LARGEST CITY CIRCULATION.

In and Around the City.

Plenty of rain.

The political agony is over.

Gov. Fowle has gone to Wrightsville as commander in chief ex-officio.

The name of the Bennett Seminary, colored, at Greensboro has been changed to Bennett College.

Walter R. Womble, Esq., of the 2d ward, of this city is spoken of as a candidate for the Legislature. Mr. Womble is a most excellent man, and would make a most excellent representative.

Walter Bryan, a colored boy, was sent to jail yesterday in default of a bond of $100, for assault with deadly weapon. The trial took place before Justice Whitaker.

The latest addition to the picture gallery of the State Library is Col. H. K. Burgwyn, who, as Colonel of the 26th regiment North Carolina troops was killed at Gettysburg July 1st, 1863.

The art gallery of the State Library presents great attraction. No stranger visiting Raleigh should leave without seeing it. Librarian Bird song will take great pleasure in giving a cordial welcome to all who call on him.

Quite a large number of the Congressional convention delegates stopped over in the city last night. They left for their homes in the different counties today. The next convention of importance is the Democratic State Convention, which meets in this city on Wednesday, August 20th, to nominate a chief justice and associate justices of the Supreme court.

There is much talk on the streets, in regard to placing Capt. C. N. Allen, of Auburn, upon the Legislative ticket for this county. We know Capt. Allen well, and know him to be a most excellent and worthy gentleman, and if he can be induced to accept a position upon the Legislative ticket, that he would make a representative that the good people of Wake county would be proud of.

"Would you know why I like John better than Joe?" she blushing remarked. Well, Joe sent me a whole 10 pound basket of Ives and Concord grapes, enough for the whole family. Joe always was good on substantial, but those grapes set my teeth on edge, like a green persimmon, and my mouth never got straight till I received from John a 5 pound basket of those deliciously flavored grapes from Whiting Bros and I tell you they were like sipping the nectar of paradise.

Died.

Suddenly of apoplexy, this morning, at his home near Cary, Mr. Atlas B. Yates, in his 50th year. In the death of Mr. Yates the community loses a most valued and respected citizen and Christian gentleman.

The Third District.

Benjamin F. Grady, who was yesterday nominated for Congress in the third district, is and has been the Superintendent of Public Instruction in his county. He has been in that office since the system has been organized. Mr. Grady is a Presbyterian and a gentleman of fine Christian character. He is shrewd and talented, although somewhat eccentric at times. He will be able to hold his own with any man in the State. He is thoroughly conversant with the political issues of the present day. He is a member of the Farmers' Alliance, and while he was a dark horse hitched in the woods to gain the proper trim, he is now at the front in our judgment to remain there until the heat of battle entitles him to fill his position in the councils of the nation.

Convention of the Prohibition Party.

All Prohibition Party voters are requested to meet in their respective townships, on Saturday, August 16th, to elect delegates to the county convention of the Prohibition party, which will meet in Raleigh, Saturday, August 23rd, for the purpose of nominating candidates for the various county offices.

The Great Alliance Rally.

Mr. E. C. Beddingfield, Secretary of the State Farmers' Alliance attended the grand rally of the Farmers' Alliance at Greensboro. He declares the speech of Col. L. L. Polk, on that occasion, to have been a grand effort. He went on to show that all capital was eager for investment and that all corporations were flourishing. That Agriculture and labor were in a more depressed condition than ever before and that the cause existed in the rotten financial system of this country. He said that in his western tour he met with hundreds of the members of the Grand Army of the Republic and he could declare that sectional feeling was confined entirely to the politicians of that section. Col. Polk, in his address, made no unkind allusions to any person and abounded throughout in views of the most conservative character. The speech was delivered before dinner and occupied two hours in its delivery. Col. Polk arrived in Raleigh today, and is in the best of health and spirits.

In the afternoon Prof. W. F. Massey made a brief but most excellent address in behalf of the Agricultural and Mechanical College. He paid a glowing tribute to Col. Polk, alluding to his efforts in the direction of promoting the farming interests through the Farmers' Alliance.

Prof. Massey was followed by N. A. Denning, one of the editors of the National Economist, who delivered a most entertaining address of about an hour on the subject of finance. Mr. Denning is a most forcible speaker and is perhaps one of the best informed gentlemen on the subject of finance in this country.

There was a tremendous crowd in attendance and, the rally was in all respects a great success.

Annual Report.

The annual report of Rev. W. G. Clements, county superintendent of public instruction is one of unusual interest.

The report shows that during the eighty one first grade certificates were issued, forty four second grade, and thirty nine third grade. One hundred and sixty applicants failed to pass the required examination one hundred and fifty-seven of whom were colored.

