McKimmon, Moseley & McGee—Fall Goods.

In and Around the City.

A little cooler.
We are betting on the married men.
Cotton commencing to come in quite freely.
The fair grounds will soon present a bustling appearance.
A considerable crowd left on the excursion to Littleton this morning.
The school girls will soon be with us again.
Several of our merchants will leave for the Northern cities next Monday to purchase fall goods.
Rev. O. L. Stringfield will preach at Third Baptist Church tomorrow at 11 a. m. and at 8 p. m. All invited to attend both services.

The ladies of Edenton Street Methodist Church will give a lawn party in the Sunday school yard next Tuesday evening, August 26th. A hearty welcome awaits all friends.

Arrangements, it is said, will soon be effected looking to a change of the locomotives on the Seaboard system so that coal instead of wood will be used.

The colored State Alliance is in session in the Adams Hall, this city, with quite a large attendance. We learn that all the high officers are filled with white men who are paid good salaries.

Official announcements have just been made giving Fayetteville 4,320 and Wilmington 20,008 inhabitants. How is it that nothing official is made public concerning Raleigh. It would seem that the capital of the State ought not to be snubbed.

Rev. Dr. L. L. Nash, returned to the city, this morning, from Youngsville, where he has been all the week in a revival meeting. The meeting is one of unusual power. The entire community is thoroughly aroused, and a large number of conversions to God, and a general revival of all the churches in the community has been the result up to date. The meeting will continue next week, as the interest is deep and widespread. Dr. Nash will fill his pulpit tomorrow as usual.

In our comments yesterday afternoon on the rendition of the programme given by the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor at the Baptist Tabernacle, on Thursday night, the vocal duet rendered by Miss Effie Broughton and Miss Genevieve Jordan was inadvertently omitted. These young ladies won much admiration for the efficiency with which they rendered the part assigned them adding to a great degree to the enjoyment of the occasion.

One of our young bachelor merchants, more prominent in business than society circles, and who is extremely diffident in the presence of lady friends, met with an experience that seems to have completely cured bashfulness. Several evenings ago he ventured to make his first call at a friend's and while he was sitting on the porch in the twilight mentally struggling over what to say, quick as a flash out of the lattice door glided the lithe form of a pretty miss towards him and before he could rise from his chair she was smothering him with kisses and hugs! So great was the shock that it was several moments before he could speak, and when he did his voice broke the spell—there was a scream! Exclamations and oh! oh! "I thought it was cousin James." "Oh, my, you horrid old—" Exit.

Miss Dena Watkins died last Wednesday night at her residence in this city and was buried in the city cemetery, on Thursday evening, at four o'clock.

The Governor has appointed Mr. Charles H. Spencer, of Cary township, Justice of the Peace for said township, the legislature having failed to elect the number of justices to which said township was entitled. He is appointed for the term of six years commencing Aug. 8th, 1890.

Balloon Ascension at Night.

If the necessary arrangements can be made, one of the attractions at the next State Fair will be a balloon ascension at night. The Steele's are a company which carries five balloons and employs three ladies and two gentlemen. They claim to be the only parties who make balloon ascensions at night, and who use an illuminated parachute. Such a sight must be very pleasing, and remind one of Longfellow's line in Excelsior: "A voice came like a falling star."

For Wilmington.

The excursion to be given by Messrs. King, Lacy & Sherwood on the 27th inst. will afford a most splendid opportunity for all fond of fishing, boating &c., to enjoy themselves at a trifling cost. Every possible arrangement for the comfort of those who participate has been made, and our people should remember that this is the last opportunity of the season. A visit to the sea coast at this season of the year is particularly attractive and when it can be indulged in at so small a price all should go. Remember the price is only $2.50 for the round trip.

Personal Mention.

We regret to hear that Miss Lena Battle, daughter of R. H. Battle, Esq., is quite sick.

Maj. W. W. Vass and family have returned from their Northern trip. The major looks younger than ever.

Mrs. W. M. Brown and Mrs. Lovie Young returned yesterday afternoon from a pleasant visit of two weeks to relatives and friends in Chatham county.

Mr. George O. Andrews, city editor of the News and Observer, has returned from a pleasant Northern tour. He looks as bright as a new pin.

Mrs. Dr. Foushee, accompanied by the three children of D. T. Johnson, Esq., Miss Gertrude and Masters Clarence and Henry, left today to spend a few days at her old home in Chatham county.

Miss Hattie Hervy has returned from Littleton.

Misses Mary and Laura Cordon, the lovely daughters of Rev. Dr. J. H. Cordon, have returned to the city from a protracted visit to the eastern part of the State. Miss Rose Young, of Wilson, accompanied them home and will be the guest of the Misses Cordon for some weeks.

S. W. Whiting, Esq., of the firm of Messrs. Whiting Bros., has just returned from the Albemarle Presbytery, which held its session at Oakwood church, Johnston county. He says there was a large attendance and the community was most hospitable and kind and vied with each other to make all the delegates comfortable and happy.

Mrs. Jno. C. Scarborough and children left today to visit relatives and friends in Johnston county.

They Have Struck It Rich, and instead of hiding their candle under a bushel, are willing, the whole 'shoe world,' should know that they bought their new shoe stock before the prices advanced, and are giving customers the advantage of their good luck.

McKimmon, Moseley & McGee.

"It is strange the ties that attach us to disagreeable things at times," as the dog said to the tin can sequel. "Still in one's life such things are bound to occur."

They Don't Spoil Your Feet.

Burt and Packard's "Korreck shape" Gents Shoes for sale by, McKimmon, Moseley & McGee.

Do Not Procrastinate.

It is a great evil and often causes regrets. Do not put off until next week what you could have done yesterday. Never say of an imperative duty another time will do as well; it will not. The experience of the past teaches us that an opportunity lost may never return. Do what you have to do with all your ability and do it at once. Procrastination is the thief of time and robs men of golden opportunity that might have borne them to fortune and prosperity. Remember the present is yours but the future is hid by a veil of mystery through whose sable folds no eye can pierce. Be instant in season and out of season in buying and in selling, but more especially in buying before our reduced carpet sale is past. We sell all carpets at 1/2 of former price up to September 1st at Swindell's.

Mary Jones—Metropolitan Hall Wednesday Night Next.

The Philadelphia Sentinel says: Miss Jones made her first appearance in this city last week, captivating all who availed themselves of the opportunity to be present. Box sheet open at MacRae's drug store.

Which is Your Right Hand?

St. Louis Republic.

An anatomist told me the other day that I could not tell him which was my right hand. I immediately held out my right hand, but he objected. He said that he did not say that I could not show or extend my right hand, but that I could not tell him which was my right hand—that is, that I could describe it in words so that one who had never heard of the distinction we make between the right and left hands would be able to find it. I thought that would be easy enough also until I took time to think the matter over, then I gave it up, for on the outside of a human body there is nothing to distinguish the right hand from the left. No one can describe it in words so that an ignorant person (one not knowing the distinctions we make) can find and locate it.

A lengthy brief is one of the numerous paradoxes of the legal profession.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Messrs. Lee, Johnson & Co. have just received a fresh lot of Edgerton's pure scotch snuff which they propose to keep constantly on hand.

Our New Department.
