In and Around the City.

Growing weather.
Fish stories in order.
Spring in all its glory.
Many of the little ones looked jaded today.
A neat bouquet on the collar of your coat is now the proper idea.
The Register of Deeds issued one marriage license yesterday to a white couple.

Two convicts were given quarters in the State Penitentiary yesterday morning from Montgomery County.

Shad are now caught out at Millburnie; also hook fish plentiful, more so than for many years past.

Prof Holmes is endeavoring to gather a selection of minerals from each of the counties in the State.

Yesterday was a general gale day in and around Raleigh. The merry laugh of picnickers resounded through the streets in the afternoon and all seemed happy.

Does the statute of limitation prevent the recovery of the five hundred dollars Railroad Tax for school purposes in Wake County.

A beautiful little girl made her appearance at Mr Van Moore's on April 1st. May her life be bright and happy.

People had better look out about their hogs; there is a new disease going around, and after a little lingering the hog goes with it.

We heard a gentleman say he went into his garden the other day to look after his Irish potatoes, and he saw a multitude of bugs, and they were singing, "get a little bit higher."

The funeral services of Gerald Hill, infant son of Mr and Mrs Garland Jones will be held at their residence, 221 West Morgan street Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock. The remains will be carried to Louisburg for interment.

At a meeting of the directors of the Raleigh Cotton Mills, held yesterday afternoon, Mr E E Gambrell was elected Superintendent. He is a gentleman of much experience in the business having been for some time Superintendent of the Mills at Leaksville, N C.

A drummer for a grocery house, who has traveled all through the eastern part of our State says that business is better than it has been for five years. Merchants are in better condition than usual. His sales and collections were very satisfactory.

Some days ago sparks from a passing engine, set fire to Mrs Dr Joseph Parker's fence doing some little damage. It would have been very serious had not some one been near by who extinguished the flames after having burned some ten or twelve feet of the fence.

There is a great deal of complaint about the ditches on the east and south side of Shaw University. Can't something be done about it. The people say they are poor and not able to pay doctor bills, though they have to pay taxes.

We had the pleasure a few days ago of reading a letter from Florida to Mr. Charles A. Goodwin, proprietor of the Raleigh and Fayetteville Marble Works, saying we are glad to say that your prices compare favorably with those of both Baltimore and Boston. This is a compliment to Mr. Goodwin, and speaks for him in such a way as must be appreciated. Charles does good work and upon as easy terms as any one in the South, and can be relied upon at all times.

The woods are fast putting on the drapery of spring.

We hear many complaints about the muddy water from the water works. Is there no way for us to have pure clear water? Also much complaint is heard about the electric lights going out so often and remaining out so long. Is there no remedy for this?

A Strange Blessing.

A lady that lives on West Morgan street, who had the misfortune to loose all of her teeth, six or more years ago, except her two wisdom teeth, has cut two in front just like a baby, and has signs of others. She is forty eight years old. We hope she may live to enjoy another full set, for they are a blessing to any one.

Rich Black Silks.

The choicest selection of the richest black silks now displayed. Only such weaves and makes we know, thoroughly reliable are admitted in this grand collection. Black all silk sarahs, 20 to 24 inches wide, 50c to $1.15. Black Faille Francaise 21 to 24 inches wide, 85c to $2. Black Gros Grains 19 to 24 inches wide, 50c to $1.85. Many other weaves making up a superb stock.

W H & R S TUCKER & CO.

Another Mammoth Egg.

Mr. Fred Woolcott has a hen that laid a mammoth egg yesterday which measured 7 1/2 inches long measuring around lengthwise, and 5 1/2 inches round, the measurement being made in the same manner as that of the egg mentioned by us yesterday as being laid by a pullet belonging to Mrs J J Hall. Mr Woolcott's hen has laid four such eggs this year. The specimen can be seen at the Fair and Festival of the Capital Hose Company. It weighs 3 ounces.

New Advertisements.

We invite special attention to the advertisement of Mr Guy Bunch who is manager of the Old Dominion Phonograph Company.

Attention is called to the advertisement of the "Bee Hive."

Attention is directed to the advertisement of Mr A E Jordan, who announces the good qualities of the celebrated King's Royal Germetuer, a medicine that is receiving the sanction of thousands for its splendid remedial powers. Besides this Mr Jordan has a splendid line of fancy groceries, to which he invites the attention of the public. Give him a call.

Accident.

We deeply regret to learn that our young friend Mester Miller Hughes, son of Mr W H Hughes, met with a painful accident yesterday. He was on his way to a picnic given in the penitentiary woods, and on the route passed along the edge of a deep railroad cut. A little girl of the party, dropped her basket, which rolled down the embankment. Master Hughes started down the embankment to get it, when he missed his footing and fell, breaking his arm between the elbow and wrist. The best attention was rendered him and the young sufferer was taken home, where at last accounts he was resting as well as the circumstances permit.

Master Hughes is one of the carriers of the VISITOR, and is a model youth. We deeply sympathize with him in his sad misfortune, but hope he will soon be able to be on duty again.

The Henry W Grady Department.

How They Passed Yesterday.

Yesterday was a beautiful day, especially in the afternoon. It was a day, too long to be remembered for the social and innocent enjoyment that characterized it. All of our people who could conveniently do so, seemed to be bent on a short respite from the cares of life, and picnics, fish fries and barbecues came in for a full share. In the pursuit of pleasure there seemed to be no exemption as all classes and previous conditions were out in force. From early dawn until about 9 o'clock, picnics in which every conceivable vehicle played a part were to be seen wending their way to the outskirts, and the woods in the vicinity rang with the merry laugh of lads and lassies. Millburnie, Falls of Neuse, Taylor's Pond, Mahler's Vineyard, Penny's Pond, the Water Works, Penitentiary Woods, Pullen Park, Bledsoe's Grove, Brookside Park, Millbrook and numerous other resorts all had their representatives, and in general, all went off as happy as a marriage feast. Every conceivable species of fresh water fish, from the brook roach to the monstrous chub suffered, but mainly the finny tribe of diminutive proportions. The day was indeed a merry one, and shows that our Raleigh folks, amid all the troubles that beset humanity, can at all times, take the world easy—and they are right.

Personal Mention.

Maj. J. M. Crenshaw, one of Wake county's most successful farmers, was in the city to-day. He says the farmers are as well up with their work as he has ever known them and that there is a bright prospect for an abundant crop this season.

R. J. Parnell, Esq., has just returned from a business trip to Chatham county, says the wheat and oat crops are improving, that the farmers are more advanced than he has ever known them, prospects for an abundant crop are good; as to fruit will have a full crop of apples and pears and some peaches.

P. H. Johns, Esq., has returned from Auburn, and is at the Wake court house to-day. Several people have been down to interview him in regard to the mineral water on his farm near Auburn, and several orders to-day have been filled for cases of this famous water.

Rev. C. Durham, returned to the city yesterday afternoon from our beautiful sister town, Wilson, where he preached to a very large congregation Sunday. He says the Baptist have bought the most desirable property in the town, with a very handsome residence on it, which will be used as a parsonage, with plenty of room for a church which they propose to build at once. They paid five thousand dollars for this very desirable property. They have called Rev. H. W. Battle, of New Berne. They believe he will accept.
