THE OLD NORTH STATE.

The first number of a new paper published at Aurora called the "Aurora Borealis," has been received. It is a good readable paper. We wish it much success.

One of Greensboro's fairest maidens is at present slowly pining away on account of the loss of her terrapin. It was a very intelligent terrapin and could do some marvelous tricks according to the aforesaid maiden. The young man that finds the terrapin and returns the same to this office will win the a warm place in the heart of this young lady.—Greensboro Patriot.

The ubiquitous crying baby was in court yesterday. His honor had a rule served on the mother to move the nuisance out of the room.—Durham Globe.

Capt. T. T. Smith has taken charge of the Richmond and Danville freight depot here. In fact, he has been in charge for two weeks, but hasn't had time to come up town but twice, and only a few of our people knew he was at the helm.—Charlotte News.

Winston Daily: Sixteen convicts came up a few days ago from the "pen" and are now at work on the Mocksville Branch road.

Lumberton Robesonian: Hoister work was continued on Lumber River between points 48 and 82 miles above the mouth, roughly clearing channel to width of 40 feet and depth of 3 feet at low water.

Tarboro Southerner: The abundant cotton crop, supplemented by the successful production of tobacco in Edgecombe has made the farmers vastly happier than they have been for many years. Diversification, thou art mighty.—Tarboro Southerner.

Colonel Herbert A. Hascall, U. S. A., died in Chicago Monday, after a short illness, aged 56.

The population of the State of North Carolina is announced at 1,617,840 and that of Kansas at 1,423,485.
