LARGEST CITY CIRCULATION.

In and Around the City.

Another heavy rain.

Grapes getting plentiful.

Press Convention next week.

The watermelon season is getting at its height.

And now another tobacco factory is talked of for Raleigh.

It is reported that the Baptist Church, at Wake Forest College, has extended a call to Rev. W. R. Gwaltney, of Greensboro.

Owing to the death of his brother, Mr. Geo. B. Foster, in Alamance county, Rev. J. L. Foster cannot be present to preach at the Christian church tomorrow.

James C. Birdsong, Esq., State Librarian, presented Hon. John C. Scarborough, Commissioner Bureau Labor Statistics a set of Colonial Records, Vols. I to VI. This is a most valuable work and is highly appreciated by Mr. Scarborough.

S. C. Y. R. F. U. club met at the residence of Mr. J. W. Cole last evening and had a delightful time. Many thanks to Mrs. Cole for the splendid ice cream supper with which she treated the club and its visitors.

The list takers for Raleigh township, will list your property if you call on them at once. If you fail to do so, you will be returned unlisted—which means trouble and cost for you. A word to the wise, &c.

The sermon of Rev. Dr. J. J. Hall, tomorrow night, at the Raleigh Baptist Tabernacle church, will be devoted to the working classes and a large attendance is most earnestly solicited. It will no doubt be an occasion of great interest. Let there be a large crowd present.

Our friend "Dave" Rosenthal is offering some most astonishing bargains at his supreme sale. There is no place in Raleigh or elsewhere in the State where a person in need of clothing, can be better accommodated at as low prices, as at this famous emporium. "Dave" never lets his stock get old, because he offers his goods at such low prices there is always a large run of custom. Strangers visiting the city should call and see him. Home folks know about it. Remember the place, R. B. Andrews' old stand.

A Card.

Rev. J. J. Hall and wife take this opportunity of thanking their many friends for the beautiful time piece, and other presents as an appreciative remembrance of their wedding anniversary.

Died.

At the home of his father, in Alamance county, last night, at 11 o'clock, Mr. George B. Foster, brother, of Rev. J. L. Foster, pastor of the Christian Church, of this city. He had been ill for three weeks of typhoid fever, and was 20 years old. Mr. Foster was an officer in the Burlington Light Infantry, which company will attend the funeral tomorrow at Union Christian Church.

Alliance Resolutions.

The Farmers' Alliance of Guilford county recently passed the following resolutions:

That we favor and recommend that our present public school tax be doubled.

That some appropriation should be made by the State for the higher education of our daughters.

That we request our State Alliance to take proper steps towards bringing this matter favorably before our next General Assembly.

Encouraging.

Unprecedented corn crops all over the country, is the pleasant topic of conversation among the farming community, and a source of joy to us of the city, who have our bread to buy. One gentleman living twenty miles a little west of south from Raleigh, declared that he had a field of several acres, with the corn so rank and tall and with the ears of such dimensions as to hang down; that to get into its midst was a virtual withdrawal from the rays of the sun, and the whole appearance was that of a dense, black cloud over your head; and he further averred that the whip-poor-wills deduced thereby, sang without intermission their plaintive complaints of being continually whipped. The squire, on hearing this, hung his head and ejaculated, "the Lord be praised."

The Press Association

Next week there will be a lively time, in Durham, among the editors of the State who will meet in that city. On Friday afternoon the corps will be the guests of Mr. Julian S. Carr, of the Commercial Club, and will visit the Bennett place, where the surrender of Johnston to Sherman took place. There a splendid barbecue will be served, and it is reported that a special train from Lynchburg will bring over a hundred and fifty business men to participate in the festivities. On Saturday morning the corner stone of the new cotton factory will be laid, and on the noon train of that day, the Association will leave for Morehead where three days will be spent in pleasure. We wish all who may attend, a most delightful time.

Terrible Fire.

Yesterday morning the Western Union Telegraph Company's building in Broadway, New York, was destroyed by fire from the 5th to the 7th story. There was a tremendous panic many of the employees barely escaping from the flames. The fire rendered every Western Union wire on Manhattan Island useless. The loss is estimated at $15,000, with no insurance. In the building are the private offices of Gay Gould and others. The fire originated from the switch board catching on fire. Valuable records and papers running back as far as 1845 were destroyed. The business of the company will be transferred as soon as possible to temporary quarters, and, as little delay as possible will be caused.

Personal Mention.

Mrs. J. M. Broughton who has been quite sick at Apex, we are glad to say is so much improved as to be able to return home this morning with her husband, who went up Thursday evening to attend her bedside.

Goldsboro Argus: Miss Maud Marshall, of Raleigh, who has quite a number of admiring friends in this city, spent several hours here yesterday the guest of Miss Louie Miller, en route for home from Morehead.

