

Wistful.

Dear, it is hard to stand
So near thy life, yet so apart.

So near that I can look my fill
At stated times upon thy face;

Dear, it is hard to know
Whate'er the stress, the storm, the strife,

No right to claim before the rest
The privilege to weep with thee;

Dear, it is hard to feel
That bliss may meet the full and fair.

Dear, it is hard, but God doth know
How leal the heart that beats for thee.

A Turtle's Toilet.

"Never until this year have I been glad to see the schools begin," said a prominent citizen.

"Why?" asked his curious friend.
"Well," replied the gentleman, "I shall tell you of a remarkable effect which a school a few miles from here has produced upon the lower animals.

"A year ago a young couple were boating on a pond in the vicinity of this school, when the youth who was rowing, took off his cuffs and laid them on the seat in the stern of the boat.

"By an unfortunate twirl of her parasol the young lady knocked the articles overboard, and the weight of the buttons took them straight to the bottom.

"Now comes the wonderful part. A day or two ago the pond was drained, and a number of boys in the vicinity went in with gigs and nets to catch the fish; but imagine their surprise when they found a large snapping turtle wearing the cuffs in the most approved college style. In consideration for his intelligence the snapper was allowed to pursue his course in civilization, and as soon as the school convenes a cane and spectacles will be dropped for his benefit."

"Oh-h-h!" - Minneapolis Tribune.

The Census Nearly Complete.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The count of the population of the country has been about completed by the Census Office. The population of all the States, with the exception of South Dakota, Florida, Maryland, Virginia and Wisconsin, has already been announced. The delay in the case of the States named is occasioned by recounts ordered in some districts. W. C. Hunt, chief of the population division, expects to have the count completed in a few days.

A Haphazard Hypothesis.

In a physician's office.
"I say, doctor, I wish you'd fix me up something for my stomach trouble I've got something inside that first comes up and then goes down and then comes back again, and—faugh! It makes me sick to think of it."

Doctor—You don't mean to say that you've accidentally swallowed an elevator?—Judge.

Castoria

For Infants and Children.
Castoria promotes Digestion, and overcomes Flatulency, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, and Feverishness.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

"I use Castoria in my practice, and find it specially adapted to affections of children."

"From personal knowledge and observation I can say that Castoria is an excellent medicine for children, acting as a laxative and relieving the pent up bowels and general system very much."
