In and Around the City.

Fine weather again.

No more bell ringing.

The show closes tonight.

J. M. Broughton, Esq., has been appointed administrator of Will. T. Rogers, deceased.

Rev. Dr. C. E. Taylor, President of Wake Forest College will occupy the pulpit of the Baptist Tabernacle tomorrow at 11 a. m., and 7:30 p. m.

The street cars will resume their trips on Hillsboro street next Monday morning as far as Maj. Tucker's. The schedule will be every forty minutes.

Another Crowd

Greeted Tennyson & Dawson's Co., at Metropolitan Hall last night and the performance, as usual was splendid. Narcissa Jones (colored) drew the set of furniture. This afternoon at 1:30 o'clock a matinee was given, and tonight the company closes their engagement in this city.

Milton Nobles Coming.

This distinguished actor and playwright and one of Raleigh's popular favorites will appear at Metropolitan Hall Saturday, Oct. 11th, and will present for the first time here, Mr. Nobles' last and greatest success, "From Sire to Son." Mr. Nobles will be assisted as usual by a superb company of comedians.

Service and Song.

Prof. Thos. Wood will conduct a service of song at the Baptist Tabernacle tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock to which the public are cordially invited. Prof. Wood for a number of years has successfully taught vocal music in public and private schools, churches, etc., and while sojourning in North Carolina for the health of his wife visits our city at the request of friends who have known of his work elsewhere. He bears the highest endorsement from ministers, teachers and business men.

A Good School.

During our visit to Auburn yesterday we had the pleasure of meeting with Mr. T. R. Crocker, formerly of Franklin county, who is now the talented and accomplished principal of the Auburn Academy. Mr. Crocker is a graduate of Wake Forest College and is a young man of the highest character and well fitted in every way for the responsible position he occupies. He has a good school already, with a prospect of a large increase. We hope the people in that community and surrounding country will give the Auburn Academy the patronage it so richly deserves.

Soldiers' Home.

It has been decided to open for the present a Soldiers' Home at the corner of Polk and East streets, where from sixteen to twenty ex-Confederate Soldiers can be accommodated. Capt. J. J. Ferrell an ex-Confederate who had the misfortune to lose a leg at Malvern Hill, will be Superintendent, and the discipline will be firm, but of the best kind. The Home will be conducted upon business principles. Applications for admittance can now be made. There will be none admitted unless they can prove good service either in the Confederate Army or Navy.

In this connection we may state that there is need of beds, bed clothing and other necessary articles, and a special appeal is made to our people to contribute whatever they can in this direction. The initiation of this noble charity in our midst should inspire all our people with a just pride, and cause them to put forth their best exertions for the cause. It is one that appeals not only to our patriotism, but to our common humanity.

Personal Mention.

C. J. Burton, Esq., who is with H. S. Miller & Co., of Newark, N. J., was in the city today hale and hearty and is doing a good business.

We had the pleasure of a call this morning from Mr. J. Duke Murray, advance representative of Milton Nobles' Comedy company which will appear in Raleigh on the 11th inst.

Miss Mary Heidelberg is quite ill at 109 South Wilmington street.

Dr. Charles E. Taylor, President of Wake Forest College is in the city.

Rev. Dr. J. J. Hall, we are glad to say, his physician thinks he is slowly improving, but as yet he is unable to sit up.

Dr. Thomas E. Skinner was able to be out on the streets today.

Mr. Jerry Perry of Durham is in the city, visiting Mr. C. P. Spruill.

Board of Aldermen.

Regular meeting of the Board was held last night.

Report of finance committee read. Several claims were allowed.

A recommendation to purchase a street sweeper at a cost of $400 was referred to Street Committee.

The report of the committee appropriating $350 for a hose wagon for the Rescue Company was adopted.

The special committee composed of the Mayor, City Attorney and Street Commissioner, reported favorable to a brick sidewalk not less than forty two inches wide, in the middle of the sidewalks. Laid over until next meeting.

Mr. Lipps, Engineer of Maintenance of way of the North Carolina Railway by request, addressed the board with regard to the Cannon street bridge crossing the railroad. He stated that it would be impossible to construct the bridge as ordered by the board without making it too high for use, this being necessary for trains to pass under it. The foot bridge now in use there is approached by several steps. A resolution was adopted that the railroad open a roadway to a point where the grade would permit vehicles to cross the track.

A report from the finance committee recommending a reduction of the general city taxes of 20 cents on the hundred dollars in the next two years was read and adopted.

A largely signed petition against ringing auction bells on the streets was presented.

