Sentenced.

Several weeks since, four young men, Joe Martin, Sam Daniels, Joe Davis and Fon Jones, were arrested and held under the charge of entering the house of Mr. S. R. Gill, near Falls of Neuse and taken therefrom $150. Yesterday they were arraigned in court, when petitions were offered signed by Mr. Gill and others, asking that the prisoners be tried for burglary in the second degree. Solicitor Poy consented to submit the case of three of them on that charge when Judge Winston sentenced Martin and Daniels to thirty years in the penitentiary, and Davis to ten years. As Jones is a mere lad he was only found guilty on a charge of larceny and sentenced to work on the public roads for five years.

A Peremptory Notice to the Members of the Legislature.

We hereby notify each member of the Legislature and the clerks who are to serve that honorable assembly that Swindell is keeping the largest kind of a stock of silk hats and other hats, overcoats and suits of clothing in any style wanted. Also a big and complete stock of stationery and all kinds of writing material at a price far below anything you have seen. One of the best bargains we have now or ever had, is a lot of white shirts, laundered and unlaundried, for men and boys.

Constitutionality,
D. T. SWINDELL.

Fabio Romani.

A large and highly appreciated audience assembled at Metropolitan Hall last night to witness the rendition of the above tragedy. There has rarely, if ever been an occasion on which our dramatic loving people have been more delightfully entertained. The Company is composed of splendid artists in all respects, and especially can we commend Mr. Walter Lawrence, who sustained the title role ably assisted by Miss Frances Field as his support. The costumes of the company are elegant and beautiful and the entire outfit magnificent. We wish them abundant success "on the road."

Died.

In this city, Tuesday evening, Jan. 6th, after a brief illness of pneumonia, little Minnie May, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Adams, aged 2 months and 22 days.

Well we remember a few days ago
A sweet smiling little face,
That we shall here see no more
In its accustomed place.

It lies beneath the sod,
In a cold little grave,
Where the wild trees nod
And in the breezes wave.

Off in our lonely hours
We will turn our footsteps there,
And gather the sweetest of flowers
And plant them gently there.

But soon we shall sleep
By her side beneath the sod,
Where the sweet flowers peep
And the oak trees nod. ***

Tribute of Respect.

At a regular meeting of Raleigh Typographical Union, No. 54, held in their hall in the Citizens National Bank building on the evening of Jan. 7th, 1891. The following resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, It has pleased our heavenly Father to remove from time to eternity our brother Langdon H. King, Raleigh Typographical Union, No. 54, offers this tribute of respect:

RESOLVED, That in the death of Bro. L. H. King, Raleigh Typographical Union loses an efficient, faithful and worthy member. Being human, he was not exempt from all the weaknesses of humanity, but he possessed in a large degree many noble traits of character which drew the brethren toward him. He was kind hearted and generous and ever ready to respond to the appeals of those in distress, and gave of his means without stint.

RESOLVED, That we extend to his bereaved wife and little children our heartfelt sympathy in this their hour of sore affliction, and we invoke the blessings of God upon them.

RESOLVED, That a copy of this tribute be furnished the family of the deceased and be spread upon the minute book of this Union, and that the same be furnished the Daily Chronicle—the paper upon which the deceased held cases at the time of his death—and other city papers for publication.

Johnstown Threatened Again.

The city of Johnstown, Pa., is again threatened by flood. Near Hogback Tunnel an ice gorge has formed; the blocks being frozen solid to a height of ten feet. Great destruction is feared if this mighty dam lets go suddenly.

In Canada marriage license vendors advertise their business as notaries public do theirs. We have seen the sign:—"Marriage licenses for sale here," hanging at a dry goods store door in London, Ont. We did not inquire the price as we did not want one.

Foreign Real Estate Ownership.

English capitalists are looking at this country as an inviting field for investment, and more particularly to North Carolina as the most inviting, but unnaturalized people should not be permitted to hold real estate in this country.

So far as any profits accruing from the cultivation or mining of such lands are concerned, they are all carried out of the country when owned by non-residents, which should not be tolerated. If North Carolina has no law to this effect the present Legislature should enact one.

Rebellion Threatened.

Newfoundland is greatly excited and very indignant over the renewal of "modus vivendi" with France for another year. When the news was announced crowds congregated in Placentia, and in the strongest terms condemned this treacherous act. Many suggested the pulling down of the British flag and hoisting in its stead the stars and stripes and appeal to America for protection.

The Governor will be urged to call a meeting of the Legislature to take action in reference to it.

The President of the Mexican Republic has signed, it is said, the reciprocity bill recently passed by the Congress of Mexico. This gives us one free market for our corn and a free market from which we can get free sugar.

OUR ANNUAL CLEARING SALE.

—ON—

MONDAY, JAN. 5,

We begin our annual clearing sale. Now, we do not mean by this, that every piece of stuff we have is marked down, but carrying the quantity of stock we do, the amount of goods included in this sale will probably amount to $50,000.

The goods included in this sale we wish placed before Feb. 1st as then we take our Annual Inventory, and we had rather have these goods sold at even greatly reduced prices than have them upon our shelves at that time. This is a golden opportunity for economical buyers, and when shopping at the different departments, ask for the goods included in this sale, because we have lots of stuff that will be turned into money by Feb. 1st.
