Bee Hive—A Surprise.
W H & R S Tucker & Co—Good News.

In and Around the City.

Macon county turned in five convicts to the penitentiary yesterday.

Today being a legal holiday, the State and public offices, banks etc, was all closed.

The musicale at Mr Mahler's last night was a grand success, everybody present enjoyed the occasion finely.

Justice Whitaker committed Geo Rogers to jail today in default of $50 bond.

Attention is called to the advertisement of the Bee Hive to be found in this issue.

The wheels for the summer street cars have arrived and was put on the lines last night

Good music may be expected at Edenton Street Sunday School tomorrow by the J E F F Quartette Club.

G H Moningham, of Falls, Wake county, says he has a turkey hen which has laid twenty nine eggs this season, and is not the least inclined to set yet. This beats the record.

Last night the Supreme Court building was brilliantly illuminated and thrown open to the public for one of those charming receptions which proved so popular and pleasant last year. There was a large crowd present and everybody enjoyed the evening.

O D Upchurch, Esq, Clerk of the Superior Court, apprenticed the following children today to George R Pool: George Alfonza Green Caudle, and Pearl Prentiss Rosa Minnie Caudle.

May 10th is a legal holiday and is observed generally by all educational banking and government institutions. It fell on Saturday this year. The Wake Forest College boys claimed that they were entitled to Saturday anyway, and that an extra holiday should be granted. The faculty agreed to this, and a number of the students spent yesterday, which was the holiday taken, in the city.

The forty seventh annual meeting of the State Grand Lodge, I O O F, will meet at Wilmington next Tuesday. The following persons will attend: Grand Master, Joseph G Brown, Grand Secretary, B H Woodell; Grand Representative, J H Cordon. Mr George H Glass will represent Mantoo Lodge, and Dr J H Crawford will represent Seaton Gales Lodges. Deputy Grand Sire C M Busbee will also be in attendance.

The City Lights.

The city light committee held a meeting yesterday to consider the report of the arbitration committee on the contract between the city and the electric light company.

It will be remembered that the arbitration committee's report set forth that, while the contract called for lights of 1200 candle power each, the actual development was 775 candle power. The committee decided to recommend that the city pay for the lights in proportion to the power furnished, and not pay the full contract price of eighty dollars per light per annum, because the power of the lights had not equaled the power called for. This payment is to commence with the beginning of the use of the light system.

The committee also decided to recommend that the lighting company be requested to furnish lights of 1200 candle power each as early as possible.

Bureau of Labor Statistics.

We clip the following paragraph from the Raleigh correspondent of the Wilmington Messenger, which appeared in their issue of May 8th: "The bland inquiries upon which the 1890 report of the bureau of labor statistics will be based are being sent out by Mr John C Scarborough. Less is heard of that sub department than of any of the others under the general management of the department of agriculture."

The usually fair minded and correct correspondent of the Messenger is in error in his statement that the Bureau of Labor Statistics is a sub department under the general management of the department of Agriculture. The annexion of the Bureau of Labor Statistics with the Department exists in the statute creating the Bureau but not in the organization of the Bureau as provided for in the same statute, chapter 113, laws of 1887. The commissioner is appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the Senate. The clerk is appointed by the commissioner, and the reports are made to the Governor, and through him to the regular sessions of the General Assembly. The Board of Agriculture has no voice in the management of the Bureau of Labor Statistics and no directory powers. It is simply in the Department of Agriculture in the Statute, but is independent of the supervision of the Board of Agriculture. The expenses of the Bureau are paid out of the State Treasury, raised by the tax on fertilizers.

The commissioner of Labor Statistics disburses all money used by the Bureau.

We do not know what the duties of Hon J C Scarborough, Commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics are, but one thing we know, that his character as a Christian gentleman and his faithfulness as a public officer is too well known to need any defense at our hands.

The Library Reception Last Night.

The State library and the library and rooms of the Supreme court were brilliantly illuminated last night and thrown open to the public. Everybody who attended during the evening was requested to register, and the registry book showed several newly filled pages. All present spent two delightful hours, for which they expressed cordial appreciation and thanks to Mr J C Birdsong, State librarian, and Mr R H Bradley, Supreme court marshal.

Memorial Day and the Ladies.

The assistance of the ladies will be greatly needed on next Monday morning at Metropolitan hall to arrange for the Memorial exercises. At 3:40 the procession will move to Metropolitan Hall. The band will occupy the gallery in the front of the stage, and the Guards, after stacking arms, will proceed to the seats reserved.

Benediction and decoration of the graves.

A Strange Water Monster.

Mr J S Bryan, brought to this office this morning a strange looking animal or monster, caught at the mill of W H Hood, Esq, in the eastern part of this county, last Friday. It resembles a species of eel, about three feet long, black, has no eyes, has four feet, a tail like a snake, a full set of fine, sharp teeth. Mr Bryan has taken it to the State Museum, where we hope it will be named by some naturalist. The like has never been seen in any of our waters so far as heard from. It is quite a curiosity, go and see it.

NORRIS & CARTER'S.

Swindell's

Is without doubt the real bargain house of Raleigh. There can be no doubt that Swindell sells more and better goods for the money than any other house in the city. We have people to tell us every day that we are doing more business than any of them. If we are, it must be true that we sell goods cheaper than others for every one is always on the lookout for bargains. When you come right down and think about it it is not so strange that Swindell sells goods cheaper than others. It is an impossibility for any man to buy and sell his goods on long time as cheap as the man that both buys and sells for the cash. We always pay cash and sell for cash, hence we sell goods cheaper than the others. We do not write all this to injure or reflect on any one, for no such desire, but we tell you this as a matter of business and to show the people how and where they can best serve themselves. We want every one's patronage and we are willing to give every advantage to our patrons, and we feel that we are offering more inducements than most of our friends can give you.

SWINDELL.

"Playing The Fool."

It has already been announced that Rev Thos Dixon, Jr, will lecture in this city on June 10th. In a letter received from him yesterday he said he would deliver his lecture having for his subject "Playing The Fool." The letter was read in the presence of a small company yesterday, and when the subject was announced, one of the parties who heard it remarked: "Say, don't you think that lecture will hit a blame sight of the folks in this town?" Everybody looked at each other but nobody said anything.
