LARGEST CITY CIRCULATION.

In and Around the City.

Rain needed.
Watermelons by the thousand.
Ho, for Winston next Tuesday.
Cotton was quoted today at 11½ to 11¼. Market steady.
Cool enough last night to sleep under blankets.
Another hot wave will be here about Sunday, so the knowing ones say.
Fix up for the Winston excursion next Tuesday. It will be a grand occasion.

McKee Encampment, No 15, holds its regular session tonight at 8:30 o'clock. Installation of officers and other important business. Every member requested to be present.

In answer to a correspondent who desires to know if the statue on the court house is "Apollo?" we answer no: it is "Appellous." We are free to confess that the unlearned frequently allude to it as an Apolo gy.

Let it be remembered that the excursion to Winston will leave here at 6:28 sharp, and that it will be one of the most enjoyable events of the kind that has ever been gotten up here. Everything has been arranged for a splendid time.

The West End Hotel at Winston will be one of the very handsomest buildings of the kind in the South and will be ready for summer visitors in 1891. Prof Ludlow is now plotting the lands, and applications for lots are coming in daily.

Messrs. Barbee & Pope have added a neat soda fountain to their business where they will serve you with the best iced summer drinks such as limeade, milk, shakes, etc., etc. They are delicious. Call on them during the hot days.

Preaching.

By appointment, Elder D. N. Gore, will preach in the Primitive Baptist Meeting House, in this city, Sunday July 13, at 11 a. m. Public is cordially invited to attend and hear him

Fire.

An alarm was sounded today between the hours of 12 and 1 o'clock from box 26 and was caused from the house of Mr. Zack T. Broughton, on East Hargett street, taking fire. The department responded with their usual promptness and the flames were subdued with but little damage. We did not learn the origin of the fire.

Personal Mention.

Mr. R. H. Weathers is very sick at his home on East Hargett street.

We have received a copy of the Denyer (Col) Republican of date, July 5th, which gives an interesting account of the laying of the cornerstone of the new State Capitol by the Grand Lodge of Masons of Colorado. We notice that our fellow citizen, Dr. Eugene Grissom was present and officiated as Grand Chaplain. There was a tremendous gathering and the proceedings were of the most interesting character.

Dr. R. H. Lewis, is in Wilmington. Miss Mabel Hale left the city today to visit friends in Goldsboro.

Prof. W. J. Ferrell, of the Wakefield Academy, is in the city stopping with his brother, Mr. A. L. Ferrell on East Hargett street.

Hot and Cold.

Mr. Boston—(Miss Charlotte) "Can I umbrate you?"

Miss C.—No sir! I never allow gentlemen to embrace me on the street. I'll speak to brother!

Scene—Greensboro.

Pulque is the Spaniard's whisky.

Card of Thanks.

Editor EVENING VISITOR.

SIR—I desire to return many thanks to some unknown party who at a very late hour last night visited my residence and gave me such a grand and most excellent serenade. I would assure them it was highly appreciated and greatly enjoyed by myself and family. Respectfully,
W. N. SNELLING.

Death of Calvin H. Weathers, Esq.

It is with the deepest regret, that we announce the death of this well known and highly esteemed citizen which took place at his residence, No 324, South Blount street, this morning at 7:30 o'clock, aged 65 years.

Mr Weathers had been a great sufferer from disease for more than three years, and bore his troubles with all the resignation and fortitude of a consistent Christian. For a long time he has been a most devoted member of New Bethel Baptist Church and was noted for his many virtues in all the different spheres of life. Before the war he was engaged in business in Raleigh and was a most prominent merchant. He has since been continuously engaged in mercantile pursuits here, and classed among our most worthy and reliable tradesmen. He leaves a widow and seven children to mourn their great and inseparable loss with whom in common with our entire community, we most deeply sympathize.

The funeral services will take place from the Baptist Tabernacle Church tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. The remains will be interred in Oakwood Cemetery.

A Beautiful and Flourishing Farm.

