LARGEST CITY CIRCULATION.

Index to New Advertisements.

Parker & Harvey—Plug Tobacco.
Whiting Bros—Close Promptly.

In and Around the City.

Hotter and hotter.

All quiet in police circles today.

Soda fountains in all their glory.

The Board of Aldermen meet in regular monthly session tonight.

Mr C H Ireland, of Greensboro, is in the city.

Several Chapel Hill boys are in the city, taking in the sights, before going home.

Don't forget that the funding act expires July 1st. Bring in your old bonds, or else you may "get left."

Cleanliness is next to Godliness—give us a swimming pool convenient for all.

Market abundantly supplied this morning with all kinds of vegetables and at cheap rates.

First class companies are making applications for Metropolitan Hall during fair week.

We are glad to hear that the health of Ex Governor Holden has some what improved of late.

The Demorest Medal Contest will come off at Edenton Street M E Church tonight. Don't forget it.

Prepare your reports, gentlemen of the chamber of commerce, and let us hear from you—especially on the hotel question.

A considerable crowd passed through the city, this morning, on their return from Chapel Hill commencement.

We believe Mayor Thompson will do his duty in the premises—we mean about a 4th of July celebration.

The dull season is the time to push, and, the way to push is to advertise. It is needless to add that one of the best mediums for advertising is the VISITOR. Verbum sap, etc.

Mr Bilyew says that the grapes in his vineyard are not as much injured as had been supposed, and that the yield will be a pretty fair one. This will be good news to the lovers of this delicious fruit.

The J E F F Quartette will sing at Edenton street Sunday school room tonight, at the Demorest medal contest. Mr J W Cheek will sing with the quartette in place of Mr H L Hanes, who is out of town.

Gentlemen of the Board of Aldermen: At your meeting tonight, remember that the people of Raleigh want a fourth of July celebration, and expect some encouragement at your hands—and "don't you forget it."

J R Barkley, Esq, says he was through the Southern part of Wake county on yesterday, and that there was the finest prospects for a good crop of cotton and corn he had ever seen. That he saw a field of about ten acres in tobacco that was the finest he had ever seen at this season. —Such reports are coming in from every quarter. Let us take courage and press forward.—ED.

As an evidence of their popularity there has not been an evening since Messrs Whiting Bros have commenced closing their place of business at 7 o'clock but that they were compelled to turn away at least half a dozen customers. They have no right to admit any one after the door is closed in justice to other merchants. Read what Messrs Whiting Bros have to say about it in their new "ad."

Notice.

I will be at my office over J H Bobbitt's drug store from 8 to 9 a m; 1 to 2 p m, and 7 to 8 p m. All messages left at the drug store will receive prompt attention. JES W H BOBBITT, M D.

Graduates.

The following is a list of the graduates of the University who delivered orations, as far as we can obtain them: R H Holland, Charlotte; C A Rankin, Fayetteville; W F Shoffner, Salem; Geo V Tilley, Chapel Hill; J T Phillips, and H B Shaw, Tarboro; H L Miller, Greensboro; J D Bellamy, Jr, Wilmington; J B Philbeck, Shelby; W S Snipes, J W Graham Kernersville; V L Bryant, Charlotte; Henry Johnson, Tarboro, and Alex McIver, Jr, Pittsboro.

No Growlers.

We met a friend today from New Light, Wake county. He said he had driven leisurely to Raleigh, and made it a business to enquire of every one he saw on the road about the prospects, and, strange to relate he did not see a single "growler." "I never saw it the case before in my life," said he. "I really believe if nothing unusual happens, we will raise enough in Wake county to feed the whole of North Carolina." These are indeed cheering words and calculated to make us all feel happy, in view of the gloom that surrounded us last season.

A Live Industry.

