In and Around the City.

Little warmer.
Christmas goods will soon be on hand.

Fine site for a depot, but no depot in sight. We cite this from the best authority.

How about that sidewalk at the southeast corner of Fayetteville and Morgan streets? It's a bad place.

Tear down the unsightly bridge over the railroad on Hillsboro street and put up a new one. Iron preferred.

The cotton factory is now running on full time and has orders far ahead. Let us have another.

The system of numbering houses and the postal free delivery goes into operation at Durham next Saturday.

Our physicians are rather resting on their oars. The health of the city was never better.

Students are still coming in to our female schools. They are flourishing beyond all precedent.

Wilmington street today was literally packed with wagons loaded with cotton. The receipts were heavy and prices good.

The keeper of the Capitol will no doubt soon be fixing up the two chambers for the Legislature. A new coat of paint on the galleries would help greatly. Why not add electric lights?

The old breastworks around the city erected in the early part of the war have all disappeared, and a few small elevations are all that is left of the great Chinese wall to keep the yankees out.

It is said that a member of the party proposing to purchase the street car line, was here last Monday. This looks as if an electric railway was looming up in the near future.

There was nothing of importance doing at the capitol today. The Governor is off for the Weldon fair and the private Secretary is doing the honors with his usual urbanity.

Candidates of both political parties were busy today in attending to the "dear people." As the election approaches, there will be many a political "love feast."

Registration returns are fast being received from different sections of the State. There seems to be a notable falling off in the colored registration in the central and eastern counties.

The fruit crop cannot be considered an entire failure, if we note the large supply of fine apples on sale in the various stores. We have rarely seen better specimens, but prices are ruling rather high.

It has been suggested that the site on which now stands the old Haywood mansion corner of Fayetteville and Morgan streets, would be a good one for the proposed new hotel. It is admirably located and specially convenient for members of the Legislature, attendants on the Supreme court etc. No better site could be selected.

We learn from the Fayetteville Observer that a sham battle between the Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry and the Lumber Bridge Light Infantry is being discussed, and will no doubt constitute one of the attractive features of the approaching Cumberland Fair. They are both crack companies and will muster about 50 men each. We will venture to assert that Lumber Bridge will "take the cake."—Scottish Chief.

Flaming "dodgers" are being scattered around the city today, illustrative of the doings at the circus next week.

A call at the Mayor's office today developed nothing of importance. The city is unusually quiet and the police are absolutely having a good time.

The civil docket of Wake Superior Court is fast being cleared under the energetic rule of Judge Boykin, who is winning golden opinions from the bar.

With the election and circus next week, the people of Raleigh will be abundantly stirred up. The next big thing on docket will be the Legislature, when the fun will commence in earnest.

There is a complete lull in the matter of the extension of the Albemarle and Raleigh Railroad. In fact, it seems to have gone into the deepest retirement. Can't the Chamber of Commerce resurrect the matter?

There are a good many strangers of the legal fraternity in the city, attending the Supreme Court. The docket is being cleared with unusual promptness.

We hear, unofficially that there will be an application before the next General Assembly for an extension of the corporate limits of Raleigh half a mile each way.

A cotton merchant told us this morning that at least forty thousand bales of cotton may be considered in sight for Raleigh this season. This looks like a genuine business revival and our people ought to be happy.

A party of gentlemen, among them some of our leading capitalists, were today discussing the matter of a knitting factory for Raleigh. Hope it may be consummated. The factory in Greensboro has started out under the most favorable auspices.

The demand for small residences still continues, and our capitalists could not put their money in better paying property. It is an evidence of the steady, but sure increase of the population of Raleigh.

So heavy is the business of the cotton compress, that it is impossible to keep up with the demands, although it is running day and night. Immense quantities of cotton are on the platform waiting its turn.

Meeting of Chief's.

