

PUNISHMENT CAME SWIFTLY.

A Negro Murderer Hanged and Riddled With Bullets by Negroes

GREENWOOD, Miss., Dec. 9.—Gus Aron, one of the best known citizens of the county, was murdered yesterday at his store at Boebuck Landing, Yazoo river. Dennis Martin, with several other negroes, engaged in a game of crap close to Mr. Aron's store. A disturbance was raised, when Mr. Aron went out to remonstrate with them. Martin made some slighting remarks about Mr. Aron, when Aron advanced on him. Martin drew his pistol, remarking he would allow no white man to come near him. Aron being unarmed, retreated, when Martin fired upon him without effect. Mr. Aron went into his store, and Philip Thomas, followed by several other colored men, went out so search for Martin, and upon finding him, carried him to apologize to Mr. Aron, saying nothing serious would be done with him.

They took good care to search his pockets, and not finding any weapon in them, considered him harmless.

Mr. Aron, upon meeting the negro, said:

"You scoundrel, I have been a friend to you ever since I have been here."

The negro pulled a revolver which he had concealed up his sleeve and fired point blank at Mr. Aron, the ball taking effect in the region of the heart, killing him almost instantly. Martin then turned and fired upon several others who were in the store at the time, among them Philip Thomas who took up a double barreled shot gun and fired at Martin, breaking both his arms, and mistaking him for dead, all attention was turned upon Mr. Aron. In the meantime Martin managed to get away, and his absence being discovered, a posse of colored people started out to hunt for him. They found him and he was swung to a limb and his body riddled with bullets.

Mr. Aron was from Germany, and was a prominent Mason. He leaves a widow and one child.

Joyless Childhood

New York Journal.

The streets of Antwerp, Belgium, are paved with stone. What is striking in the inhabitants at first sight is their small size. The Belgians are a short race and exceedingly industrious. Their country is said to be the most densely populated in Europe. Wages are very low, and on the farms and in the gardens the women do the same laborious work (and sometimes more laborious) than the men do. They are excellent gardeners and nothing is allowed to go to waste. In a sense they may be termed the Chinese of Europe.

The children in Antwerp show the effect of the heavy monotonous life of their parents. They dress in clumsy, awkward garb which gives them an old man look, and they wear wooden shoes which prevent any of the light frisky movements of gamboling childhood.

Their games are few and simple; in fact, they seem to believe they were made to work as soon as they could stand, and their play bears the air of those who think they ought really to be doing something else.

Shoes and Shoos.

It is a well known fact that there are shoes that wear and shoes that do not wear. Shoes that fit and shoes that do not fit. In buying of us it is all smooth sailing. We buy only goods that have stood the test of trial, and have them made to our own order by the best makers of the country.

SIGHT IS PRICELESS

Which every one should remember and therefore should do their utmost in preserving their eyes. Prof. Nye, the optician of New York City, who is now and has been at the Yarboro House for the past four weeks, will give the best advice and a thorough examination of the eyes free of charge and will adjust his superior glasses so as to give sight similar to that, one experiences in youth. He does not only give his attention to fitting persons requiring the use of glasses from age, but also making tests for abnormal cases which are more frequently found in young patients, such defects as Hypermetropia (far sight), Myopia (near sight), Presbyopia (old sight), simple, mixed and compound Astigmatism (irregular curve of the cornea), Anisometropia (unequal refraction of two eyes, &c. Those desiring to be fitted at their residence will be called upon without any extra charge.

Very respectfully,
S. B. NYE,
