LARGEST CITY CIRCULATION.

Index to New Advertisements. Whiting Bros—Old Fogies.

In and Around the City.

Cool nights and mornings. Mrs V Ballard, of Durham, is in the city.

Market well supplied with all kinds of vegetables.

Remember that there will be a meeting of the degree team at eight o'clock sharp tonight.

Col A M McPheeters has just returned from a business trip to South Carolina.

A nice buggy wh'p was lost on Peace street, between Rev Alvin Betts and R T Gray's, Esq., day before yesterday. A suitable reward will be paid for same if left at this office.

Jordan Farrington, who has been in jail for some time, being held for illicit distilling, gave bond on yesterday for his appearance at court and was released.

The board of county commissioners and justices of the peace of Wake county held their joint meeting in this city on the first Monday in June (the 2d) to elect a board of county commissioners and levy the county tax.

Rev Baylus Cade arrived in the city yesterday morning on his way home from Fort Worth, Texas, where he has been, attending the Southern Baptist Convention which adjourned several days ago.

Read what Messrs Whiting Bros have to say about old fogies. They see good in all classes of people and that is undoubtedly one reason of their popularity.

George S Terrell, Esq, inspector of fertilizers returned this morning from Surry county, where he had been sent by the agricultural department to examine some fertilizers on sale upon which the tax had not been paid—which was promptly seized. Young Mr Terrell is a man of the highest character and a most efficient officer. Everything entrusted to him is done promptly, and in a most satisfactory manner.

The Firemen's Contest.

In the steamer contest at Charlotte, yesterday, the $50 prize was won by the Atlantic of New Berne over the Acmes of Monroe. The New Berne engine threw water fifty feet in three minutes and 40½ seconds after the smoke appeared from the smokestack. The Rescue Fire Company, of this city, gave two exhibitions with the "Old Hickory" wagon hose team. The Judges in the championship reel race decided that the Greensboro team won the race Wednesday, but owing to mistake in measurement some dissatisfaction was expressed and the judges decided that another race should take place yesterday. As no team appeared the judges awarded the championship to Greensboro.

Evangelist Smith.

The meeting last night at which Evangelist Smith preached was very interesting. Nearly all the seats were taken. The committee will secure seats for two hundred more today. Many say it was the most pleasant hour spent in some time. The side curtains were used last night which necessitated the use of fans but they will not be used tonight. Several arose for prayer last night. The music was good. Remember the place—near corner of Morgan and Person streets.

Ham and Eggs.

Plenty nice fresh eggs and North Carolina and Sugar Cured hams, at D T Johnson's. Phone 28.

Beneficial Organizations.

No organizations in the United States have multiplied more rapidly in the past ten years than the sick benefit, funeral aid, death benefit, and other kindred societies.

As they are generally confined to those who are in the humbler walks of life, the good they have done is incalculable, carrying substantial aid to thousands of stricken families and inspiring those who are fortunate enough in being members with a courage which might not exist in their hearts without them.

The members of these organizations will be glad to learn that Hon Robert P Porter, Superintendent of the Eleventh Census, will endeavor to secure the statistics of the noble work these associations are doing, and it is safe to say that no other branch of the census will be more interesting.

The business of gathering the data has been placed in charge of Mr Chas A Jenney, special agent of the insurance division, 58 William street, New York City, and all associations throughout the United States, whether incorporated or private, should assist by sending to him the address of their principal officers.

Almost a Serious Accident.

Hon George W Sanderlin arrived at home yesterday evening after traveling more than 3,000 miles since he left. The trip was a most pleasant one. The convention, the doctor says, was a grand success. He came back by way of New Orleans and says he came very near meeting with an awful accident on his return. They were, about 87 miles out from Atlanta, about nine o'clock at night, when his train came to a sudden standstill almost, from a speed of 45 miles an hour. They found out that they were almost upon an awful wreck. A freight train had been wrecked and all on board, including the conductor and flagman, were injured, the conductor the least of all. With a great effort and in much pain the conductor made his way up the road some distance without any light and only six or seven railroad torpedoes which he placed upon the track. The report of the torpedoes and the screaming of the wounded conductor caused the train to stop just at the wreck and an awful calamity averted.

Pardoned.

Gov Fowle, today, pardoned S B Pearson, of Burke county who was convicted of larceny of a ride at the spring term 1889, of the Superior court of said county and sentenced to two years in the penitentiary.

