In and Around the City.

Politics boiling today.
Democratic primaries tonight.
The swimming pool in Brookside park is being put in first class order.
Arrangements for the 4th of July progressing finely.
Almost time to talk about the next State fair.
Guessing on the census now in order. The difference of opinion is tremendous.

There will be singing at the Christian Church Sunday afternoon at five o'clock. All invited to attend.

Hereafter the street cars will start on their trips an hour later in the morning and stop an hour earlier at night, until further notice.

Efforts are being made, and we think the officials will do so, to pass delegates to the different political conventions at half fare.

Mr Richard Koonce has accepted a position with Mr C O Ball, No 11, Hargett street, where he would be pleased to have his friends give him a call.

We were pleased to see on the streets today our venerable and esteemed friend, Mr Jordan Womble, Sr, who has just recovered from a severe attack of sickness. We wish him many years yet, of health and happiness.

All the students at the A & M College have returned to their homes except three, J B Williams, of Warren, A G Smith, of Johnston, and S E Asbury, of Burke. They will remain here and work during vacation.

Mrs Nancy Rabon, of this county, is entitled to a pension as a widow of a Confederate soldier. It is desired that she shall report to CD Upchurch, Clerk of the Superior Court, before the first of July so that her claim may be properly attended to.

Eternal advertising is the price of trade. Some argue that it is expensive to advertise. It is the most profitable expense you can have if you handle it properly. More business men attribute their success to the judicious use of printers' ink than to any other one thing. Are you doing all you can to secure trade?

Attention is directed to the advertisement of F J Hartsfield, watchmaker and jeweler, No 219 Wilmington street. Mr Hartsfield is a first class workman in his line and keeps on hand a first class assortment of goods. All in want of anything in the jewelry line, will do well to give him a call.

Of the 196 census enumerators appointed in this District under Supervisor Hawkins, two were females, and the first to report having finished the work assigned was one of these. And the Gold Leaf ventures the assertion that the work was well done. It is complimentary to the women that they are usually quick and thorough in whatever they do.

Grand Lodge K. of P.

The following are the officers elected by the Grand Lodge of the Knights of Pythias for the ensuing year:

P G C—Thomas D Meares, Wilmington.
G C—W S Cook, Fayetteville.
G V C—F L Jacobs, Asheville.
G Prelate—W B Harker, Maxton.
G K of R & S—John L Dudley, Wilmington.
G M & Ex—John Ward, Raleigh.
G M at A—G M Whitfield, Laurinburg.
G I G—J H Southgate, Durham.
G O G—C E Holton, Greensboro.

Sad Death.

We regret very much to announce that Mrs Bostick, wife of Rev G P Bostick, missionary to China, died May 23, 1890, at Tung Chow, China, of small pox. We knew Mrs Bostick to be a most excellent Christian lady. THE VISITOR extends heart-felt sympathies to her family and host of friends in this State.

Henry E. Wyatt.

Dropping in the State Library this morning we found the Librarian in the best of humor and congratulating himself upon having at last secured, after much correspondence, an authenticated copy of a photograph of Henry E Wyatt, the first soldier killed in line of battle in the late war. Mr Wyatt, at the battle of Bethel, in company with four other members of the gallant old Edgecombe Guards, had volunteered to undertake a very hazardous dash against a squad of Federals who were annoying our line, and during this advance the heroic Wyatt laid down his life in upholding the honor of the Old North State. The photograph has been enlarged to cabinet size by one of the best artists in the South, Mr C P Wharton, of this city, and the Librarian will have a brief history of this North Carolina hero printed on the back of the photograph and sell them at 50 cents a copy, hoping to dispose of enough to enable him to have an oil painting made for the Library collection. All persons desiring a copy should at once notify Mr Birdsong, the Librarian, by postal card and as soon as the picture is ready it will be forwarded and the price collected. We earnestly hope that enough may be disposed of to accomplish the object. The papers of the State are requested to copy this notice.

Attention, Odd Fellows.

What has become of the committee appointed to consider the ways and means for building an Odd Fellows Hall? With four to six thousand dollars of cash in hand now is the time to buy and build. It will cost much more for land and building material another season. Move up brethren.

Views From Carolina Vineyard.

Mr C B Edwards is having Mr Will Wynne to make some photographic views from his vineyard, three miles southwest of Raleigh. From what we have heard we should judge that the views will be very attractive as they are new and out of the usual order.

Good Openings for Small Investment.

Our market will soon be flooded with ripe fruit, and now is the time for somebody to establish a canning factory. We heard a gentleman from Winston say that there was one in that town doing a splendid business. The plant of which did not cost over $300. Here is a chance for somebody with only a little capital to enter into this much needed and safe industry.

