LARGEST CITY CIRCULATION.

Index to New Advertisements. J. Hal Bobbitt—Drugs, &c.

In and Around the City.

Crowds coming in. Everything lovely. Let politics slide this week. Have you seen the fat man? They are here from every quarter. Sisters, cousins and aunts, are all here.

Don't let the fair keep you from registering.

Don't fail to see the Japs. They are fixed up in style on the Fair Grounds.

The exhibits of the North Carolina Wagon Factory at the Fair are beautiful and of most excellent finish. No better wagons made in the world.

The Editor's Lunch Table at the Fair Grounds is well supplied. Let the brotherhood make themselves at home. They will receive a most cordial welcome.

Rev. Dr. J. H. Cordon will commence a series of meetings at Edenton Street Church next Sunday night. There will be services every night during the week. Public cordially invited.

Let all the politicians this week shake hands "across the bloody chasm." As was said way back yonder. "Let us all be Democrats and all be Republicans" - for one week.

Manteo Lodge I. O. O. F. will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock; work in the Second Degree; candidates will present themselves promptly. It is earnestly hoped that every member will be present. Visiting brethren cordially invited.

A small white boy, in Little River Township, named Jack Robinson, aged about 12 years but so small that he wears a suit of clothes for a ten year old boy, picks out 212 pounds of cotton a day. This is remarkable, and shows what young America can do.

The artistically arranged windows of our merchants generally are a credit to the city. There are no better or more accommodating business men in existence than those of Raleigh. Go and see them. They will treat you right. The columns of the VISITOR will tell you who has the best goods. Read the paper and then call on the merchants.

Mr. J. Hal Bobbitt, in an attractive advertisement today, presents some plain facts for the consideration of the people. There is no house of the kind in this State that has more flattering inducements than this, in every line, with which it is connected. The stock of every description is fresh pure and in all respects suited to the wants of people generally. We hope every visitor to the city will give this celebrated establishment a call and see for themselves. Fine cigars, mineral waters, etc., specialties. Don't forget to call.

Married.

On Tuesday night last, 7th inst., in Calvary Methodist church, at Charlotte, Rev. W. S. Montrose to Miss Delia Sturdivant, formerly of Raleigh, Rev. Thos. Ledwell officiating. The bride has many warm friends in Raleigh who wish her much happiness.

Notice.

In order to give those connected with the EVENING VISITOR an opportunity of attending the State Fair, which should be an occasion well come by all, no paper will be issued from this office on Thursday afternoon next. We feel that our patrons will cordially second this determination to give our employees a chance to see the exhibition. Those having advertisements to change will do us a favor by sending them in on tomorrow.

A Beautiful Exhibit.

Mr. John W. Brown, our well known undertaker and funeral director, has on exhibition at his establishment corner of Morgan and Dawson streets, a most beautiful exhibit of articles in his line of business. These are arranged in neat and most artistic manner in a large glass case making a group, unsurpassed for elegance by anything we have heretofore seen. A magnificent casket is a special feature surrounded by all the paraphernalia, necessary for the burial services. It is a show well worth a visit and no one should leave the city without seeing it.

Personal Mention.

Miss Porter, the accomplished art teacher, of Greensboro, is in the city. Several of her art collections will be on exhibition at the fair.

Miss Nellie Star, of Winston, is in the city.

Mr. J. H. McCain, of Ashboro, is taking in the fair.

Our venerable fellow citizen, Mr. Paul C. Cameron, has returned from a visit to the western part of the State.

We are pleased to meet in the city today our old friend Mr. T. D. Sledge, formerly of Raleigh, but for some years past a resident of Hendersonville. He is meeting with a cordial greeting from friends and acquaintances.

Mrs. Sue Tisdale, of New Berne, is the guest of Mrs. E. S. Brown, on North Salisbury street.

Mr. Thos. Gorman, a former Raleigh boy, has, we are glad to learn, opened a dry goods store in Wilmington, N. C.

A New Idea.

