In and Around the City.

The clans are gathering.

Boom up the trades procession.

The gentle school girl will soon be with us again.

Talk and work for the fair. The time will soon be here.

Masonic dinner and celebration at Holly Springs on Sept. 4th.

The street cars commenced running again to Brookside Park this morning.

Resting spell today, but tomorrow the politicians will again hold the fort.

Barbecue and public speaking at Stony Hill, New Light Township, Wake county Sept. 6th.

Elder John Rowe will preach at the Primitive Baptist Church tonight at 8:15 o'clock. Public are cordially invited.

The quotation relative to the "Mary Jones Concert" in yesterday's issue should have been from the Louisburg Times, instead of the Alisbury Times as stated.

The Republican State Convention called for the purpose of nominating a Judicial ticket and for other purposes, will meet in this city tomorrow at noon.

The piano which will be used for the Mary Jones Concert tonight was kindly loaned by Prof. Dinwiddie, of Peace Institute. The management requests us to return thanks for this kindness which is profoundly appreciated.

Yesterday while the workmen were at work on the Wright Building on Edenton street a piece of heavy scantling fell from the building and struck Mr. Wm. Parrish, of Clayton, one of the mechanics on the shoulder; while the wound was very painful it is not considered serious.

On Wednesday the 3rd day of September, Mr. W. H. Aiken, who has leased the Stroanach Warehouse will have his grand opening tobacco sale for the crop of 1890. This will be a grand occasion, and we hope to see a large crowd of dealers in the weed present. Don't forget the day—September the 3rd.

All those who relish a little nonsense are invited to come tonight to Mr. James McKimmon's house on Blount street, where the merry pantomime of "Blue Beard" will be acted by the "Willing Ten" of the "Daughters of the King." We are all acquainted with "Blue Beard," his bride and sister "Anne," and tonight we will be introduced to his mother in law at 8:30 o'clock. Admission 10 cents.

Attention is directed to the advertisement of Mr. C. A. Perkinson, Heavy and Fancy Grocery dealer on Hargett street. He has just opened a full, fresh and complete stock and the people of our city will find that they can be accommodated at as cheap rates as at any other establishment. We bespeak for him a fair share of public patronage. All who call on him can rest assured of fair dealing in all respects.

Died.

At the residence of her mother on New Berne Avenue, this morning at 10 o'clock after a protracted illness, Mrs. Mary Brown, wife of Mr. Chas. A. Brown, aged 84 years. The relatives and friends have our deepest sympathy in their sad affliction.

The funeral services will take place from the residence tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

There are 900 languages and 5,000 dialects.

For Asheville.

The second grand excursion to Asheville this season will take place next Wednesday, September 3d, under the auspices of J. T. Mallory manager. The fare for the round trip will be only $3.50, and the very best arrangements for the comfort of all have been made. There will be special cars for ladies and their escorts, a refreshment car will be attached and the best of order will be preserved. It is the cheapest excursion of the kind ever offered and will afford such an opportunity to visit the "Land of the Sky" as may not come again in years.

The Trades Procession.

We are delighted to see that the proposal for a trades procession in connection with the coming State fair, is meeting the most cordial approbation of our business men and artisans generally, and that arrangements are already on foot which will promise complete success. It is all the more gratifying from the fact that the movement has been inaugurated in time, so that the most active and earnest preparations can be made.

There is no feature of our annual exhibitions of more interest than the procession exhibiting our different specimens of the mechanic arts. Although last year the matter was not agitated until a week or so before the exhibition; yet the turnout was a most excellent one. This year, we can do even better if the proper exertions are made, and we are sure they will be. It is very important to know who will participate and hence those who are willing to enter into the matter should lose no time in reporting. Let us show to the people of the State what Raleigh can do, when her people are properly aroused.

Personal Mention.

Mrs. Ellen Garrett, of La Cross, Georgia, is here on a visit to her sister, Mrs. C. H. Betne, on the Eastern limits of the city.

Rev. Dr. C. Durham and Rev. J. A. Speight, returned this morning from an attendance upon the Yarkin Liberty and Brushy Mountain Associations which they report as largely attended. The people are hopeful and cheerful, an abundant crop prospect throughout that section of the State.

Mr. Tom Booker, of Johnston county was in the city today on a business trip.

Mr. T. B. Crowder returned yesterday evening from a week's visit to the country.

We are sorry to state that the condition of Miss Lillian Parker is no better today.

