

Woman.

BY ROSE HARTWICK THORPE.

A queen in her beautiful garments, She stands on the ramparts today To herald the dawn, and the cerements
Of her past are folded away.

She stands with the prophets and sages;
She speaks, and her tongue is a flame, Leaping forth from fires which for ages Have smoldered in silence and shame.

Her feet have come up from the valleys;
They are climbing the mountains of light;
At her call the world rouses and rallies,
Bearing arms in the battle of right.

She treads on the serpent that struggles
And grinds out its life 'neath her heel;
She grapples with sorrows that wrong her,
Converting her woe into weal;

Made strong through her slaughtered affections,
She comes with her sons by her side,
An angel of power and protection,
Their beacon light, leader and guide.

No longer a timorous being,
To cringe and to cry 'neath the rod But quick to divine, and far seeing,
She hastens the purpose of God.

We Miss the State Papers.

Charlotte News.

All the State papers have shut down for the holidays, and the News feels mighty lonesome. In our mail today we got two or three metropolitan dailies, three patent medicine circulars, and a pot metal prospectus.
"You never miss the water 'till the well runs dry."

The News has at different times voiced its appreciation of the excellence of the North Carolina papers, both daily and weekly, and we think this a good time to once more refer to the State papers. The Democrat is the only paper we get from Asheville and it is a credit to Western North Carolina. The Daily Citizen is said to be a good paper, but we never see it. Durham has a fine little paper in the Sun, edited by Mr.
Jas. A. Robinson, who formerly did newspaper work in Charlotte. Raleigh was never so well supplied with papers as at present. Capt. Ashe's old reliable News and Observer continues to maintain its fine standard; the State Chronicle remains a rattling good daily, and the EVENING VISITOR fills the needs of Raleigh for a live afternoon paper. Wilmington, with the Star, Messenger and Review could not be better fixed in the way of papers. Greensboro has the Daily Record and Workman, the Patriot and the North State. Salisbury's Herald and Watchman are doing fine work for that town. Concord has the bright and breezy Standard and the influential Times. Monroe's interests are looked after by the Express. The Statesville Landmark is as bright as ever, and if Statesville was proud of it years ago it should be more so now, for you may pick out the best weekly in any particular Southern State and it will not beat the landmark.

There are a good many other of our State exchanges we would like to mention, but we have not the space today. It gives the News pleasure to note that the State press is, apparently, in better condition now than it has been since the war. The editors seem to thrive, and they deserve to, for North Carolina never had a more able, energetic, or more vigorous set of editors than the set now presiding over her newspapers.

The Alta says: "Kilkenny has not seen such a lively time since the cats fought down to the tips of their tails." This same Alta further says:
"Miss Annie Baxter, Democrat, was elected Clerk of Jasper county Mo., by a majority of 8,000, but an gallant Julius Fisher, her Republican opponent, will contest her election." If Jule is single he might arrange with her to get a support out of the office by matrimony we should think.

Castoria

For Infants and Children.

Castoria promotes Digestion, and overcomes Flatulency, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, and Feverishness.
Thus the child is rendered healthy and its sleep natural. Castoria contains no Morphine or other narcotic property.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 South Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"I use Castoria in my practice, and find it specially adapted to affections of children."
ALEX. ROBERTSON, M. D., 107 2d Ave., New York.

"From personal knowledge and observation I can say that Castoria is an excellent medicine for children, acting as a laxative and relieving the pent up bowels and general system very much. Many mothers have told me of its excellent effect upon their children."