ANOTHER ONE.
A paper box manufactory is needed here and it does not require a large amount of capital to establish one. Both of these enterprises can be set up in some locality where rent is cheap and near enough to some power already in use to be able to rent power instead of purchasing an engine.

We hope some of our young men will take hold of these openings.

Where Is The Hitch?

For several years past we have heard at intervals something about the extension of Hargett and Morgan streets to the western suburbs. At one time it was announced that the scheme was on the eve of consummation, but, for some reason, of which the public have never been informed, the matter collapsed until now we hear but very little of it.

Now everybody who has thought about it, at all, will agree that the extension of one or both of these streets is a matter of the greatest importance, involving the convenience of our people. There is no portion of the vicinity of Raleigh that has exhibited more signs of improvement during the last few years than the western suburbs. Aside from the Fair grounds the Agricultural and Mechanical College, etc. our public spirited citizen Mr R S Pullen has donated and adorned a public park which, in the course of a few years, will become an ornament of which our entire people may be well proud. While a private citizen, has so unselfishly given of his means and time for the public benefit, it looks as if our city authorities are wanting in due appreciation of the people's necessities. All must agree that we need a direct avenue to the park, and nobody can see any good reason why the streets named should not be extended. Surely property holders along the line of the proposed extension cannot with any propriety object to an extension which it is apparent would enhance the value of their real estate. And even, if some little inconvenience should arise, ought not the public benefit to be taken into at least some consideration. We note the fact, that when an extension of a street in the corporate limits is desired, the property through which it runs is usually procured and frequently at a price that is not altogether remunerative to the holders.

We believe we speak the sentiments of a vast majority of our citizens, when we say that this matter has slumbered long enough. The people of Raleigh want another main outlet from the city to the western suburbs, and we believe they will cause the matter to be agitated until it is accomplished. This is a subject of much importance and it would be well for our City Fathers to know that prompt action is expected on their part.

Personal Mention.

Dr C E Taylor preaches morning and evening at the First Baptist Church tomorrow.

Mr M F King and family left for Morehead today.

Mr M J Hawkins, Ridgeway, was in the city today. He reported fine crops in his section; had never seen better prospects. He has large experience and his opinions are based upon close observation.

Prof Charles D McIver and Prof E McK Goodwin left today for the teachers assembly.

Prof Geo T Winston, of the State University, was in the city to lay.

Miss Ida A Snelling who has been seeking pleasure for the past four or five weeks in the mountains of Western North Carolina, returned this evening accompanied by Miss Pearl Hawkins of Greensboro. Miss Hawkins will remain in the city for some time, the guest of Miss Snelling.

Will T Rogers Esq, who has been confined to his bed for about ten days, we are glad to say is slowly improving. He is suffering from acute erysipelas of the feet.

Mrs T B Moseley is on a visit to her sister, Mrs Louis Blount, in Richmond, Va.

Black Goods.

We offer today the rarest opportunity ever known in this market. We have placed on sale a line of elegant black dress fabrics at prices far below the cost of the manufacturers. One lot of fancy black goods 40 inches wide at only 33c per yard, former price 65c; one lot of black albatross 38 inches wide at only 39c per yard, former price 70c; one lot of fancy black goods 40 inches wide at only 42c per yard, former price 75c; one lot of silk warp henrietta 40 inches wide at only 95c per yard, former price $1.50. The above goods are the greatest bargains ever offered in this or any other market. The stock must be sold in the next few weeks, consequently the prices will be made to move them regardless of cost at NORRIS & CARTER'S.

Be Cautious.

Don't believe that every thing that glitters is gold for it is not; nor should you believe that all men are dishonest for they are not; but be cautious in your every transaction; look well at a thing before you accept it as right; when convinced that you are in the right, push with all your might. You may wonder what all this has to do with 3-cent lawns and ladies' muslin underwear. It has this to do with them. We advertise these and our entire line of summer fabrics to be as low as any you will find on the market and the ladies' muslin underwear, we say positively, is 20 per cent less than any other house in the city offers the same class of goods. We have a well deserved reputation of selling every thing cheap, but through the summer months we shall pay no attention to profit, but our one object is to run our entire line off. Be cautious! Investigate this statement and see if what we say is true. At SWINDELL'S.

Handkerchiefs Worth 25c for 10c.

Mr Dobbin has just sent us 100 doz linen hem-stitched, colored and white embroidered handkerchiefs, worth 25c, which we can sell at 10c each. This is a handkerchief bargain never shown in Raleigh before. They are on sale now, and we want every lady and child to see them.
