In and Around the City.

Warm yet.
Brush the grape hulls from the side walks.
The festive oyster is anxiously waiting for the cool wave.
Folks are talking about the fair in earnest.
The cry is still for the extension of Morgan street to the western suburbs. Will it be heeded?

Tournament of colored firemen at Greensboro today. The Victor Hose Company of this city left yesterday to participate.

Mr. J. A. George, the Armenian, lectured to a large audience at the Baptist Church in Durham, Monday night last.

The Covenant Building and Loan Association will meet tonight at Odd Fellows Hall at 8 o'clock; business of importance.

Four convicts from Martin, and one from Guilford county were received at the penitentiary yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Van Moore has moved into his handsome new residence on West Martin street. It is indeed a desirable place.

The Sovereign Grand Lodge of I. O. O. F. of the world, meets at Topeka, on Monday next. Messrs. C. M. Busbee, J. G. Brown and Rev. Dr. J. H. Cordon left this evening to attend as representatives.

Applicants for license before the Supreme Court will be examined on Friday and Saturday the 26th and 27th inst. Court will convene on the 29th.

The beautiful new delivery wagon of Swindell's Racket Store was the great attraction yesterday as it appeared on the streets. It is one of the handsomest ornaments of the kind seen in Raleigh in many a day. Swindell is up to all kind of progress in the way of business.

The revival services at the Central Methodist Church are increasing in interest; congregations good, and the people are very attentive. There were a number of penitents at the altar last night, besides a larger number who bowed in the congregation, asking the prayers of the Christians. The power of the Holy Ghost was with the preacher, and the people. All Christians are cordially invited to unite in this great work. To God be all the glory.

A. G. Rhodes & Co., say they have taken a larger space at the fair grounds than ever before. They will occupy the space from the dining room to the bed room, more than 60 feet. They say they will make the finest display of furniture ever made in the state. They are the leading furniture dealers in this section. In the trade procession they had only two floats last year, but will have three this year with every possible attraction. The prospects for the fair are still booming.

I. O. O. F.

Seaton Gales Lodge will meet to-morrow night, the 11th inst. The 1st degree will be conferred and other business of importance transacted. All Odd Fellows are requested to be on hand. PHIL THIM, Sec.

Fete Champetre

Brooklyn heights—Friday evening Sept. 12. Benefit Brooklyn Church. Ice cream and other delicacies will be served. This will be the last of the season, and a good time will be given to all.

New Advertisements.

See advertisement of valuable property for sale by Mr. W. C. Stronach.

We all like to buy new stock when we purchase shoes, hats, clothing, etc. and Messrs Whiting Bros, are always endeavoring to make their place of business attractive in that respect. They have laid in a large stock and seem always busy waiting on their trade. Read their new "ad" in this issue.

A Bakery on Wheels—A Novel Sight—Cakes Free.

Messrs. Nick DeBoys & Co., French Bakers, will put their Capital City Bakery on wheels in the trades procession, in Fair Week next October. Sweet cakes will be baked on the line of march; and generously given free of cost to hungry crowds by the wayside. This little notice is not given for the small boys benefit. He'll smell the battle from afar and be sure; but to show the good people of Raleigh how it grows. Now let the candy maker, sweetest of all mankind, put himself on wheels, and see how the crowd will stick to him.

Personal Mention.

Col. A. W. Shaffer left yesterday afternoon for Washington City from whence he will visit Colorado.

Mr. J. C. L. Harris has returned from a business trip to Baltimore and Washington.

Miss Nellie Lougee of Durham, who has been visiting relative in this city, returned home yesterday.

Our old friend David Rosenthal, Raleigh's popular clothing merchant returned from the North last evening where he purchased a most desirable stock of clothing and etc., which will be ready for the use of his friends and customers in a few days. Go round and see them and make selections at once.

North Carolina Ahead.

We clip the following from an exchange: D. M. Barringer, a Philadelphia club man, made a great record Saturday on the Delaware river as an amateur swimmer. He is a native of North Carolina, 30 years of age, and a member of the bar. With his cousin, Prof. P. B. Barringer, of the University of Virginia, Senator Penrose, Dennis Butler, the professional swimmer, and a few others in boats to keep him company, he swam from Smith's Island almost to Chester and return. He was in the water 94 hours, swimming all the time and he covered a course of twenty miles. This beats the amateur record either for this country or Europe.

We are of the opinion that Mr. Barringer is a Raleigh boy, and son of the late Daniel M. Barringer, a most prominent North Carolinian, and once minister to Spain. Our boys never fail to secure success abroad, and would do so at home, if they are given half a chance.