Rev. A. D. Hunter was in the city today; he has been on a visit with his wife and little daughter to Asheville; they returned yesterday evening, Mrs. Hunter and little daughter stopping at Cary where they will spend several weeks. The Rev. Mr. Hunter expects to return to Greenville next week where he has charge of the Baptist Church as pastor. He reports much progress in his work there and is much pleased with results. Good crops abound throughout that section of the State.

A French Chemist has discovered a liquid explosive which can be used in guns, and is said to be more powerful than powder. It is confined in a steel chamber and each time the trigger is pulled a drop falls into the breach behind the bullet. The contact with the air causes the explosion which does the work, and propels the bullet with terrible force, and with neither noise or smoke. It may be used also for artillery.

"There is Fame."

Mrs. Ros: in Murray's Magazine, My father and mother often went to the Sunday breakfasts given by Mr. Rogers at his house in St. James' Place, and he always requested that his "baby-love," as he called me, brought later for dessert. A great treat it was, for the old poet kept a bunch of grapes in the sideboard, which I ate, perched on a chair and two sofa cushions by his side. I wish I could recollect the talk that charmed me, young as I was, so much that the highest praise I could think of for a grand Twelfth-night party at Baroness Lionel de Rothschild's was, "it is almost as nice as Mr. Rogers' breakfasts." The conversation one morning turned on fame, and Mr. Rogers related how he was once dining with Byron and Moore at Pope's villa at Twickenham when the same subject was discussed. Singing was heard in the distance, and presently a boat full of people floated past. They were singing "Love's Young Dream." Byron put his hand on Moore's shoulder, saying, "There, that is fame."

Saved by a Network of Wires.

While attempting to close a window John Soulen, a 15 year old boy employed in the Northwestern Collection company's offices, in Milwaukee, fell from the fifth story of the new insurance building. In falling he caught on the network of telegraph wires about twenty feet below the window, where he hung suspended in full view of hundreds of people on the street. The boy held on in suspense while the excited crowd below tried to devise some means for his rescue. Finally a fire truck company was sent for, but before its arrival the boy was seized by the legs and pulled into a window below that from which he fell. The boy will remember the experience throughout his life, as had it not been for the wires he would have been dashed to death on the pavement 100 feet below. As it was he escaped uninjured. —Cor. Chicago Tribune.

Allen G. Thurman, that great and good old Roman, whiles his time away frolicking with his grandchildren, of whom he is very fond. Happy is the man who in the sunset of life can smile on the world, and forget its cares in romping with the little ones.

Wilmington Star: Wilmington was in a state of feverish excitement yesterday over the horrible murder of Mr. Falls. The Sheriff of the county, now junketing in Maine, was the subject of general condemnation.

Norris & Carter.

No lady should fail to call and examine the beautiful silk drapery nets now being offered at Norris & Carter's for 40 cents and $1 per yard. The former price of these nets were 90 cts. $2 per yard. These are the greatest bargains ever offered in silk nets, comprising all the new evening shades. The finest line of torchon Smyrna, medeci and fancy laces to be found in the city, and are being offered at less than half price. Those needing any of the above goods will do well to examine this stock before purchasing as they must be sold within the next few weeks. 40 to 50 per cent saved on all goods bought at NORRIS & CARTER'S.

W. H. & R. S. Tucker & Co.

Continuance of our mid-summer July sales, and we offer special values throughout every department.

We wish particularly to interest the gentlemen today in the way of light summer under clothing for extremely hot weather. We offer the balance of our lines in gent's normal ribbed shirts and pants to match at $1.25 a suit, real Lisle thread shirts in ribbed and plain at $1.00 each, genuine India gauze shirts at 50 cents each. Then in the way of Neglige shirts. We have only a few of those Madras shirts left. So go the balance of the line at prices to close them out. Be sure to see them.

The Crop Prospect is Better

this year than it has been in many; if there is no disaster, hereafter there will be more bales of cotton handled in Raleigh than in several years and as a natural consequence the fall trade will be enormous. We suppose there will be more goods brought to Raleigh this fall than there was in the two last years. Speaking for the Big Racket Store, we intend to put in a much larger stock in all lines than we have ever had and we intend to sell them cheap. We would like to put in a hundred and fifty thousand dollar stock, but our store not being large enough to accommodate this size stock we shall have to be content with an eighty thousand dollar stock and buy often. We need every foot of space we can possibly get and the summer goods we have on hand must go. We need the room they occupy and must have it. We will sell you all white goods, lace nets, flouncings, in fact all summer fabrics regardless of price. We do not make this announcement as an advertisement for gain, but as an inducement that will help us to clear our store as nearly as possible of all summer goods, at

SWINDELL'S.

A Sensible Girl.

"You have asked me pointedly if I can marry you, and I have answered you pointedly that I can. I can marry a man who makes love to a different girl every month; I can marry a man whose main occupation seems to be to join in any gauntlet in front of churches and theatres, and comment audibly on the people who are compelled to pass through it; I can marry a man whose only means of support is an aged father; I can marry a man who boasts that any girl can be won with the help of a good tailor and an expert tongue; I can marry such a man, but I W-O-N-T!"
