Local notices in this paper will be Five Cents per line each insertion.

LARGEST CITY CIRCULATION.

In and Around the City.

Birds plentiful.
Market well supplied.
Advertise in the VISITOR.
Land companies booming.
Did you ever see more beautiful weather?
Flowers will remain fresh for a fortnight if a little carbonate of soda is mixed with the water.

The Legislature meets on the first Wednesday after the first Monday in January next, which is the 7th of the month.

The Union Mission is surely becoming a popular place with the country people who remain over in the city during the night. The Mission was nearly full of them last night. Every night they come and appear to be deeply interested in the services.

Just keep your eyes open. We shall have something more to say about the mayoralty soon; and then we shall take up something else. Subscribe for the VISITOR and be ready. Lightning may strike you.

More light has been the cry for these many nights, and yet darkness prevails in many localities; and Jack the Grabber holds high carnival on some of our streets. Gentlemen, turn on more light. We cannot, as a city, afford to stumble around in darkness as we have been compelled to do for a long time. Hurry up the arrangements that are talked of.

We direct special attention to the advertisement of Mr. D. S. Waitt, one of the leading clothiers of this city. Mr. Waitt has in store a splendid stock of everything pertaining to the clothing line, and there is no house in North Carolina that can offer better inducements. Let everybody in want of clothing give him a call. Strangers visiting Raleigh should by all means see his vast emporium of trade.

Governors' Guard.

At a meeting of the company held last night fifteen additions were made to the membership. After the meeting the company drilled on the streets under command of Capt. Batchelor and presented a fine appearance.

Died.

We regret to announce that Rev. J. T. Harris, Superintendent of the Oxford Orphan Asylum, died in Durham this morning at 11 o'clock. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Attention, Odd Fellows!

Will meet tomorrow night at 7 o'clock. Work in the Second Degree; candidates are earnestly urged to be on hand at 7:30 o'clock sharp. Refreshments after conclusion of work. All Odd Fellows are cordially invited to attend.

H. A. Latham for Reading Clerk

H. A. Latham, editor of the Washington Gazette, is out for reading clerk of the House again. Mr. Latham served very efficiently, and very acceptably two years ago, and with the experience of the last session his election to that position would doubtless be the thing for the new House of Representatives to do.

A High Old Time at the Capital Club Yesterday.

A certain young man from the west came very near being seriously injured yesterday at the Capital Club. While on a spree, he broke things up pretty badly in the building, and then in a fit of mad fury ran square through a window and fell on the pavement, severely cutting and bruising himself. His wounds were dressed, and he is reported to have the big head this morning.

Rev. J. T. Harris.

It is with profound sadness many in the State will receive the sad intelligence of the death of Rev. J. T. Harris, Superintendent of the Oxford Orphan Asylum. He was 46 years of age, was in the Confederate army until the surrender of Johnson's forces at Bentonville, S. C., 1865. He entered the ministry in 1870 and was a Presiding Elder at the time of his election to the Superintendency of the Orphan Asylum about the 1st of Sept. of this year. He and the present Grand Master Smith were orphan boys together in the same house in childhood. He was a useful man and greatly beloved.

Winter Gardens.

While looking around the city and listening to the various suggestions on all sorts of topics, a prominent gentleman remarked that a man who had any ground and did not make a point of cultivating a winter garden, wasted his land and lost his best season for profits. Vegetables are scarce in Raleigh every winter and sell at fine prices. Such winter vegetables as cauliflowers, kale, spinach, turnips, celery, etc., do not abound in our market as they should, during the winter, and if some of our market gardeners would give more attention to the cultivation of all sorts of winter vegetables for the table, they would realize large profits. During the winter their cultivation will be inexpensive. There are numbers of small gardens in the city which could be made to yield abundantly to the families occupying them at very little cost.

Personal Mention.

