J. N. Holding—Sale of Land.

In and Around the City.

Fall creeping on.

The health of the city is unusually good.

Meeting of the Chamber of Commerce tonight.

See notice of sale of land by J. N. Holding, trustee.

Let us hear more talk about the coming State fair.

One convict from Madison county, was added to the Penitentiary force yesterday evening.

Quite a large number of country people were in the city today looking bright and cheerful and talking politics.

We have been shown the first open cotton boll we have seen this season. It was pulled from the farm of Mr. M. A. Parker, in rear of the Peace Institute.

Mr. J. P. Gulley has an office at 307 Wilmington street in the rear part of the store occupied by Mr. L. R. Wyatt, where he will be glad to see all his friends.

The mammoth Richmond excursion will leave here tomorrow, Wednesday morning at 7:30 o'clock. Tickets are on sale at W. B. Mann's, J. R. Ferrall's and at Thos. Taylor's on Wilmington street for $2.50. Secure your tickets so that you may avoid the rush.

Now is the time to be thinking about your advertisements for the coming fall trade. Our latch strings are easily pulled, and the VISITOR is prepared to offer superior inducements to our business men. Come and talk with us about it. It will be of mutual benefit.

Died.

At the residence of Mrs. Nannie B. Crow, on Halifax street, last night at 10:30 o'clock, Mrs. Nannie Hay, wife of Walter D. Hay, and daughter of Capt. Jno. B. Burwell, in the 37th year of her age. The funeral services will be held from the First Presbyterian Church Wednesday morning at ten o'clock.

This afternoon, about 1 o'clock, at the residence of G. M. Spence, Esq., South Person street, Mrs. King, wife of Solomon King, Esq., and mother of Mrs. E. H. Bradley, Mrs. G. M. Spence, W. J. King, of Savage, S. C., Mrs. John L. Breckenridge, of Wilmington, N. C., and Andrew J. King, of this city, all of whom were at her bedside at the time of her death. Mrs. King was a most excellent Christian lady; was, and had been for many years a consistent member of the Baptist Church. We tender to the family our deepest sympathies in this hour of sorrow.

The funeral services will be held at the residence of Mr. G. M. Spence tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock; relatives and friends invited. After the funeral services at the residence the remains will be taken on the 4:45 o'clock train to Ephesus Church, where the interment will be made.

A Centennarian.

The Chatham Record says: There is an old man named Archie Andrews living near the dividing line between Chatham and Orange counties, who will be 103 years old next February. He married when only 17 years old and he and his wife lived together for 80 years, she having died 3 or 4 years ago. He has a son now living who is 83 years old, and another who is 80 years old. Mr. Andrews' health is good, and he has the prospect of living several years longer. Now, trot out your old men!

Our Chamber of Commerce.

There will be a meeting of this organization at the Mayor's office tonight at which it is expected the most important matters will be presented for consideration. Reports for the past year will be made, and plans for future operations will be mapped out. It is earnestly requested that a full attendance shall be on hand. It is expected that President Thompson will lay before the Chamber some views of the utmost importance, requiring most earnest consideration and prompt action. That much has been accomplished by the organization is undeniable, but a great deal yet remains to be done, and this cannot be effected without the members take an interest in the work. The public are looking on with a great deal of anxiety for something that will give us a push in the way of progress. Raleigh, in some respects is lagging behind, and it will require energy to place us on a level of many of the go-ahead communities of the State. Among other matters, we hope the Chamber, tonight will make some effort to enquire into the delay about the building of our new depot and that they will inaugurate some means to find out the hitch in the matter of the extension of the Albemarle and Raleigh Railroad. These are two of the many questions that directly concern our people now and may be considered of vital importance.

We hope we may be pardoned for the reminder, that the appointment of committees, and paper resolves amount to "little or nothing, unless there should be action. The custom of appointing committees to look after certain matters, and then let them slumber without even a report, is something like child's play. The people like prompt action, as the only means of securing success. Let there be a large attendance tonight, and let there be such an exhibit of energy and determination as will encourage us to expect the speedy accomplishment of schemes for our advancement.

We hope we will not be charged with fault finding, because, the Chamber of Commerce has undoubtedly been a great lever for good in our midst. It is evident, however, that there has been too much lethargy of late in its meetings. Let the meeting tonight show a spirit of determination that will awaken encouragement.

Personal Mention.

Misses Mittie and Alma Ellis are visiting friends and relatives in Johnston.

Miss Agnes Doub, a beautiful and accomplished young lady from Greensboro, is visiting Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Bobbitt.

Mr. N. B. Broughton will lead the services at the Union Mission tonight.

Mr. Earnest Martin is at Blowing Rock, where he will spend several weeks in recreation and pleasure.

C. M. Weathers, Esq., is in the city visiting his parents, at No 11, Peace street. After spending some days here, he will leave for a visit to New York and other Northern cities.

Mr. William Easdale, Secretary to Maj. Winder left this morning for New York and other Northern cities.

Prof. W. J. Ferrell, one of the principals of Wakefield High School, is in the city. He is much encouraged with the prospect of his school at the opening of the fall term.