One hundred and forty three public schools were taught in the county during the year—seventy white and seventy three colored.

The number of white children in attendance was 4,385; of colored children, 4,375.

The average length of the school terms for the whites in the county was fourteen weeks; of colored race, seventeen weeks. The school terms for both races in the city of Raleigh was thirty two weeks.

There are one hundred and forty four school houses in the county—eleven of them being the primitive log cabins.

The value of the school property of the whites is $28,985; of the colored people, $24,120.

The number of white children of school age in the county is 8,245, of colored children, 8,428.

In concluding this report the superintendent says:

"We cannot hope for that high degree of excellence in the public schools desired, by all true educators, as long as the money power is so weak."

A Skillful Operation.

On yesterday, Dr. P. E. Hines assisted by Dr. George Renn, with best appliances, in skillful and tender hands, performed a very successful and happy operation on the knee of little Edward, second son of Captain and Mrs. D. G. Conn. taking from knee and knee joint a quantity of pus, giving almost immediate relief to the little sufferer.

Personal Mention.

Gov. Fowle left yesterday evening to spend a few days at Wrightsville. Mr. M. J. Rowe, sheriff of Catawba county brought down five convicts to the penitentiary today.

Miss Mattie Gray, the beautiful and accomplished belle of Winston, N. C., is visiting the family of Mills Brown, Esq., South Wilmington street.

Misses Bertha and Gertrude Pierce left today for Hillsboro, accompanied by Mrs. Pierce, where they will spend a few weeks visiting friends.

To The Point.

The North Carolina Intelligencer of this week has the following:

There are many rumors afloat just now relative to the extension of the Atlantic Coast Line to Raleigh. There is a report that an agreement exists between the Seaboard Air Line and A. C. L., to the effect that the latter shall not extend its line to this city, and this is supposed to be the secret of its coming almost to our gates. To say the least, we need the road. It is well known that Raleigh, while unparalleled perhaps by any city in the State in many commercial interests of worth and merit, is sadly behind in this one particular, and the consideration of no one enterprise was ever more timely. We want the Coast Line, and the question is how shall we get it? It is already built to Springhope, within a few miles of Raleigh. Now if this road can not consistently come to Raleigh, what can hinder Raleigh from connecting with it at Springhope? The Raleigh Board of Trade might consider the matter at once. Activity now may result in many advantages to the city.

Tabernacle Notes

SECOND DAY.

There are more preachers than usual for the second day.

This is the 21st annual meeting, R. H. Whitaker, D. D., is presiding.

Butt's three great panoramas are here, and exhibited each night to large audiences. The religious character of these meetings makes them quite appropriate to be shown at the Tabernacle meeting.

Arthur L. Butt is leading a splendid choir of evangelistic singers. The songs are well selected and thrilling.

We look for still larger crowds and many more speakers as the meeting advances.

The press is cleverly represented. The new officers will be elected on Friday.

LEVI BRANSON, Sec'y.

Eloped From High Point.

Greensboro Patriot.

The Charlotte News of yesterday, says that last Saturday afternoon a man, woman and child registered at one of the Charlotte hotels as "J. A. Kirkman, wife and child, High Point, N. C." When Kirkman called to settle Monday he lacked 20 cents of having enough to pay his bill, and the hotel kept his trunk. He went off with the woman and child and found a boarding house. Mr. Taylor, of High Point, arrived here. He announced that "Mrs. Kirkman" was his wife and had run off with the man. After hunting about for a time he found his wife and child at a boarding house Kirkman had skipped. Taylor went to the hotel, redeemed the trunk, and with his wife and child went to the depot to wait for the evening train to take them back to High Point. The woman was very humble and sorrowful.

Trade on a Boom.

Trade is already on a boom with us; in fact we have not had a dull trade at any time this season. Recently we have had an especially good trade on shoes. We got in yesterday a big lot of new shoes, about 150 doz. We had sold a big bill from these to a live wide awake merchant before we got them in the house. It is always so with us, when any one looks at our goods and prices that has any judgment as to value, we never fail to sell them. Prices will tell; if you will show a man that you are protecting his interest and not trying to extortion on him, the majority will appreciate it. One line of the shoes we sold the gentleman yesterday, was a good solid shoe that he told us he had looked all over town for, and in every other place they had charged him just 15c per pair more than we sold them for. We do not only sell all styles of shoes for less than others do, but you will find it so in clothing, dress goods, hats, notions, domestics, jewelry, etc, etc.; you may always be sure that you are getting the lowest prices to be found at