We notice that the rail roads throughout the State have signed their willingness to give a free pass to one Chief of Fire Department from every town in the State to attend a meeting of Chief's to be held in Greensboro on Nov. 12th. The object of such a meeting can easily be seen to be of immense benefit not only to the men themselves, but it will be felt throughout the State and by every town sending a representative to the conference; not only at a time of fire, where the benefits of an exchange of ideas will assert itself, but in the safety felt by the community in general wherever a community exists which possesses a fire Chief with interest enough in his duties as Chief to take advantages of every opportunity to better acquaint himself with his duties and prepare himself for the hour when he must shrink from no duty, but be ready for any emergency; be capable of not only meeting it but to successfully overcome it when met. We would respectfully suggest that every Journal of the State insert a notice with reference to the above, and from time to time refer to the matter and insist on the attendance of the proper person from its town. Brothers you cannot be too particular about this matter—it means dollars and cents in addition to an easy and secure feeling when you lay down at night.

For Rent.

Three nice houses; neighborhood and water the best.
Oct 29 St JULIUS LEWIS & Co.

Edenton Street Church.

The meetings at Edenton Street Church are still in progress with unabated interest. Last night Rev. Mr. McCullen preached a most interesting sermon which was listened to with marked attention by a large congregation. The meetings will continue every night during the week, and the public are cordially invited to attend.

Notice to I. O. O. F.

Seaton Gales Lodge meets tomorrow night. The Third Degree will be conferred and other business of importance will be transacted. Candidates will present themselves without fail at 7:30 o'clock. Every Odd Fellow cordially invited to attend.
THIRM, Rec. Sec.

Turner's N. C. Almanac.

Mr. James H. Ennis, the publisher, is now sending out Turner's North Carolina Almanac, an institution over half a century old, and as well known in North Carolina as any publication extant. The edition for 1891, is superior to any that has preceded it, and it should be in the household of all. It is something that nobody can do without.

Baldwin Theatre Company.

The "Two Orphans" was presented last night to a fair audience, who evinced the liveliest satisfaction. The company is gaining every day in public estimation and well they should. Tonight will be presented the admirable comedy of the "Queen's Evidence" and we hope to see the house crowded. The costumes will be superb and the ladies especially should attend.

The Soldier's Home.

We cannot too earnestly appeal to our people to aid in furnishing this noble charity with such contributions as can be spared. Surely nearly every family in our midst has something that would render comfortable the inmates and there is no object that appeals more directly, not only to our patriotism but to our common humanity. Articles should be addressed to Mr. W. C. Stronach, a gentleman who is using the utmost energy in behalf of the good cause.

Western North Carolina.

This is the title of a new book compiled by Mr. A. D. Smith. The Durham Globe says: He has given the work about two years' of his time, and employed the best local talent in the state to compile biographical sketches. The names of all the assistant writers appear in the work. The printing and binding was done by Edwards & Broughton, Raleigh, and is a splendid specimen of work. The portraits are of steel and we notice several Durham gentlemen represented. In short the publication is entirely of North Carolina and a volume of it should be in the possession of all true North Carolina people who appreciate ability and enterprise.

New Advertisements.

This cool spell makes one think of overcoats and flannel underwear. Messrs Whiting Bros make an attractive announcement in regard to it. Read it and then go and see them.

"Dave" the clothier, presents some astonishing "Facts and Figures" to the public today. He is carrying the largest stock of goods in North Carolina and he is offering them at such prices as must commend them to the public generally. In fact David Rosenthal is in all respects the leader of low prices, and this fact is admitted on all sides. Let everybody in need of bargains give him a call. They will be treated right and dealt with fairly. Remember the North Carolina leading clothing house.

Another fresh arrival of "Glori" Fast black Gingham, Alpaca and Silk umbrellas selling rapidly at popular prices from 75 cents to $3.25. Go and see them at D. S. WARR'S.

Do You Wear White Shirts?

It don't matter to us what size you wear or what kind you want, we have got either. If you wear any where between a number 12 and 18½ we can fit you. These are laundered shirts; is a job we got at a factory closing sale. They wanted money. They knew we had the money; we did not need the shirts; we bought them because they are the best value we ever saw for the money in shirts. Come and look at the lot and see what you think of them. There's over one hundred dozen of them. The price goes from 50c for a boy's, up to $1.25 for a man's. Remember these goods are worth just double the prices we name. We call this our big bargain for the season. Do you want a white shirt? Do you want to buy a shirt for $1 that will cost you $1.50 any where in the State? If you come and get one of this lot, at
