The captain though confined to a sick bed expects to leave this afternoon to attend the funeral.

For Raleigh -fair weather, colder.

Our Graded Schools.

Daily

At the last meeting of the school committee of Raleigh Township, they appointed their visiting com mittees of two each, to visit all the graded schools in the township today. D S Waitt and W N Jones, Esq, who invited the Mayor, Hon A A Thompson to accompany them, visited the Centennial graded school, but were able to see only two or three rooms and the work done in them. They will complete their work and make their report to a full committee the last Wednesday in April. The com mittee to day say as far as they went everything was in admirable condition and the work was done thorough and well.

No Site Yet.

The locating committee of t e Baptist Female College have made no choice so far, of a site. Yesterday was consumed in visiting different places that had be n suggested among them the following: The Devereux property, northwest of the city; the Mordecai property, near the northern terminus of Blount and Halifax streets; the Briggs place, northeast of the city; the Wiley place, on East Jones street; the Seawell grove, in the eastern part of the city; the lots on East Edenton street, occu pied by the Pullen and Adams mansions, and the lands offered by Dr F T Fuller and W G Upchurch, south of the city. Some of this property is not in legal condition for sale and the committee decided to call a meeting of the Trustees to take place on the 22nd inst for further consideration.

New Enterprise.

Yesterday while strolling through town for locals, we dropped in a new building we had not seen before, al joining the establishment of Messrs. Ellington, Royster & Co., and found that a new foundry and machine of our city Police. He had been servshops had been established, and was all ready for operation Two enterprising energetic young men, Messrs. Charles E. Wood and Charles B. Park, (Wood & Park). Both young men are of many years experience, Mr Wood having worked in ten or twolve of the best shops in this coun try. Mr. Park has worked in the foundry of Messrs. Allen & Cram for a number of years They are both well qualified in all respects for the business they have undertaken. They are now ready to do all classes of work in their line; over hauling and repairing engines, from a stationary engine as well as a locomotive. Their shop is well supplied with the most improved machinery. Their fine new plaining machine especially attracted our attention. It is the most convenient and smoothest running ma chine we have ever seen; also their improved lathe. It will receive a shaft thirty inches in diameter and twenty-two and a half feet long. The lathe also contains a three tool shafting rest enabling the operator to run three cuts over the shaft at one time, the only one in the city which will complete the work by running over cne time. They are well supplied with machinery of the best make, for the prompt execution of all work entrusted to them. They are both voung, deserving of patronage and success, and we believe they will have it. It is a source of much pleasure to thus record, such an enterprise in our city, and hope it may be but the forerunner of many such industries. The VISITOR heartily wishes the firm the most complete success.

OUR GALLANT AND MANLY POLICE. Faithful Guardians---Brief

Sketches of Who They Are.

There are plenty of people ready to make complaints against a police man, and it is no! often that they are credited with the praise they deserve. "I never see one in our end of the town," is a common remark. They are not remembered even as often as they should be in the public prayers from the pulpit.

Raleigh has a force of fourteen men. For size, strong, manly form, steady, upright, honorable gentlemen, we do not believe they are excelled by any equal number in this country. The majority of them are members of our churches.

We desire to offer our tribute to this honorable corps by giving a sketch of each one in the order of their rank and term of service. The first is who was elected in May 1880 under the administration of the late Mayor. Basil C Manly. He is forty one years of age, weighs two hundred and fifteen pounds and is five feet ten inches high. On the second Monday in next month he will have bien in office ten years, is married, and we suggest a Tin Reception as appropriate for his first decade. During this long term of service he has never had a charge made against him in any public or official way. "Charlie Heartt" has a generous nature, kind, obliging and always at his post. When in Canada on a certain official duty, his name got into the press dispatches as the "handsome Chief of Police from Raleigh." Few men are better posted about crimes and criminals than is our gallant Chief. The friend of all, he is deservedly popular with every administration.

SERGEANT C. H. LEWELLYN. In June 1881, under Mayor Manly, "Harry" Lewellyn was elected as one ing as caterer at the Yarborough, and rest and has always been a great favorite. "Jack" looks fierce when he is a mind to, but is as gentle as a child. But it won't do to crowd him, and when he puts his hand on a man and says "come with me," he might as well resist the old "Chockyot" engine of the R & G R R. He has been on the police force of Raleigh so long that he knows every nook and corner of our city and the thief that hides from him must get out of his territory. Noble hearted, true and brave, he too, has always been reelected without opposition.