Messrs Julius Broadwell and Kirkman Creech, both of Beulah township, Johnston county, spent last night at the Hon. John C. Scarborough's. Young Mr. Creech today had a very delicate operation performed on one of his eyes, by Drs. Lewis & Battle. We are glad to say the operation was successful and satisfactory.

No matter who makes the slate, the people hold the sponge.

A meeting of Manteo Lodge, No. 8, tonight at 8 o'clock. Work in second degree. Prompt attendance desired.

Burned.

Yesterday morning at 5 o'clock the Hotel Fountain, at Winston, was destroyed by fire. Some of the guests lost their baggage, but most of the contents of the building was saved. The loss, over insurance will possibly exceed $5,000.

Our Crops.

An exchange says: It can be asserted, without being gainsaid, that the present crops were produced at less cost than ever before. It is true that the seasons have been unusually favorable, which lessens the expense account very much, but beyond that the farmers have practiced economy as never before, and as a general thing they have only bought what they were compelled to have.

Rare Pigeons.

Mr. C. O. Ball, at No. 11 East Hargett street, one of Raleigh's most promising young merchants, has quite a number of pigeons of different species. Among them the beautiful Pouters, Fan Tails, Carriers and Ruffle Necks. Should there be a pigeon show, as suggested by some one the other day, for the benefit of the Soldiers' Home. Mr. Ball says he will take great pleasure in loaning his pigeons to the association for that purpose. Let us press the matter and have the show at an early day.

How Paradise is Really Lost.

London Telegraph.
"Where was the Garden of Eden?" was one of the interesting questions on which Mr. Hormuzd Rassam discoursed before the Victoria Philosophical Institute, Sir G. G. Stokes, M. P., in the chair. Mr. Rassam has been recently excavating Babylonian and Assyrian sites, but he has not found the Eden site, and he showed how utterly impossible it was to fix the locale in a land where volcanic action and physical alterations had in many places changed the courses of the rivers in past ages. In this sense it is really "Paradise Lost."

A Plucky Girl.

Wilmington Messenger.
A gentleman from Pender county, who was in the city yesterday, informs us that on last Monday afternoon a negro called at the residence of Mr. William Walton, in Pender, and knocked at the back door. Mr. Walton's twelve year old daughter was the only person at home and she told the man at the door to go around to the front door. He then went to the front door and knocked three times when she asked him who he was, at the same time slightly opening the door. As soon as the door opened the rascal shoved his arm through and caught the young lady but she happened to be in reach of a pistol and immediately seized it to protect herself. The man thereupon loosened his hold upon her and fled, but she fired at him and thinks she struck him in the hand or arm, as he ran off shaking his hand.

The Cracker Trust is rapidly assuming such gigantic proportions that it seems unlikely that either it or its products will ever be found in the soup.

The cholera shows no signs of abatement at Jeddah. There are 170 cases of the worst type of the disease in that city. The authorities have forbidden pilgrims who have been to Mecca to embark at Jeddah.

Some of the Most Gratifying Remarks our Customers are Making About our Wonderful low Priced Carpet Sale.

"Your prices are truly low, I believe them to be at least 25 per cent. lower than any other house in the city ever offered."

Another says: "I have attended many reduced priced sales of carpets and other things, but I have never yet seen so noticeable and decided a reduction in prices at any of them. Your prices cannot be duplicated."

Another says: "I have lived in Raleigh thirty-two years and I have bought many carpets, but I have never yet seen any thing that could nearly approach your prices for the same quality of goods. If you continue to sell your carpets at these prices it will be only a short time when you will do the entire carpet trade of the city, your prices are the cheapest I ever saw."

We have had many other highly appreciated things said he to us about this sale, but we simply give the few noticed above to show how our prices are taking like wild fire on carpets at SWINDELL'S.

The house, barn, outbuildings, harvested crops, stock and farming tools owned by Joel DeWolf were burned at West Deerfield, Mass., yesterday morning. Loss, $7,500, insurance, $5,900.

Congressman Mutchler was yesterday, at his own request excused from further service on the committee of coinage, weights and measures and Mr. Vaux was appointed to fill the vacancy.

Troops have been sent to guard all points on the Red Sea, where persons from Arabia are likely to land. Cruisers assist in maintaining the cordon. The mortality at Jeddah continues about 100 daily.

"You might just as well set a hen on China eggs and expect to hatch a brood of chickens as to do successful business without advertising," is the way the Monson (Mass.) Mirror states a more or less obvious truth.

CARPETS,
CARPETS,
CARPETS.

Many of our purchases for fall have already been opened, and we can now show a very full assortment of all grades of carpeting.

We do not care how small a quantity of carpeting one needs, or at what price, we have got the stock, and the prices are right. When one thinks of buying a carpet, all we ask is for them to come and see what we are showing and with the low prices which we offer them at, will make the matter of a selection an easy one.

We can show any grade that has ever been offered for sale in Raleigh.

We can begin with the cheapest cotton carpets, and go right along up, with every grade to the best Moquette. Every piece that we are telling you of, is not right new, and there are some bargains in the lot that are worth considering.

We are making it particularly interesting for those who will buy before September 1st.
