LARGEST CITY CIRCULATION.

In and Around the City.

Quiet reigns.
Hi Henry tonight.
Fun at Metropolitan Hall tonight.
Indian summer still continues.
Gratuitous advice—Keep your eye upon your umbrella during wet weather. You may need it yourself.
The R. & G. road is preparing to make extensive improvements at the Johnson street depot.
Mr. S. M. Parish, the Prohibition candidate for the Senate in this county, received 34 votes.
Cotton receipts yesterday were light, only 92 bales. Prevailing price 9½c.
Sales of tobacco this morning at Aikin's warehouse. Also at Jones & Co's. Receipts light but prices were stiff.

Business getting back in its regular channels after having been displaced by the election and the show and is moving off again in good style.

Central Methodist church people expect to resume work on their church building at an early day putting in the floors, windows and interior finishing.

No obligation is forgotten quicker than that of political service. Let everybody that wants a place remember this and their expectations need not be too strong.

An entertainment will be given at Peace Institute tonight at 7:30 o'clock by members of the elocution and music classes, which the friends of the institute are cordially invited to attend.

Don't forget that the sidewalks should be paved uniformly on all the principal streets at an early day. It will pay handsomely in a comparatively short time in the increased value of real estate. Procrastination doesn't help it but makes matters worse every day.

Major John C. Winder, general manager of the Seaboard Air Line, announces the appointment of Mr. D. S. Hudgins superintendent of telegraph for the line. The many friends of Mr. Hudgins are glad to welcome him back and in his new position.

Attention is directed to the advertisement of Mr. David W. Badham, who is prepared to tune and repair pianos and organs. He also gives lessons on guitars and banjos. Mr. Badham has had much experience in the business, and all orders entrusted to him will be attended to with the utmost attention and promptness.

Amid all the excitement this week, incident to the election and circus, it is most gratifying to note that no accident or disturbance has occurred. This speaks volumes for our people and is also a splendid comment on the efficiency of our admirable police system. Hajor Heardt and his entire force deserve the sincere thanks of all our people for their watchfulness and energy. There are no better official servants in any city of the Union.

Fire.

This morning about 3 o'clock an alarm of fire was sounded from box 33, caused from the burning of a stable on the premises of Dr. W. I. Royster on West Morgan street. On the route to the fire the Capital Hose Wagon became disabled by running into a telephone pole, causing delay. The Rescue Company fought the fire, but being unaided, the building was consumed. We learn that two bugles were burned, and the loss altogether was about $300 or $400. The fire it is thought was the result of accident.

Trinity College.

The laying of the corner stone of the building for Trinity College next Friday will be an event of much interest. The Masonic address will be delivered by Hon. R. B. Vance of Asheville and the Educational address by ex Governor T. J. Jarvis of Greenville. The building committee are Messrs. Duke, J. W. Alspaugh, E. J. Parrish, Robt. B. Lyon, W. F. Korngay, J. S. Carr, B. N. Duke, J. M. Odell, Robt. T. Gray, Geo. F. Crowell.

A Big Success.

The following is from a recent issue of the Newark, Ohio, Daily Advocate, Sept. 26, 1890:
The entertainment given by Hi. Henry's minstrels at the Music Hall was among the best of the kind ever seen in Newark. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather the house was filled to its utmost capacity with an appreciative audience, made up from Newark's best citizens. Every member on the programme was encored, and a more delighted audience never assembled at Music Hall. The whole show throughout is first class.

Our Fall Trade—The Future.

A talk with several of our merchants today reveals the fact that Raleigh has never enjoyed such a fall trade as we are now having. One house informed us that they had really had more than it was possible to handle. Others said new orders had to be telegraphed every night to keep stock supplied.

That we are on the eve of a fresh and important era of prosperity in material development is apparent on every hand.

Let it come. There is not a spot in all this beautiful Southland that can afford more comfort to its people than this fair "City of Oaks."