Yesterday, Squire M. B. Barbee, the leading Justice of the Peace for Raleigh opened a regular court at the Fair Grounds which will be continued all the week. The Squire inaugurated the court by a regular charge to the police officers as to their duties, jurisdictions etc., telling them how to proceed in cases of disturbance. Squire Barbee was solicited to pursue this course for very good reasons. In the first place it is due to offenders, arrested for violations of law that they should have speedy trials, and this can best be accomplished by the establishment of a court on the grounds, thereby avoiding the absence of any of police force, in bringing persons to the city. We hope there will be no use for the court, but it is a good idea, in case of emergency. There is nothing like good order, and all connected with the fair will see to it that this is preserved.

Alex Creech, Esq.

This well known citizen, who for so many years was one of our leading merchants, and who for some time past has been a salesman for Messrs. W. H. & R. S. Tucker & Co., has effected a similar engagement with Norris' Dry Goods Store, the new firm on Fayetteville street, next to the Raleigh National Bank. Mr. Creech is so well, and so favorably known in this community, that it is almost superfluous for us to say anything in his favor. For a long series of years he has been in the dry goods business and by his strict attention, fair dealing and courteous manners, he has won the highest regard of all our people. Everybody esteems him and all wish him well, in whatever sphere he may enter. There is no prater gentleman nor none more upright in all the transactions of life. May he yet realize to the fullest extent a renewal of the sunshine of prosperity. He deserves it.

The west bound express on the Canadian Pacific was wrecked at Poplar Point, forty miles from Winnipeg, Wednesday night, while going at a speed of thirty miles an hour, the engine having run into a herd of cattle.

The State Fair - Beautiful Weather and Large Attendance.

The annual exhibition of the State Agricultural Society opened today in accordance with the programme. The weather is beautiful and the crowd in attendance much larger than usual on the opening day. The outlook is indeed promising for one of the best fairs ever held here. The exhibits are numerous and arranged in the most attractive style. The crops are good, and almost everybody has at least a little money. In fact our folks generally look happy and contented and a most enjoyable occasion can be anticipated.

The procession was formed at 10 a. m., in accordance with the programme as published in the VISITOR yesterday afternoon. On arrival at the grounds, Gov. Fowle made the opening address formally declaring the fair opened. Every incoming train is loaded with people and by tomorrow our streets will be a rare spectacle of bustling humanity. Let us hope that the week will pass off in a manner creditable alike to Raleigh and the good "Old North State."

Does Merit Win?

When all things are equal merit does sometimes win—not always. If you put merit and low prices together they make a strong team and pull over all obstacles, but either alone, are not so sure of success. Now the way we do is to find those goods that have merit and value in them; then put our price on "which is always lower than others," and we have no trouble in getting right up the hill. You see we talk positive about this matter; and we can afford to for we are talking from experience and know that what we say is true. If we should make a mistake in a purchase and find that we had something with no merit in it, we sacrifice it at once. We never keep goods that are not strictly first class in all particulars; hence our success so far. We say that merit alone in any goods at prices that others sell it for, does not win. We say we take the very same goods that others handle and sell them 10c a yard cheaper and sell three yards to their one. The fabric is the same but the price is lower. Hence, merit must be supported by low prices, which is the case at Swindell's.

In order to test the comparative merits of the various newspaper advertising mediums, and at the same time benefit the readers thereof, we shall consider this advertisement for one dollar in payment toward purchase of $20 or more worth of goods, if cut out and presented at time of purchase either in person or by mail.

SWINDELL.

Advocates of female equality will be glad to hear that women have forced themselves into another occupation that has generally been given over to men. Two Chicago young women have become full fledged highway robbers. They hold up their victims in true footpad style, and from a financial point of view have been very successful. We are fast moving toward the time when we shall have to abandon all our old ideas about the incapacity of women.

"Say, pa, Solomon was the wisest man that ever lived, wasn't he?" "Yes, my son, he is so considered." "And he had three hundred wives, didn't he?" "I believe that is the number." "Say, pa, if Solomon was the wisest man that ever lived, how did he come to get in such a fix—you can't live peaceably with one?" "Hem! haw! hem! he got wise after he married them. You go to bed."—Epoch.

Norfolk's splendid afternoon newspaper, The Public Ledger, is out in a new dress from head to foot and shows a decided improvement in other respects. It is a clean newsy paper, and we wish Edwards & Fiveash, the proprietors, the abundant success they so richly deserve.—Roanoke Herald.