State Fair.

The Durham Sun thus speaks to the point: The time for holding the annual Fair of the State Agricultural Society will soon be upon us. Preparations for this event are actively under way.

A kind Providence is blessing our State with bountiful harvests. Never in the last twenty five years has our cotton crop shown, at this time of the year, so much promise of large returns to the farmers. The tobacco crop is enormous. This fair will be for the people. Every inhabitant should feel a deep interest in its success and contribute some of his productions to make it a success, by exhibiting the best his farm produced; the most skillful work of their hands, and the finest cattle they have raised.

It will be a time of enjoyable recreation, and the many articles exhibited a means of pleasure and education to the children. No extra charge is made on any exhibits. So help to make it the best Fair the State has had.

Married.

FLEMING—ALLEN—This afternoon at 4 o'clock, at the residence of the brides' parents, corner of West Hargett and Harrington streets, Mr. Van C. Fleming of Birmingham, Ala., led to the Hymenal altar, Miss Lizzie Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. S. Allen, of this city, Rev. Dr. J. H. Cordon officiating. The contracting parties left on the 5 o'clock train for an extended bridal tour, followed by the best wishes of a large crowd of friends in which the VISITOR most heartily joins.

The Hillsboro Road.

We have the best official reason for the statement that the county authorities are using all the means at their command for the proper completion of the work on the Hillsboro road. While it is evident that the road should receive a coating of gravel or light soil as soon as possible, it necessarily requires time in which this work can be done. With the means at their command the Board of Commissioners are doing everything in their power to press the work to successful completion. We have reason to know, further, that the suggestion made by a correspondent in yesterday's VISITOR, relative to the transfer of the force from the upper end of the road to that portion already graded, was made in no spirit of fault-finding whatever, but only intended as a hint at the short time which will elapse before the fair commences. We know that the writer of the communication most highly appreciates the efforts of the Chairman and Board of County Commissioners as well as those of Supervisor McMackin in the premises. We again say, the public may rest assured that everything possible, consistent with the means at command, will be done to have the road in splendid condition, at an early day.

An Attempted Robbery.

Last night at quite a late hour, two men, colored, entered the residence of Mr. Moncure on North Blount St. They entered through a window yesterday evening. A brother of Mrs. Moncure arrived and slept in one of the rear rooms. He heard them planning the robbery. He attempted to capture them, firing at them several times. One of them cried out to the other in a loud voice to keep in the dark or shade and not to let himself be seen. It is not known whether either shot took effect or not. Mr. Moncure lives across the street opposite Dr. Sanderlin. His family was aroused by the firing and there is considerable excitement in the neighborhood by this bold attempt at robbery. We hope our efficient corps of police officers may be able to trace the matter and have the bold ruffians brought to justice.

The Tabernacle.

Wilmington Star.

The tabernacle is about completed. It is 120 feet long and will seat about 7,000 people. It is sixteen feet high at the sides and running up to thirty two feet in the centre. It is well ventilated and lighted by forty windows. There are ten doors giving ample facilities for emptying the building rapidly if necessary. A broad central aisle runs the entire length of the building, with two large aisles and a number of small ones leading from each side to the central aisle.

The platform for the preacher and choir is located about midway the length of the building on the west side; it is raised five feet above the floor, and is sixteen feet wide and fifty five feet long.

Mr. H. M. Bowden is chairman of the music committee, and has already engaged nearly two hundreds voices for the choir; they will commence practicing this week, and will be ready in ample time for the meeting, commencing on Thursday the 25th inst.

A Store Keeper,

Or, perhaps it would sound better to say a merchant, has more reason to be clear headed and always on the alert, than probably any other class of people, indeed it is absolutely necessary to be successful, that he be wide awake and full of energy at all times; he must keep fully abreast of the times in materials to be used, styles to be worn and where he can secure all these at the best possible advantage. He must keep posted on the markets, and know the fluctuations in prices on the different lines of goods he handles. He must know when to buy and when to wait for a decline, in fact there are a thousand things that go to give a wide awake man success, that the man who thinks he knows it all would never see. Everybody knows that a short time ago shoes of all kinds advanced fully 15 per cent over former prices. Those who had the pluck to buy before the advance went into effect can easily sell all grades of shoes 15 per cent lower than those who did not buy before the advance. We bought our entire stock before the advance; we bought very largely, and for cash. We can now offer you any shoe in our store 20 per cent under the price of any other house in the city for same goods. We have a magnificent line of shoes, come and see them