Mrs. P. A. Arendell has returned from Wakefield, N. C., where she has spent the summer.

Miss Rosa Horton, of Eagle Rock, also Mr. John Harris and wife, of Danville, Va., are visiting the family of Mr. E. G. Horton, No. 217 South Bloodworth street.

Mr. Ovid Penny, one of the clever clerks in Mr. McKimmon's drug store is quite sick with fever at the residence of his father, Dr. J. A. J. Penny, Bartons Creek Township, Wake county.

Mr. Edgar Broughton has returned from a protracted visit to Macon, Shelby and other points in Western North Carolina.

Prof. W. J. Ferrell, of Wakefield, was in the city today. The fall term of his school begins on Monday September 1st. He says the prospects for his school are brighter than ever before.

Mr. A. R. Hodge, of St. Matthews Township, was in the city today. He says the people in his neighborhood are busy picking out cotton; he has cut and cured two barns of fine tobacco; that the crop of cotton, corn and tobacco are good.

New York city is flooded with $3 counterfeit bills.

There are 500 John Johnsons in Chicago's new directory.

A Good Hit.

Many readers may remember the exciting controversy which arose, in 1845, between the government of the United States and Great Britain, concerning the boundary line between Oregon and the British territory. This country claimed up 54° 40 north latitude, while England would draw the line at 42°. The cry of the hot headed ones at Washington was: "Fifty four forty, or fight!" Wise counsels however, at length prevailed. The British government, in 1846, proposed the parallel of 49°, which was finally accepted.

While the controversy was yet warm, the British minister, Mr. Packenham, was one day walking up to the capitol, and not far behind him was a member of Congress from the West, who, though a gentleman and a most genial companion, was one of the bellicose members. With him it was "fifty four forty, or fight!" and nothing else.

When near the capitol, a drunken man interrupted the minister, and accosted him:

"Say, old fellow, you are that British Packenham, ain't you?—Yes—I know you be. Now look here, my old stump, just you bear in mind that you don't get one inch of territory below fifty four forty. It's fight every time beyond that!"

The Western Congressman came up, and nodded pleasantly to the minister.

"You will excuse that man," he said. "He is drunk."

"Certainly," returned Mr. Packenham, also pleasantly nodding. "No sober man would make such a declaration as that."—Selected.

A Bird in Hand is Worth two in the Bush.

And a 4 in hand tie is prettier than any other kind you can get; most gentlemen think so at any rate. If you do we have some that will suit you. We have purchased the prettiest and largest line, taken all in all, to be found in the city. If you prefer a teck scarf or any other style of tie, of course we have it. We have three special lines; we call your attention more especially to 25 cents, 50 cents and 75 cents, these three lines we have in both 4 in hand and teck styles, and we are absolutely certain that these lines have more elegant styles, and are made up of better material than any you have seen at the same prices. We have also a complete line of collars and cuffs, embracing every new style for fall and winter wear known to the trade. We bought very largely of these goods and we positively assure you we can offer you these goods at prices that you cannot get duplicated, at SWINDELL'S.

They Thought it was a Skunk.

In Talmage township, six miles from Akron, Ohio, a farmer's children playing in a barn observed a pile of hay moving. They called a farm hand to kill a supposed skunk under the hay. The hired man thrust the pitchfork into the hay and impaled a negro. One of the times entered the negro's eye and reached the brain with fatal effect. The negro was identified as John Williams, well known to the police of all large cities as one of the most dangerous criminals in the country. Williams had killed two men, and had served three terms in the Ohio penitentiary, from which he recently escaped, after serving over fifteen years. Upon him were found a loaded revolver, burglar's tools and valuables recently stolen from residences in the neighborhood.

The Mary Jones' Concert, Etc.

At Metropolitan Hall tonight the colored elocutionist Mary Jones will give one of her most excellent musical and elocutional lectures for the benefit of the colored Presbyterian Church, at Durham.

The Goldsboro Voice says: Hundreds of people were gathered at the Goldsboro Fair of 1888, simply to be present at the Musical Concert, Wednesday night, to hear the two Prima Donnas of North Carolina. Little Miss Jones was to appear in part first, but did not until in the middle of part second. When her name was announced the house roared so she did not appear in about three minutes after, then she came out in her quiet, sweet, modest and child like way, appearing to the tired audience as an angel descended from heaven. The whole hall would not be quieted until she had appeared the third time. She did not only leave the footlights with a great applause, but left wearing the laurels of all present.