"Who I Saw at the Circus."

The election news of the past two days was forgotten today in hearing persons tell of "Who I saw at the circus." After receiving all the returns we concluded that every trade and profession, every calling and color was represented. That Democrats, Republicans, Prohibitionists, Mugwumps, Protectionists, Free Traders, and all, laid aside their prejudices and dwelt together in great harmony under the circus tent last night. This world is round and funny, as Dr. Pritchard is wont to say.

There are three candy factories in the city.

A Mechanics Club.

Raleigh has among its citizens some of the most intelligent and prosperous mechanics to be found anywhere, and we are glad to learn that an organization is to be formed at an early day whereby they are to place themselves in a position for increased social and intellectual enjoyment.

This is to be done through what will be known as the Mechanics Club of Raleigh. Rooms well and conveniently located will be secured, and these fitted up in becoming style. Libraries, reading room, social hall, &c., are to be a part of the equipment. Magazines, scientific and mechanical journals will be given to members and invited guests, and quarterly a social gathering of the wives and daughters with the regular membership will be held.

We hail this movement with joy and trust that there will be no loss of time in carrying it out. Once under good headway its influence will bring untold good to our city.

Our Congratulations.

The old Raleigh Register in its palmy days of defence for the Whig party had a motto that greatly pleased us:

Ours are the plans of fair delightful peace,
Unwarped by party rage to live like brothers."

The campaign in Wake county for the past 30 days was one of the most aggressive we have ever known. Hard things were said by both sides. Rigid measures were adopted to secure success. But we congratulate one and all that amid it all there have been no wounds that need not be healed before another setting sun. The pistol, the knife, and the hickory stick were left at home.

Surely the victorious party need want no more, and can well afford to offer the olive branch, and the defeated party can expect to receive nothing more. This is our home, let's look to the peace and welfare of all.

Married.

BETTS—PORTER—On the 6th inst. by Rev. J. D. Pegram at Brooklyn Methodist Church, Mr. Wiley P. Betts to Miss Rosa Porter, both of this city. Waiters were Mr. E. McK. Goodwin and Miss Maggie Brewster; Mr. Geo. Boland and Miss Ida Pegram. The ushers were, W. J. Young, Jr., and J. B. Young. The church was handsomely decorated and a large attendance to witness the ceremony and extend congratulations were present. May they live long and be happy.

Personal Mention.

Mr. B. B. Fuller of Durham is in the city.
Mr. W. Duke, of Durham, is in the city.
Mr. D. C. Parks, of Wilson, is in the city.
We regret to learn that Mrs E. M. Martin is quite sick with fever, at 72 West Jones street.
Mrs. J. W. Barber and daughter Miss Minnie left this afternoon for Danville Va., to visit relatives and friends.
Mr. J. J. Johnson, Miss Carrie and Master Joseph, left this afternoon for Danville, Va.

Norris' Dry Goods Store

We ask for the trade of the public generally and our friends and customers in particular, making the attractive promise of the "best goods at lowest prices". The old business rule of "charge all the profits the customer will stand" we do not attempt. A close price makes a sale and a friend we sell close, get the money and lose nothing. A great many goods are being sold at less than manufacturers prices, and drives are being made in every department. Don't buy until you have seen our goods and heard our prices.

Furs.

We received a letter from our buyer yesterday, who is in New York, saying that he had struck a bonanza in furs of the finest grades. He bought quite a large line and when they arrive, which will be early next week, we shall, without doubt, be able to suit you in every way in muffs and furs. He also mentioned having secured some new styles of dress goods. These are some late novelties and are very popular North. The furs we desire to call your special attention to as being much better value for the money than any you have ever seen in the city. We invite all the ladies to call and examine the stock on their arrival, of which notice will be given. Millinery goods and new shapes are also among this trip's purchases. No extra tariff yet. Prices are even lower than formerly on a good many goods, at