The reasons that prompted the Governor to issue a pardon in this case were based upon a statement of the solicitor and the defendants counsel, and it appears that upon this statement, the defendant submitted upon an agreement made by the solicitor and defendants counsel, but was not concurred in by the judge. The submission would result, as the defendant supposed in judgment not being prayed against him. Although His Honor was certainly not bound by the agreement, yet, the Governor thinks it better that the defendant should be pardoned than for any considerable number of the good people of North Carolina should believe that the sentence to the penitentiary was the result of a misapprehension.

THE BRYAN MURDER

The Coroner's Inquest Resumed

In accordance with adjournment the coroner's inquest on the case of the assassination of Lemuel Bryan was resumed at 12 o'clock this morning.

Dr J B H Knight who is the duly elected coroner for Wake county, was present and took charge of the investigation.

Henry Fendt, sworn and said: I know N G Whitfield. About a month ago he said in my presence that he wished they would let his fish traps alone. If they did not, some one would get shot.

Addison Pulley, sworn and said: I know N G Whitfield. He said he had posted his land against fishing; that he had posted it against certain persons whose names he did not call. I asked him how he could prevent them and he at town. He said he would kill them, or have it done. This conversation took place in Julius Lewis & Co's store about the 2d day of May. He said that some of the parties lived in the country and some in Raleigh, and that he intended to keep them from fishing down there. I told W, that the old man W R Pool used to shoot them but never hurt any one. W said he had a man down there and he could shoot and that he had instructed him to keep everybody away from there.

Clint Williams, sworn and said: I saw Brown passing the road during the spring and asked permission to fish. He said I could. Ed Yarborough had a very fine seine and said he would loan it to me and help me to catch the fish. Whitfield had posted the land and Yarborough was not willing to go fishing without permission. Brown said Yarborough could go with me. Mr Brown afterward said that Whitfield was a little curious, and, he reconed that Yarborough had better not go. I went on lands because Brown told me I was not trespassing and it was all right. Never heard Whitfield or Brown make threats of any kind that they would shoot or harm any one.

LAI D AT REST.

Funeral Services of Col. William E. Anderson.

We do not remember to have witnessed in Raleigh more demonstrations of sorrow over the death of any person than was exhibited yesterday at the funeral of our late beloved fellow citizen, Col Wm E Anderson. The only cases approximating it, were those of Dr Joseph Tucker, Dr McKee and Rev Dr Mason.

The funeral of Col Anderson was announced to take place at 5 o'clock in the afternoon from Christ Church, and before that hour an immense concourse of people were wending their way thither to pay the last tribute of respect, to one so loved and honored in the community. At 4:30 o'clock most of the business houses on the principal streets were closed, and several buildings were draped in mourning, among them the Capital Club, Citizens National Bank and Masonic Hall.

At 5 o'clock the funeral cortege arrived at the church, headed by officers of the Grand Lodge of Masons and members of Hiram and Wm G Hill lodges of this city. Then came the board of Aldermen and city officers, followed by members of the Capital Club. The Ladies Memorial Association also attended in a body. The funeral services were conducted by Rev Dr M M Marshall, and Bishop Lyman. The following ministers were also present. Revs Bennett Smedes, R B Sutton, W M Clark and Dr Hunter.

The pall bearers were Col Thomas S Kenan, George H Snow, Esq, Dr V E Turner, Mr Leo D Heartt, Mr W C

Stronach, Mayor A A Thompson, Mr C H Belvin and Mr W H Bain.

As the ministers entered the church followed by the pall bearers bearing the casket, and by the entire escort, the choir sang with impressive effect "Jesus, Saviour of my soul." Other songs during the services were "How Firm a Foundation Ye Saints of the Lord" (a special favorite of the deceased), and "Asleep in Jesus."

The floral offerings were beautiful and of the most artistic designs.

Thus has been laid at rest one whose memory will long linger in the hearts of all our people.

The Town Clock

Like men often goes wrong and is not a reliable guide. Sometimes slow, sometimes fast, never to be absolutely depended on as correct. There are a great many merchants that remind us of this clock. They are never reliable indicators of the standard prices, but like the old town clock first fast then a little slower but never to correct rock bottom. We are for prices like Washington City is for time—the standard—and all those that regulate by us are always correct and on time. Our electric regulator is "buy and sell for cash." It never fails to make instant correction when any price goes wrong. Our main spring is made of gold and silver—a combination that moves the wheels of the world. Our goods are the hands that show their prices for themselves. Thus you see if you follow us as a standard you will not materially err. You can get correct prices at our store on fine dress goods, white goods of all kinds, clothing, shoes, slippers, hats, notions, millinery goods, &c. Come and get regulated at