Yesterday afternoon G. F. Kennedy, Esq., superintendent of Mrs. Julia Fisher's farm, invited us to ride out to the farm, which is located one mile east of the city. We accepted the invitation, and do not remember enjoying any ride so much in a great while. Mr. Kennedy is a most agreeable companion and noble hearted gentleman, and understands his business well. He has been in charge of the farm for eight years. He told us he had never bought any forage or feed of any kind for the farm during the eight years he had charge; that some years had been almost failures with farmers generally, but that he had made from ½ to 1 bag of cotton to the acre every year. It was a grand sight yesterday as we rode through the vast cotton and corn fields. He has this year one hundred acres in cotton and it will average now two feet high and is literally loaded with squares and bolls.

Mr Kennedy confidently expects to make 100 bales on the 100 acres, and we are fully satisfied he will do so if not more than that, if seasons continue propitious. He has 45 acres in corn which is unusually fine, all splendid and should we have rain in a few days he will most assuredly make 25 bushels to the acre. He had some fifty acres in oats, but they were almost a failure. Since harvesting the oats the land has been sown in peas which will be a great improvement to the land. Take the farm altogether this year it bids fair to be a great success. All the crops are clean and in the best condition. It is one of the best managed and finest farms in this vicinity and is proof that Mr. Kennedy understands well the business he loves so well—the grandest of all callings—farming.

Our Cotton Factory--A Rousing Meeting of the Stockholders.

A large meeting of the stockholders of the new cotton factory took place last night at the Mayor's office. Mr. C. B. Edwards was called to the chair. It was found that a majority of stock was represented in person and by proxy.

Mr Latta reported a resolution recommending that $50,000 of bonds, bearing 6 per cent interest be placed upon the market for the purpose of raising additional funds with which to carry on operations of the factory. Mr. Latta stated that, up to this time, $84,000 of the capital stock had been paid in, and that it is estimated it will cost $120,000 to get ready for work, including 6,193 spindles.

Mr Paul C Cameron favored assessing the stockholders to raise additional money. If the stockholders owned railroad or bank stock let them sell it and take stock in the cotton mill. He had never lost money on cotton mills, but he had lost money on banks. Of all the cows he had an interest in he had found that cotton mills gave more milk and butter than anything else. If he were asked for advice he would say to increase the stock and raise the money.

After some further discussion the resolution was adopted.

Mr. Cameron, after the adoption of the resolution, stated that he felt thoroughly confident of the ability of the board to manage every question of finance or economy that might come before it to the satisfaction of all. The meeting then adjourned.

Nuts for Advertisers to Crack.

The man who does not find advertising profitable generally finds business unprofitable.

A business may be likened to an arch; if capital and labor represent the pillars, then advertising is the key stone without which the structure must crumble.

Was newspaper advertising a success with you last year. If not, why not? It pays others, it ought to pay you, and will if wisely done.—Ayer's Newspaper Manual.

Let your advertisement, in all cases exactly correspond with what you really propose to sell. Be prepared to show the customer who inquires the identical goods, and let price and terms always tally with your announcements.

Half the battle in advertising is in knowing what to say and how to say it. Of all things don't try to say too much in one advertisement. Remember that "Brevity is the soul of wit." If you've a thing to sell, name it, with the price, briefly. If you want anything, waste no words in needless explanation.

For Congress.

I take this method to announce to the people generally that I am an independent Democratic Republican candidate for Congress. If elected, will guarantee to do as little harm (by doing nothing) as any man you could find in this district. Don't know what district it is, but I mean the one that Raleigh is in. I know just as much about politics as anybody I know of and have a big influence in some places. I feel sure that if all the people do their duty I shall be elected and the country will once more be safe. I will do all I can for those that vote for me after I am elected, but woe to those fellows that go back on me. I think all ought to go for me and especially the merchants, for if I am elected I will pass laws to keep that fellow Swindell from selling goods so much cheaper than others; but if I fail to get elected there is no help for you, and he will go right on selling his goods for about the same as you other fellows have to pay for yours. Vote for me and we will down Swindell. Vote for the other fellow and Swindell will down you all,