MART. THOMPSON

is the next oldest in service, having been elected in November 1877. He is forty three years old, weighs one hundred and sixty pounds, is five feet ten inches high. Was elected under Mayor Manly. Like Sergeant Lewellyn, he is specially good in detective work, and should be specially engaged, in our judgment in that line. He has worked up a number of crook ed cases and trapped many an unsuspecting offender. Brave, daring and true-as cool as a cucumber but always on the alert. Is a fine cornetist, among other things, and a favorite with the band boys, as well as the public generally. His faithful service as a policeman has been recog- Special nized with every Board of Aldermen, and often has he been commended for special efficiency.

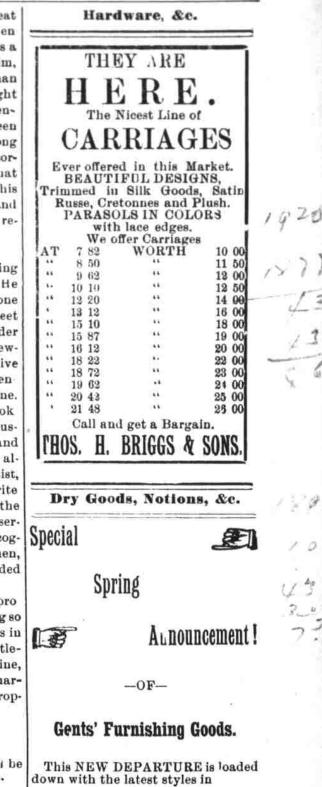

We stop for the present, but pro pose to finish the list, and in doing so hope our readers will join with us in gratefully remembering these gentlemen who, through rain and sunshine, heat and cold are the faithful guardians of our lives, liberty and property.

The Railroad Tax Matter.

In conversation this morning with Capt B. P. Williamson, Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, he said he had a conversation with Solicitor Argo, and that the solicitor was of the opinion that it might be his duty to bring suit to recover the railroad forfeiture tax; that he would look into the matter, and should he find it to be his duty he would bring suit, and if it could be recovered, he Col. Argo, was decidedly of the opinion that Wake county would be entitled to the whole amount, which would be about a thousand dollars for each township.

A High Compliment.

The Wilson Ledger, pays the fol lowing well deserved compliment to Rev. C. Durham:

At the Baptist Church on Sunday, at the morning and evoning service, this eminent divine filled the pulpit, and preached two strong and powerful sermons. Both of his discourses were masterly in their arrangement, and unanswerable in their logic. The tenderness of their pathetic breathings, the limpid flow of their poetic ripples, the exquisite fluish of their graphic paintings and the passionate fervor of their soul warmed exodium were each and all harmonious ingredients of fine and finished productions, and stamped him as a preacher of grand and glorious power.

A child of Pilot Samuel Schellenger of Cape May, aged 2 years, fell into a washtub full of water yesterday morning and was drowned while its mother was absent from the room. for a small or large amount.

Wedding Presents.

The choicest novelties for wedding and birthday presents are exhibited at W H & R S Tucker & Co's. Unique styles in piano and banquet lamps, ornamental lamp shades, art patterns bric a brac of all kinds, high class novelties in furniture, magnificent china, in tea and dinner sets, ice cream, salad, lemonade and chocolate sets, cut glass, etc. Anything prety as such had made a good name. But the nine years' service as a policeman, has proven that his special qualifications are on this line. Sergeant Lewellyn is thirty six years of age, weighs one hundred and eighty five pounds, is five feet nine inches high. He was promoted from patrolman to Sergeant for faithful and efficient service. His special forte i detective work, and if he was in New York City his fame would rank with that of Inspector Byrnes, as the man that "just some how knows who it was and where he is," when a mystery in crime is on hand. Courteous, intelligent, cool and brave, he is a great favorite with all in need of the ser vice of a policeman. Ever watchful and true as steel he has never been opposed by any administration. SERGEANT JOHN D THOMPSON.

When John Thompson left his placksmith shop in May 1884 to take place on the police force, a number very much. He was elected when ex-Mayor W H Dodd came into office, and has been re elected without op position ever since. He is sixty years old, weighs one hundred and eighty too old for militia duty now he was in his prime as a Confederate Soldier and served four to morrow. years in the late war. "If John Thompson hits you with his billy you'll think a mule kicked you," is a common saying. He is still active and efficient, although sixty years old, and is as faithful as a clock.

J. W. BEASLEY.

"Jack" Beasley, as he is familiarly known is the biggest of them all. He commenced service as a policeman in May 1875, under Mayor Separk, deceased. He weighs two hundred and sixty pounds, is thirty nine years of the time for the chamber of com-age, six feet two inches high. Is a merce banquet, at the Yarboro House age, six feet two inches high. Is a giant in strength as well as size. Has, now in progress to make it a grand been longer in service than any of the event.
