Regular monthly session of the Board of Aldermen tonight.

The Agricultural and Mechanical College opened yesterday. Fifty nine students were enrolled, and additions daily expected.

There will be a special meeting of Raleigh Chapter, No. 10, at 8 o'clock tonight, for work in the most excellent Master's degree. All members are requested to attend early.

Remember that the new election law requires all persons to register at least ten days before the election, the first Tuesday in November, and they must register between sunrise and sunset.

There was a called meeting of Wake County Alliance in session in this city today. As the proceedings are private we cannot get them, but suppose only business pertaining to the Alliance was transacted.

Elder J. D. Draughn will preach at the Primitive Baptist Church tomorrow (Saturday) morning at 11 o'clock, also on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Public invited to both services and will be cordially welcomed.

The Masonic Dinner out at Holly Springs on yesterday was a most enjoyable affair, so those say who were in attendance. Quite a number of Masous were present. Mr. N. B. Broughton delivered the Masonic address which was said to be a very able and interesting one.

Messrs Barbee & Pope are today receiving a most full and complete stock of confectioneries, something that will please the children. Messrs Barbee & Pope are gentlemen of energy and push and it affords us much pleasure to say that they are receiving a large share of public patronage.

Ex Governor Holden.

The friends of this distinguished gentleman will learn with the deepest regret that he has suffered another stroke of paralysis, and, at this writing is seriously ill. The VISITOR joins in the general hope that he may yet recover.

To Everybody in Raleigh.

All persons, hotel keepers, boarding house keepers, and heads of private families, who will receive boarders, are requested to send their cards to Mr. L. S. Packard, at the Agricultural building at an early day. The number to be accommodated, and price should be named. Put the price low. Let Raleigh be hospitable.

"Now I lay Me Down to Sleep."

Blessed is the man who invented sleep. And next most blessed is the man who invented spring beds. And next those who make, show, and sell spring beds. The Raleigh Spring Bed Company is a new establishment in the capital city, but one, which will contribute much to the comfort of tired humanity. This company also believes in being seen, for it has given notice that it will exhibit its softest and best at the next State Fair. We lie not, when we wish, we could lie this night on one of the same.

Is Alpine county, California, near the Nevada State line, according to the census taker, there is no church and no minister, but four liquor sellers and nine professional gamblers, and yet the jail has not had an inmate since 1887.

Pastry should never enter into the bill of fare of a dyspeptic.

A Border Exposition.

There has been organized at Maxton an organization to be known as "The Exposition of the Carolinas," the object being to hold an exhibition on the 22d to 24th of October inclusive. It is intended that the exhibit shall consist of the agricultural and stock interests of the immediate sections of North and South Carolina, and also of agricultural and labor saving implements, ladies handiwork and such other exhibits as the association may be favored with from any source.

Shocking Accident.

Mr. Perrin Gower, who lives in St. Mary's township, just below Auburn, a most highly respected citizen, happened to a most serious accident on yesterday evening. While at his cotton gin his left arm got caught in the saws mutilating his arm in a most horrible manner, the saws cutting the bone into several places.

Last night his arm was taken off by Dr. P. E. Hines, assisted by other physicians whose names we could not learn. The result of the accident is quite uncertain, though this morning Mr. Gower was doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances. He is quite an old gentleman.

Died.

Yesterday afternoon, at the residence of Mr. L. B. Pegram, 226 Saunders street, Mrs. Eliza H. Moore, relict of Mr. James H. Moore, aged 74. Mrs. Moore was a consistent member of the Brooklyn Methodist church, and highly esteemed by all who knew her.

The funeral took place this afternoon at 4 o'clock from E. Lenton Street Methodist church, Rev. Dr. Cordon officiating, assisted by Rev. Mr. Pegram, of Brooklyn church.

Mr. J. E. Jolly died yesterday evening at 7:30 o'clock at his residence on West Morgan street, after a long and painful period of suffering. His remains were taken to Panther Branch township this morning for interment.

A Good Chance for a Boy.

A competitive examination for the cadetship at West Point will take place in Raleigh, Tuesday, September 26th. All applicants are requested to file their names with Prof. Hugh Morson, chairman of the board of examiners, Raleigh, N. C.

