LARGEST CITY CIRCULATION.

In and Around the City.

Merchants busy.
Get your turkeys.
Tobacco booming
Cotton coming in freely.
And still the pretty weather continues.

Electric lights were turned on at the cotton factory last night.

A knitting factory is the latest talk, with prospects of early consummation.

The Governor has appointed Gardon Sargeant, of Forsyth, a notary public.

We are in receipt of the North Carolina Teacher for November. It is a number of unusual interest.

The knowing ones say, that the tobacco business in Raleigh, this season, will be double that of last year.

The sale of stock by Capt. B. P. Williamson was quite well attended today and is still in progress as we go to press. Some of the stock sold at very low prices. We will endeavor to give a more full account of the sale tomorrow.

Yesterday afternoon sparks from a locomotive set on fire the fence around the premises lately occupied by Mrs. Dr. Parker, near the western limits of the city. Before discovered the flames had nearly reached the residence and it required some hard fighting to subdue them. It was however accomplished, and little damage was the result.

The "Great American Chinaman" Mr. L. R. Wyatt, is surely coming to the front as a laundryman of the best Chinese style. He comes out every morning with one of the handsomest, and most substantial laundry wagons we have seen at all. The wagon was built by Messrs. Evans & Martin, who by the way, are turning out some very substantial and handsome work.

We call attention to the advertisement of Prof. S. B. Nye, oculist and optician of New York City, who is stopping at the Yarbrough House. Prof. Nye is well known to our citizens as he has been visiting Raleigh for the past twenty years. We cheerfully recommend him to all who desire anything in his line.

Attention, Odd Fellows!

Will meet tonight at 7 o'clock sharp. Work in the Second Degree; candidates are earnestly urged to be on hand at 7:30 o'clock sharp. Refreshments after conclusion of work. All Odd Fellows are cordially invited to attend.

Electric Cars.

Well, well. Thanks to our progressive citizens we are to have electric street cars. Then we can hustle back and forth and let the poor horses rest. One great advantage about electric cars is that it is not necessary to do so much grading. Electricity don't care anything about hills. Electric cars run up hill just as fast as down, and don't have to wait to get to the top before they can stop.

Look to Your House Tops.

A practical gentleman suggests that now is a good time to stop leaks, or prevent them, in your house tops. The leaves are falling and accumulating on the tops of houses and if allowed to remain will cause leaks that would not otherwise occur. He stated that a certain house in the city covered with tin had weeds growing this summer eight or ten inches high, or long which found root in the accumulations allowed to remain on the roof. Of course it will not be long before that part of the roof will be rusted through and leaking.

Personal Mention.

Rev. Sam Watts, of Auburn, is sick.
Maj. W. A. Graham, of Lincoln county, is here.

Dr. T. L. Banks, of Panther Branch township, is in the city.

Mr. Dewitt Smith is in town looking as comfortable as usual.

Ex Senator H. B. Adams, of Union, and Mr. J. H. Ferree, of Randleman, are at the Yarbrough.

Mr. J. D. Riggan has been confined at his home sick, on Hargett street, for several days.

Hon. S. B. Alexander, who has been attending the meeting of the Alliance Executive Committee, returned home yesterday.

Good for the Wagon Factory.

We are informed that the North Carolina Wagon Factory has orders for a car load of wagons each day; and that in order to fill these orders they propose putting in electric lights and running the factory day and night. This only shows how industries may be built up with judicious management and proper energy. This wagon factory promises to be a fine paying institution to the stockholders, and is valuable to the community in that it furnishes employment to quite a number of men at good wages. We hail with pleasure this indication of solid success thus early in the career of the factory, and suggest that others may be organized and succeed as well. Combination and co operation will result in success in many directions if adopted. Here is another cue for the Chamber of Commerce.

A Charming Entertainment.

The entertainment at Neuse Tuesday night was a success in every respect. The weather was delightful, and everybody seemed to come happy and went away very happy. Every feature of the occasion and every face present seemed to be filled with merry life. Indeed, it was so exceedingly pleasant we were loth to see the parting hour come. Raleigh and Wake Forest were both well represented. The young ladies of Neuse deserve special credit for their effort and success. Everything nice for the inner man was served in abundance by the fair sex. The proceeds, which amounted to $41.71, were given for the benefit of their church (Mt. Vernon). We hope some time in the near future they may have occasion to so delightfully entertain us again.

Raleigh's Progress.

There is no doubt about it, Raleigh is steadily growing. A stroll in any direction would convince anyone who has eyes to see, and ears to hear. There is more building going on here at the present time than there has been for years. Elegant residences, and beautiful cottages are springing up in every direction. All the carpenters and masons in the city are busy. The Raleigh Cotton Mill is booming, and giving employment to a great many worthy boys and girls, and the North Carolina Wagon Factory is turning out a great many wagons, and yet it cannot supply the demand. The shops of all artisans in the city give evidence of increasing business, and the stores are full of goods, and the merchants are doing a good business. The sales of cotton here this year will reach over 40,000 bales, and our tobacco market is growing vigorously. A brighter time for all business has come to our beautiful capital city. Our Land and Improvement Companies promise to do much to keep up this thrift.

