NOTICE.

The proprietors of the VISITOR are always anxious and willing to accommodate their patrons as far as it can be done without detriment to the interests of the paper, or injustice to our friends. Our space is limited, and in order to make the columns attractive, the matter should be as varied as possible. The numerous nominations for official preference, thus early in the campaign, will prove too heavy on our columns for gratuitous insertion, and, hence, we feel under the necessity of adopting a scale of rates for the insertion of such cards, or communications. Hereafter a charge of twenty-five cents an inch (eight lines) or less, will be made for such insertions.

John Smith's Luck.

Lewiston Journal.

It is generally known that in 1614 Captain John Smith, of Pocahontas fame, made a trip to what is now known as Gardiner, Me, but there was an incident that occurred during that visit that is known by very few people. The Cabassas were presided over by a chief having headquarters at what is now Gardiner, known as Cabassa, who had a daughter named Saboois famed among her tribe for her beauty and grace. She was unfortunately smitten at once with the gallant Captain, who was, by the way, the first white man to visit these parts, and who was received with great cordiality. Smith had with him a lieutenant named Hunt, who was rather a quarrelsome disposition and prone to mutiny. When the time came for the party of whites to depart Hunt's mutinous spirit showed itself, and with a small party of followers he left Smith, going in an opposite direction. His party took with them as captives several of the tribe of Cabassas.

The chief, considering the whites one party, by a great mistake followed Captain Smith's loyal band, which camped that night about four miles from the present location of Gardiner, in an easterly direction. Saboois, thinking to warn the Captain, hurried on before the party of enraged Indians, but arrived too late, for as she arrived at the camp the first volley of arrows was delivered.

Thinking to save Smith, she fled to him threw her arms about his neck, and in that position received an arrow in the breast that caused instant death. The chief was palsied at the accident, and ordered hostilities to be ceased. This allowed Smith an opportunity to explain that it was the other party that had perpetrated the kidnapping.

After a sorrowful return and the burial of Saboois near the Randolph church the party of red men went in search of Hunt. He was overtaken near Norridgewock and his band exterminated to a man. Captain Smith had the martyred Saboois to thank for his life, for the arrow that reached her heart was meant for him. The grave of Saboois is unmarked—in fact, its exact location is unknown.

Indians at Plymouth Church.

N Y Star.

Forty of the Indians attached to Forepaugh's circus attended Sunday school in Plymouth Church, Brooklyn, yesterday. The occasion was the closing of the Sunday school for the summer months, and the Indians were considerably interested in the singing and other exercises. Superintendent Hinrichs introduced the visitors to the children, and then Col Yates interpreted a short speech by Chief Short Horn.

"It makes my heart feel good to be here today," said the Indian chief who was attired in circus costume. "The Great Spirit is to the Indian and the white man alike. I used to think the Great Spirit was the Indians alone. I begin to think this day should be given to the Great Spirit."

The Rev Dr Abbott in reply said that Plymouth Church, was known far and wide as Mr Beecher's church. Mr Beecher was a friend of the Indian, and he (the speaker) was also a friend of the red man.

After the exercises Dr Abbott showed the Indians Mr Beecher's portrait, and also played on the organ. In the gathering were Mrs Ant, Mrs Short Horn, Mrs Three Bears, Mrs Thunderstorm, Mrs White Elk Mrs Red Sunset, Miss Gray Eagle Tracks and Miss Little Deer.

The New York Court of Appeals has affirmed the original judgment in the Kelmer case. Kelmer must be killed with electricity.

Ex-Emperor Dom Pedro, of Brazil, hopes to spend the summer near Grenoble. The Chateau de Voison has been proposed to him as a desirable temporary residence.

The Arkansas Democratic State convention last week re-nominated Gov Eagle and declared itself for Cleveland.

Worth Dickerson Democratic nominee, has been elected to Congress from Kentucky, to succeed Mr Carlisle.

Men Who Build up Towns.

Greensboro Patriot.

As has always been it is yet, men who build up towns and instill life and prosperity in localities are those who are willing to take some risk in developing the resources that lie around them. Progress is the watchword and those who fail to realize its full import are going to get left just so sure as there is any display of energy elsewhere, and there is in the greatest abundance. We doubt if there is today a State in the Union making greater advancement than North Carolina. What is the cause? Simply public spirit. Who is it displaying this public spirit? Each man has his share, but in the main it must be the business men, those who have capital to take the lead. If they sit back their money in bonds or place a dollar only where they see another in sight, indirectly they are destroying their own life blood. Even with an advanced position we cannot afford to be satisfied, for we must either go forward or backward. Just so true as is this statement with individuals, so true it is with towns and cities.

Why is it that some places with scarcely no natural advantage are outstripping others more blessed? Because they have men of tact, energy and push who are willing to see some one else thrive besides themselves. They have men who endeavor to open up new business instead of dividing that of their neighbor. We have as intelligent men in Greensboro as there are in any portion of the State and they are not without business capacity and energy but the question is have they sufficiently realized the great importance of concentrating their strength in looking to the good and welfare of the public. If you love your home you will look to its interests in being active towards the establishment of industries that enhance the value of property, encourage labor, and puts money in circulation.

HOUSEKEEPERS can prove by a single trial that these Extracts are the cheapest; they are true to their names, full measure, and highly concentrated.
