RALEIGH, JUNE 6, 1890.

THE OLD NORTH STATE.

Asheville Journal: Mrs Jas Mears, mother of G A Mears, of this city, died at her home near Leicester, yesterday afternoon at fifteen minutes past three o'clock, aged 80 years.

Tarboro Southerner: With a swath from one to two and a half miles wide and nearly twenty long a severe hail storm of ten or fifteen minutes duration Saturday did much damage in this county.

Charlotte Chronicle. The Chronicle has been presented with a basket of strawberries from the Turora farm, which varied from three to four inches in circumference, and from 1 1/2 to 2 inches in length.

Greensboro Patriot: A very fine quality of granite in practically unlimited quantity has been found on the land near town recently purchased by Governor Seales and Messrs Bethell, Cobb and Patterson. The find will be developed at once.

Scotland Neck Democrat: Judge Walter Clark, writing to his brother, Mr Henry Clark, says that in a trip through the bluegrass region of Kentucky, through Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, he has not seen better grass and clover than is now growing on his farms on the Roanoke.

Maxton Union. Mr John D Currie fired a gun the other day and it kicked him with such force as to break his collar bone.—Deputy Collector Hall, with a party of raiders captured and destroyed an illicit distillery with 300 gallons of beer, forty gallons of low wines, and eight fermenting stands, in Turn Bull Swamp, in Cumberland county, on Wednesday, May 21st.

Man's Best Friend.

Ladies' Home Journal.

First and foremost, woman is man's best friend:

Because she is his mother.

Second because she is his wife.

Because she is patient with him in illness, endures his fretfulness and "mother" him.

Because she will stick to him through good and evil report, and always believe in him, if she loves him.

Because without her he would be rude, rough and ungodly.

Because she teaches him the value of gentle words, of kindly thought and of consideration.

Because she can with him endure pain quietly and meet joy gladly.

Because on her breast he can shed tears of repentance, and he is never reminded of them afterwards.

Because, when he is behaving like a fretful boy—and we all do, you know, at times—with no reason in the world for it, woman's soft word, touch or glance will make him ashamed of himself, as he ought to be.

Because without her as an incentive he would grow lazy; there would be no good done, there would be no noble books written, there would be no beautiful pictures painted, there would be no divine strains of melody.

Because she has made for us him beautiful world, in which we should be proud to live and contented to die.

Because—and this is the best reason of all—when the world had an unenviable state of wickedness the blessed task of bring it a Saviour for all mankind was given to a woman, which was God's way of setting his seal of approval on her who is mother, wife, daughter and sweetheart, and, therefore, man's best friend.

Building Sinks Out of Sight.

SPRINGFIELD, June 1.—At a late hour last night the family of Christopher Menzel, a German truck gardener, living about three miles south of this place, was awakened by the sound of a heavy fall and a subsequent violent trembling of the earth. Rushing out of the house in affright they found that a large outbuilding had disappeared, and in the spot where it had stood gaped a cavity fully fifty feet in length and nearly that in breadth. A sound of rushing water tumbling and plunging over rocks and down a precipice was distinctly to be heard, and in approaching the brink of the hole ice cold spray was to be felt.

The outbuilding, which had evidently been submerged, had contained, besides any quantity of garden seed, twenty or thirty sacks of oats and millet, five grown pigs and fourteen young ones a buggy and truck cart, all of which had disappeared before Mr Menzel reached the spot. When morning dawned one of the pigs could be seen standing on a rock the flat top of which rose above the dark rushing torrent, and after some difficulty was finally rescued. The stream, as nearly as can be measured is at least 100 hundred feet wide, although only about twenty feet of its width is visible, and only thirty of its length, for it plunges suddenly out of sight and is lost in the depths below.

The trembling of the earth still continues, and Mr Menzel has removed his family and goods, fearing that more will cave in. Crowds have visited the spot today, but all approach to it is esteemed so dangerous that no attempt has been made to gauge the dept of the cavity. Eighteen hours have elapsed since it was made, and there is as yet no diminution apparent in the stream, which is probably fed by some inexhaustible source.

THE NEWS.

Over two thirds of the wood-turners of Boston stopped work last night. They want nine hours.

Two girls were drowned near Leadville, Col, while out on a fishing trip yesterday morning.

The McGurgan and Minor blocks were destroyed by fire at Waynesburg, Pa, yesterday. Loss, $30,000.

Bud Lindsay, Deputy United States Marshal, shot and killed a distiller named Kilts, at Knoxville, Tenn, yesterday.

One hundred thousand dollars is considered a low estimate of loss occasioned by the recent floods at Arcadia, Wis.

Four members of the family poisoned by eating wild parsnips, near Lake George, Canada, are dead, and it is feared that the other three will die.

Italy and Germany, in giving their assent to the scheme for the conversion of the Egyptian debt, recommend that £150,000 be applied yearly to abolishing the Corvee.

Fire at Ottawa, Ont, yesterday, destroyed Thackray's Planing Mills, Shore's Carriage Works and the buildings of the Ottawa Tent Company and the Sanitary Plumbing Company.

A crowd of white boys at St Louis last night carried a crazy negro to the Mississippi river, intending to drown him, but being frightened by approaching police they ran away, leaving him in the water. The negro was drowned.

Part of the ruins of an old church, near which a new one was being erected, at Freeport, Ill, fell yesterday, carrying with it five men, all of whom sustained severe injuries. It is thought that two of the injured men will die.

Last week we published the marriage of a Mr Wagoner to a Miss Crow which took place a week ago. On last Tuesday some daring fellow stole the woman out of the bed from her husband and also about forty dollars in money. The deserted husband passed through Elk Park on Wednesday searching for the money. He says Crow may go, but he wants the money.—Mountain Post.

A Race For a Wife.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, June 3.—Harry Goodwin and Cora Skinner, of Lawrenceburg, Ind, ran away yesterday to get married. They found Squire Sterling was at Elizabethtown, Ohio, just 20 yards over the state line. As they reached the 'Squire's, the girl's father could be seen in the distance pursuing on horseback. 'Squire Sterling grasping the situation told the lovers to grasp hands and run for Indiana, as the license was not good in Ohio. The three scrambled over fences and on crossing the line the 'Squire stumbled and fell, but had just sufficient breath to pronounce the words as the angry father galloped up too late. A large crowd witnessed the race and cheered the bridal couple. The father left without bestowing his blessing.

Ice Cellar!

We have opened an ice cellar under the Henry Building, opposite the post office, where our Mr R H Murphy will be pleased to give every one full value for their cash or tickets. This ice is made on large iron plates, then cut into blocks, and has no porous or soft parts. This process insures wonderful transparency, great density and freedom from air bubbles. It is more nearly like natural lake or river ice than can be made by any other process, but is more pure and more durable, as demonstrated by actual experiments, with both under the same conditions.

Absolute Purity,

Our White Covered Wagons

go wherever wanted in town, both morning and evening.