It was moved that the petition be granted and that the ringing of all such bells as above referred to be prohibited on the streets, that they be confined entirely to the places of business which they advertise and that the time they shall be allowed to ring be limited to fifteen minutes.

New Advertisements.

Read the advertisement of the Bee Hive and learn where you can go to sell old furniture, etc., at highest cost price.

We invite attention to the advertisement of Mr. C. A. Perkinson, No. 12, East Hargett street, who has a stock of fine canned goods and everything else kept in a first class grocery establishment. Mr. Perkinson is one of our most experienced business men and all who deal with him can rest assured of receiving the best attention. Special attention is called to the fact that Mr. Perkinson has just received a barrel of nice pigs feet, the finest ever brought to this city.

The attention of the public is specially invited to the advertisement of Messrs. W. C. & A. B. Stronach in this issue. These gentlemen state that their new bakery will be opened for business next Wednesday, and this is news of the highest importance to our people generally.

There is no firm in the Southern States of the kind that stands more deservedly high than this, and when they embark in a new enterprise we may know that it will be properly conducted in all respects. Read the advertisement.

Messrs. Barbee & Pope have in store a lot of the finest French candies ever brought to this market, and the assortment cannot be surpassed in the South. Added to their other long list of specialties can also be mentioned the latest addition in the way of bananas, which are simply excellent in size and flavor. In fact this enterprising firm never tires catering to the wants of the public in their line, and we can assure all in want of the good things of life, that there is no place in the city where they can be procured at cheaper rates. Call and see for yourselves.

The County Canvass.

We took advantage of the opportunity yesterday to visit Auburn, where the county candidates had appointments to speak. We arrived on the ground rather late and found a considerable crowd in attendance anxious to hear the issues of the day discussed. On our arrival, Sheriff J. Rowan Rogers was speaking and was followed by Capt. Page, the democratic nominee. Both gentlemen were listened to with much attention and were well received by their respective friends. Messrs. Purnell and Jones both delivered addresses, drawing forth plaudits from their different sides. Messrs. Upchurch, Thompson, Meacham and Green had delivered speeches prior to our arrival. All were listened to with marked attention, showing that our people are always conservative and willing to hear questions affecting their interest in a fair and impartial manner.

Col. Argo, the independent candidate for Solicitor in this district was present and was allowed time to announce himself, which he did in a few remarks. As an episode of the occasion we note that Mr. C. D. Upchurch, candidate for re-election to the office of Clerk of the Superior Court pledged himself to make up the balance necessary for the purchase of a bell for the Male and Female School at Auburn, which the ladies are getting up by subscription.

The day passed off pleasantly, and both sides seemed to be satisfied with the situation.

For Thirteen Long Years

this writer has stood at the helm of a mercantile craft endeavoring with his whole ability to guide it aright. We have seen many of the phases of life; have been through adversity and have tasted of prosperity. We have seen men buoyant and strong, rise like a star, bright and prosperous for a short season; but now alas! whelmed beneath the tide of misfortune, covered in eternal sleep by the pages of the credit ledger; that curse that has carried the brightest genius that has ever adorned the world's history into oblivion. We have seen all this and more; but enough of the dark side. We have never used a ledger; we should not know what to do with one if we had it; we have climbed step by step up the ladder on steps of cash down every time, both ways, going and coming, or in buying and selling. What is the result with us? Listen—Saturday the 27th day of Sept., we sold more goods by $220 than we ever sold in one day before. Remember this is money down and not one dollar charged! Its our prices that is doing the work for us

Wraps

BARGAINS AND UNDERVALUES

We thus early, are going to offer some of the greatest values, in Ladies, Misses, and Childrens' wraps, that have ever been offered in Raleigh. These are wraps carried from last season, and we wish to sell this lot first. We have probably $1,500 or $2,000 worth in this particular line, and to dispose of these, at once, we will offer them at prices, LESS THAN THE CLOTH IN THE GARMENTS COST. The styles of many of these are almost identical to the new styles now being opened. These wraps are marked in plain figures, and are on sale in our bargain and undervalue department.

This is an opportunity never before offered in this city, at the beginning of a season, to buy wraps in good styles, and at such low prices. Wraps from this lot once sold cannot be duplicated at any thing near the prices we are now selling them at, so it is to your interest to buy at once.

Now, we do not wish any one to infer from this, that we are not going to have any wraps besides these, because we are, and have already begun opening the new stock, of which we will tell you more about, a little later.

W. H. & R. S. Tucker & Co.