We invite special attention to the advertisement of Messrs Parker & Harvey, plug tobacco manufacturers. These gentlemen are putting up some of the finest brands of chewing tobacco to be found anywhere in the South and their reputation is daily increasing. There are no better business men or more estimable gentlemen in the State than Messrs Parker & Harvey, and they are doing much to spread abroad the fame of Raleigh in the manufacturing line. We are pleased to know that their trade is daily increasing, and we hope it may develop into enormous proportions.

The General Delivery.

We have authority for the statement, that our efficient Postmaster, Col Shaffer, will use every possible endeavor to have the general delivery kept open longer during the day than it now is, but this arrangement cannot be made sooner than the month of July, at best. We are aware that there is some little inconvenience felt in this respect, by those who do not have boxes, and whose delivery is not made by the carriers, but, it requires time to so arrange matters as to suit all. Col Shaffer is indefatigable in the discharge of his duties, and, we feel sure that nothing he can consistently do to promote the efficiency of the service will be left undone.

Raleigh Male Academy.

The commencement of the Raleigh Male Academy, Messrs Morson and Denson, principals, passed off brilliantly today in the presence of a large and deeply interested audience. Rev Dr Carter offered an impressive prayer, and was followed by Maj Eugene G Harrell in one of those stirring addresses upon educational subjects for which he is so well known. He stated that he had just returned from the University where he had been happy to learn from one of the professors that one tenth of the entire number of students were from the Raleigh Male Academy, and that they stand in the very highest rank of scholarship. A fact gratifying to our city, and to the friends of the Academy.

The roll of distinctions was read and list of honors rewarded. Rev Dr J H Cordon then delivered the annual oration, upon the subject of the value of Higher Education, and it was one of the most remarkable literary performances that we have ever heard—in its fine analysis, and splendid flight of oratory. In the conclusion, he paid a high compliment to the proud standing of the student's academy in the various colleges, and congratulated the citizens of Raleigh. The ceremonies were concluded by the benediction pronounced by Rev Dr L L Nash.

Chapel Hill University.

The commencement exercises at this institution closed last night with the usual ball, and the old campus, will soon bear the appearance of "Goldsmith's Deserted Village" for several months to come. The students have separated, some never to return, while twenty one graduates are now entered upon the busy scenes of life. It is a mingling of the sad and joyful when the session closes. Many who have been bound together by the silken chords of friendship part to meet no more, while others go out in the world to do better for wealth and fame.

In looking over the trials of the University we have something, at least to be proud of. The grand old Institution has arisen as it were like Phoenix from the Ashes. At the close of the Civil War, it was indeed in a sad plight, but, remembering the glories of the past, the people of our grand old State have not only revived it, but placed its standing on the plane of the most favored universities of the land. The outlook for a proper endowment of a chair of History is indeed a cheerful one, showing the interest taken by the Alumni in their glorious old alma mater.

The following are the prizes awarded:

Greek Prize—Frank C Mebane, of Wentworth.

Kerr Prize in Geology; first prize $30, J C Braswell, Brattleboro; second prize, $20, P K Woodard, Black Creek.

Bargains in all lines at

NORRIS & CARTER'S.

Off to the Seashore.

This strikes you at once, don't it? When you saw the heading of this—"Off to the seashore"—it aroused your interest at once. Now the most important question is, are you going? Can you go? Is your wardrobe in a seaside condition, if not, can you put it in said condition, considering all available revenues, in time to be off with the crowd? If you only have six or seven hundred dollars to fit up with for this season, where can you spend this sum to the best advantage; or in other words, is there a place in the city where you can fit yourself up a wardrobe to correspond with others that you will see at the seashore with that six or seven hundred. You will need lots of morning, evening and ball dresses. You will need lots of Oxfords and operas. You will want 16 fans. It will require lots of laces, handkerchiefs, hose, bonnets, wraps, &c, &c. You will need just 1,000 other things, we can't mention. To put the whole thing in a few words we can furnish you every thing you will need and we will give them to you at 20 per cent less than any house in the city can at Swindell's.
