorhouse was reported in good condition, and the inmates well cared for.

Referring to Camp Russell, now occupied by county convicts, the report says:

"The quarters in which the convicts are confined, we found to be very badly adapted to their present use, being dark, close, badly ventilated, and too small and insecure. We found about forty colored prisoners and eight white in the quarters. The colored prisoners are confined in a room some fourteen feet wide by forty feet long. The whites occupy a room in the same building, and adjoining the blacks, from whom they are separated by a plank partition about eight or nine feet high, and which does not extend to the ceiling. To all practical purpose, they might be said to be in the same room.

The sanitary arrangements are exceedingly bad. There is a large tub in each room in the end furthest from the entrance. These tubs are emptied several times a day, and when emptied they must be carried through the entire length of the quarters.

We found several cases of sickness, all of them, except one, who had stuck a pick in his leg and was rapidly recovering, suffering from "la grippe." None of them are dangerously ill.

The fare issued to the convicts was found to be well prepared and in our opinion is ample.

We would recommend that the board of county commissioners be instructed to obtain and prepare quarters, and that the prison be located near the sewerage mains from the city so they may be connected therewith."

Treasurer Heminsway, of Mississippi, got away with $334,512.19. The authorities would like to get up with him.

An Awful Cyclone

Is now raging in Raleigh, N.C. The scene is beyond description. Great trees of high prices are wrenched off at the roots and hurled to great distances. High priced houses are demolished in a twinkling without a moment's warning. The damage to the high priced portion of the city is terrible. No deaths are reported yet. This wholesale destroyer of high prices entered the city from the north utterly wiping out the high prices in its path. The groans of the high priced fellows that can't stand the pressure are beginning to be heard on every hand. Nothing to compare with it has ever visited Raleigh.—There is no abatement of the force and violence of this crusher. New cyclones are being guaranteed every day at the Big Racket Store and sent out over the city wiping out all high priced competition with a seething, crushing, irresistible line of the lowest prices ever seen in Raleigh.