Mr. Ed. M. Ennis is sick.
Maj. W. M. Robbins, of Statesville, is in the city.
Lt. Gov. Holt has returned to his home in Alamance.
Mr. Walter Henry, of Henderson, was in the city yesterday.
Miss Lizzie Dortch is visiting relatives in Raleigh.
Hon. Geo. V. Strong has been to Goldsboro on professional business.
Miss Mabel Upchurch has gone to Birmingham, Ala., to visit relatives.
Mr. P. Bond, of Southern Pines, was in the city yesterday.
Miss Nannie Marshburn, of Eagle Rock, this county, is visiting friends in Durham.
Mr. Robert Grissom, late of the firm of Lee, Johnson & Co., left yesterday for Colorado, in which State he will make his future home.
Mrs. T. D. Watson is very ill with typhoid fever at home in the western suburbs of the city. Great fears are apprehended as to her recovery. Her sisters, one from Durham and one from Chatham county, are with her.

Chamber of Commerce.

A meeting was held last night, Mayor Thompson being in the chair in the absence of President Latta. On motion of Alderman Moring, a report was adopted, that the city authorities petition the legislature to pass such laws as will enable them to take in charge and improve the sidewalks of the city; that the board of aldermen be requested to appoint a committee to act with a committee of the Chamber of Commerce to arrange the details of said legislation, and that the city authorities be requested to purchase a steam roller to be used in connection with the county rock crusher, if arrangements can be made to that end with the County Commissioners.

Mr. Ellington, of Ellington, Royster & Co., was present, and on being requested to make a statement, said that he had bid on the depot three times, and that the second bid had been mislaid, and that a duplicate of it was sent to Maj. Winder yesterday. Alderman Upchurch stated that property holders on Martin Street were desirous of having paving done on Marting Street, and were willing to pave their portion.

Mr. Jones, President of the Raleigh

Street Railway stated that the electric system was a certainty and one of the gentlemen, who had bought the Raleigh Street Railway, was on the way here to effect the establishment of the electric system. On motion, a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Jones for his efforts in the behalf.

Dr. Hines spoke in regard to lighting the city, and said that the present lighting was very inadequate. He also called attention to the fact that Morgan street had never been opened to the city limits, and that this street should be open as it was needed as an outlet. He also suggested that property owners have their gates arranged to open inside the fences. On motion these matters were referred to the committee on city improvements.

Mr. Pace moved that Mr. Moring be requested to confer with the board of aldermen and county commissioners with regard to opening Morgan street. The motion was adopted.

Mr. Upchurch moved that the widening of South Fayetteville street be referred to the committee on street improvements, with request that they accomplish the same.

B. & O. Southern Connections

Morning Herald.

United States Senator John W. Daniel, of Virginia, with a party of business men and capitalists from Lynchburg had a conference yesterday in the Baltimore and Ohio Central Building with President Mayer and Vice-Presidents Smith and Lord with regard to extending the Valley Branch of the Baltimore and Ohio from Lexington to Lynchburg. The distance is 50 miles. Senator Daniel, who spoke for the delegation, pointed out the advantages that would accrue to the road by making the extension, and gave an interesting and elaborate description of the surrounding country and its resources. President Mayer promised to take the matter into consideration and have a thorough investigation made.

The B. & O. has had several surveys taken with a view of extending its Valley Branch, including a contemplated extension to Salem and to Roanoke. At the latter point, if this extension is built, the road will tap the Roanoke and Southern, and through it connect with the Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley, making a complete route from Baltimore to Wilmington, N. C.

Should the B. & O., accede to the request of the Lynchburg delegation, the extension that way will connect at Balcony Falls with the Richmond and Alleghany road, and at Lynchburg with the Richmond and Danville systems and other roads running south and southwest.

Norris' Dry Goods Store.

The moderate profits we place on our goods is the open secret that satisfied customers discuss among their friends. Close buyers can't afford to make any purchase until they have heard our prices and examined our goods.

5,000 yards of handsome Prints	5 to 7½
3,000 " " Golden Seal Percals	12½
2,000 " " 6½ Cashmeres	12½
1,000 " " 40 inch Henriettas	25
800 " " Claw and Tartan Plaids	50 to 85.

Messrs Mills, Robeson & Smith, one of the leading banking firms in New York, have been compelled to make an assignment on account of heavy forgeries committed by Albert H. Smith, the junior partner, amounting to $340,000. The forgeries consisted in raising the figures and written amounts on certificates of stocks and pledging the same as collaterals for their fictitious value. Smith has made a full confession. It was one of the most extensive frauds ever committed in New York.