The qualifications prescribed are as follows: "The age for the admission of cadets to the academy is between 17 and 22 years. Candidates must be unmarried, at least five feet in height, free from any infectious or immoral disorder, and, generally, from any deformity, disease, or infirmity which may render them unfit for military service. They must be well versed in reading, in writing, including orthography, in arithmetic, and have a knowledge of the elements of English grammar, of descriptive geography (particularly of our own country), and of the history of the United States.

Personal Mention.

Mrs. C. C. Barbee, mother of E. B. Barbee, Esq., who has been quite sick for several days, we are glad to say, was some better this morning.

E. C. Smith, chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, left for Washington, D. C., today. He will spend several days there on business.

Col. L. L. Polk left today for Washington, D. C. He has pressing invitations from a dozen or more States, but the duties of his office demand his presence. Therefore he has been compelled to decline all invitations for the present. He says the Farmer's Alliance and Industrial Union is growing more rapidly and its morale is in finer condition than ever before.

Mr. H. H. Crocker returned to the city yesterday afternoon from the northern cities where he went to purchase his fall stock of clothing, etc.

A Bright Boy Breathing.

The following heretofore unheard of information in regard to the breath and breathing was made public in Kentucky recently by a schoolboy of twelve years, who wrote an essay on the subject: We breathe with our lungs, our lights, our kidneys, and our livers. If it wasn't for our breath we would die when we slept. Our breath keeps the life going through the nose when we are asleep. Boys who stay in a room all day should not breathe. They should wait until they get out in fresh air. Boys in a room make bad air call carbonic oxide. Carbonic oxide is as poison as mad dogs. A lot of soldiers were once in a black hole in Calcutta, and carbonic oxide got in there and killed them. Girls sometimes ruin the breath with corsets that squeeze the diaphragm. A big diaphragm is best for the right kind of breathing.

Accepted.

In a letter to Mr. A. H. A. Williams, of Durham, Mr. J. T. Harris, recently chosen Superintendent of the Oxford Asylum in place of Dr. Dixon, resigned, accepted the position. The following is the letter of acceptance: DURHAM, N. C., Sept. 3, 1890.

Mr. A. H. A. Williams: My Dear Sir and Bro.—I received yesterday your telegram notifying me of my election to the superintendency of the Oxford Orphan Asylum. You will please allow me to express to you personally, and through you to the whole board of directors, my high appreciation of the confidence you have thus imposed in me. And all the more so, because of the prominent and very excellent gentlemen through out the State, who have been mentioned for this position. I hope I fully appreciate the spirit and importance of the work to which you call me; a work "no wise man would seek and no good man decline." I can only say, in accepting the position, that under the blessing of God, and with the prayers, and help of the good people of North Carolina, I will perform the delicate duties, you assign me, as best I may be able.

Yours fraternally.

J. T. HARRIS.

Married Today.

At one o'clock today at the Hebrew Temple, Miss Clara Bruch and Mr. H. H. Aufrecht, of Raleigh, were united in matrimony by Rabbi J. L. Mayerberg. Mr. Aufrecht is a paper hanger and house decorator, and Miss Bruch has been for some time governess in the family of Mr. Sol. Weil. The happy couple left on the evening train for Raleigh, followed by the good wishes of their many friends.—Goldsboro Dispatch, Sept. 3d.

Our New Stock has Come.

And we are so much pleased with these new goods that we want you to become interested also. In the first skirmish of this battle we want to capture ten thousand customers and place them on our side. We must whip the Yankees in this fight. Our store has never been so completely filled with desirable goods as it is this fall. We have the most complete stock of carpets you have seen, and we are prepared to make and put down your carpet on same day of purchase if so desired, and our rugs, I know, you will fall in love with them if you see them. Now you know you never find out anything new if you continue in the old ruts, and if you continue to buy carpets and rugs at same old places, you will not get the new prices. No, indeed, but go to SWINDELL'S.

A Newcastle, England, watchmaker has completed three gold shirt studs. The one in the center contains a watch with a dial only three sixteenths of an inch in diameter. By turning the upper stud you wind up the watch.