Thanksgiving day will soon be here and all our people should turn out with thankful hearts, and give praise to God for His great goodness to us, and the prosperity He has given us.

Smoke the celebrated Pansy Queen—a good 15 cent cigar. For sale by J. Hal Bobbitt.

The Chrysanthemum.

The following taken from an Exchange will no doubt interest some of our readers.

The chrysanthemum belongs to the very extensive world wide natural order composite or daisy flowers. In the cultivated form it originated at a very remote period. The evidence we possess points to the existence in the Chinese Empire of cultivated varieties for at least 2,500 years. The progenitor of these varieties was very probably chrysanthemum indicum, a species indigenous to China, Corea and Japan, with a small single and yellow color flower. The earliest literary reference to the chrysanthemum we find in the "Li Ki" of Confucius, written about 500 years before Christ. It is the national flower of the Chinese, and no other flower is so conspicuous in their gardens and houses, and is everywhere an emblem of everything that is graceful and beautiful.

Married.

BYNUM—FREEMAN—On Wednesday, the 19th inst. at the bride's residence, on East Hargett street and in the presence of a number of friends of the young couple, Mr. Raymond Bynum, a former resident of this city, to Miss Emma Freeman, daughter of Mr. Jas. Freeman, the Rev. Dr. J. H. Cordon, officiating.

The bride looked supremely lovely in a rich, brown traveling suit, and after receiving the congratulations of their numerous friends, the happy couple left town by the evening mail on a trip to the South.

MITCHELL—SMITH—At the Exchange Hotel, in this city yesterday morning at 11 o'clock, Mr. A. P. Mitchell, manager of the Western Union Telegraph Office at Asheville, was united in marriage to Miss Fannie Smith, daughter of Mrs. R. W. Smith, Rev. Dr. Carter, officiating. After the ceremony the contracting parties left on a bridal tour for Richmond, Va., followed by the best wishes of many friends.

STEPHENSON—WHITAKER—At the residence of Mrs. Willis Whitaker, two miles north of this city yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Mr. Thos. Stephenson was united in marriage to Miss Cora Whitaker, Rev. Dr. J. S. Watkins officiating. Our best wishes attend them.

Josh Billings' Resolutions.

If a lovely woman smacks me on one cheek I will turn her the other also.

I will try to be honest, but it will be just my darn luck 'tew miss it.

I won't bet on nothing, for things that require betting lak something.

I will respect public opinion just ez long ez I kan respect myself in doing it.

When I hear a man bragging on his ancestors, I won't envy him, but I will pity the ancestors.

It iz just as natural tew be born rich as poor, but is seldom so convenient.

I wont hanker for happiness, but if I see any thet I think iz a bargain I will shut up one eye and go for it.

I wont advise enny body until I kno the kind of advice they are anxious tew follow.

I wont ware enny more tight boots if I hev tew go barefoot tew do it.

Repents Her Hasty Marriage.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Nov. 18.—Thos. Alphonse Berryman and wife registered at a hotel here last Thursday as coming from Boston. Tonight Mr. Berryman is registered at the Onondaga penitentiary under a sentence of one year. He was arrested on Saturday for larceny, having stolen and pawned two overcoats from guests at the hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Berryman were married in Portland, Me., about two months ago, and since then have travelled extensively. They came here from New York and got out of funds. The young man is highly educated and come from a good family. He claimed that his love for his young and pretty wife led him to steal. Mrs. Berryman exposed him, and now confesses that they were clandestinely married and that her brother had threatened to shoot her husband on sight. Mrs. Berryman has sent home for money and is very repentant over her hasty marriage to a man she had known only a few weeks.

What a Postage Stamp Done.

A postage stamp is a small thing, but its capabilities for weal or woe to a great many people sometimes is great. You may never have thought of it in this light; but a single stamp has been known to work wonders. We have a case in point; we will give it to you and let you judge for yourself; on November 5th we received a stamp with a letter under it, telling us of a sheriff's sale of clothing and ladies cloaks from a very large house in New York that had more goods than money. We got on the first train leaving the city; we attended the sale which proved to be beyond a doubt the grandest opportunity we ever had offered us. We bought a more elegant line than we ever had, even at much more money. We brought them to the city and have them now, ready for your judgment. So you see the great amount of good that one little stamp has done to a great many people in Raleigh by causing them to be able to get much nicer and better goods and for less money than ever before in their lives. This little story is not fiction but facts which you will find.
