LARGEST CITY CIRCULATION.

RALEIGH, JANUARY 16 1891.

Stop It.

It is in order for the legislature to stop this business of making the railroad companies a present of a certain amount of convict labor. The thing has gone far enough. Put a ball and chain on it so that it can't get out of sight. There is no more reason why a railroad should be given convicts to work its line than that the same gentlemen in striped suits should be sent down here to turn our cylinder press. The railroad company that can't pay its way now a days had best stay at home.

THE ARIZONA KICKER.

Eastern Journalists Have to Get Acclimated.

In its last issue, which was three days late, owing to circumstance below narrated, the Arizona Kicker says:

One more Unfortunate—The other week a tenderfoot who said he had been a reporter on the Pittsburg Chronicle, came along and struck us for a job, and we set him to work Monday on the agricultural department of the paper. We warned him against this strange country, and he must not attempt to handle anything until he first asked the name of it. After two or three hours he got the swell head and went out to chin with the boys, and that afternoon we buried him. He had heard tell of jack rabbits, but had never seen one, and somebody made him believe that Col. Moore's mule, which was tied near the postoffice, was one of the gentle creatures of the plains. He was looking to see if the rabbit's feet were webbed when the calamity came. "Mortum bum," which is Latin for "he didn't know it was loaded," and we have his latch key, five cents in money, and a summer necktie, which we will forward to his friends on request.

Told Him So—Three months ago, when a young man who had stuck type for 25 cents per M on a Cleveland paper, and had knocked off because he couldn't agree with the editorial policy of the paper, came out here to establish a plant and grow wool on his back, we sat down and talked to him like a brother. There's nothing mean about us. We don't want the earth. We have a great weekly newspaper, a butcher shop, grocery, saddlery, shoe shop, millinery store and signal service bureau all under one roof, and we don't care how many other enterprises are established in this wild West.

This young man planned to start a weekly over at Pedro valley, and we warned him to pitch into the Czar of Russia and go light on the boys at home. That's the safe policy, while learning to shoot right and left handed. He didn't seem to take kindly to our advice, and our last words, as we lent him sixteen letters out of our font of job type, were to prepare for the uphill and downhill of the hereafter. The sequel proves that we were correct. He issued one edition.

JABBED HIS HOME SUBSCRIBERS and now he sleeps on lot No. 17, section 21, of Tower's subdivision of the 2000 acre tract. He died a victim to the climate, assisted by willing hands.

Took a Walk—Any particular lack of interest on our editorial page this week must be laid to a little incident which occurred Tuesday afternoon.

A cross-eyed pressman, who was working his way from San Francisco to Boston to see his mother die, had put in a couple of weeks with us as literary editor. He seemed a prudent, level-headed fellow, and we passed in his copy without reading it. What did he do but ring in a little paragraph to the effect that four aces always beat a royal flush, no matter what old liar held to the contrary. Colonel Johnson, who is Arizona authority on poker, came around to look at our man and ask where and how we had captured him, and he had scarcely stepped inside the office when the pressman lost his nerve and began to shoot.

What was the Colonel's gain was our loss. We had a finger split by a bullet, the devil got a rake across his skull and the foreman now carries his arm in a sling. The Colonel, it is needless to say, was untouched. When our young man got through shooting at everybody except the man he wanted to hit, we assisted to take him out, head him for the cactus plantation and start him off. He won't see his mother die—not if he keeps on in that direction. Tenderfoots sailing in this direction should bear in mind that our customs, ways and habits are somewhat different from those of Boston and New York, and on arriving in this locality they should expect to be advised and posted by citizens who can exhibit nine graves in their private burying grounds.

The Illinois World's Fair Exhibit.

The exhibit of Illinois at the World's Fair will be housed in an imposing structure. The State Board of Agriculture has agreed on the plans and located the site. The building will be two stories in height, with floor space of 100,000 square feet and observation towers 145 feet high.

Virginia to Have an Exposition.

RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 15.—The Virginia Agricultural and Mechanical Society, at its meeting held today, decided to hold a State Fair here next fall, and a grand State Exposition one year later. It was considered that it would take at least a year to prepare for such an exposition as is desired.

The far West has become so thickly settled, highly civilized and thoroughly policed that the road agents have found it dangerous to work out there, and have transferred their field of operations in the wilds of Chicago. The mail wagons there offer convenient and profitable means of raising stakes. A haul of $3,000 was made in one job recently.

A speaker at an anti-tobacco meeting in Washington the other day frankly admitted that under certain circumstances the use of tobacco resulted in the saving of life. This caused great consternation in the meeting, until she—for it was a woman—explained her remark by saying that cannibals will, under no circumstances, eat a missionary who is a tobacco user.

Near Walker, Vernon County, Mo., a miner excavated a petrified foot twenty three inches long and twenty inches around the instep, supposed to be that of a giant. The miner has been offered $150 for it, but declines the offer.

GOLD IN GEORGIA.

The Peanut State Said to Contain the Richest Mines in the World.

NASHVILLE, Tennessee.—Colonel Dave A Quinn, internal revenue collector, returned recently from Lumpkin county, Ga. where he had been attracted by reports of a discovery of gold.

"It seems to me," he says, "one of the strangest things in history that men will go to Colorado, California, Montana, Idaho and other places, away out of all creation, and invest their millions in mines when right at Dablonaga, Ga. are the richest gold fields in the world. There are solid hills of gold quartz, entire hills mineralized, where the surface dirt, every pound of it, will pay well. There are mines being worked there that have made dozens of Eastern men rich. They have been coining money right along, and they are perfectly content that no one else should come in and share the good thing with them.

There are gold mines that have been prospected that are as good, if not better, than those being worked, and all in the world necessary is the capital to put in the machinery and work them. It is coming. Miners and moneyed men of the West have found it out. I met men there from California, Colorado and Montana, and who had mined all over the West, and they are buying claims and ordering machinery. The fact is that large Tennessee companies have organized—one capitalized at $3,000,000, and one for $10,000,000, and for five months they have had a responsible man quietly gathering up mines and mining lands. They have secured about thirty mines and over 2,000 acres of land."

Summons by Publication.

Sarah Cooper v Silas Cooper. Proceedings for divorce from the bonds of matrimony. A summons in the case having been issued for the defendant Silas Cooper, and the sheriff after using due diligence having returned the summons with the endorsement that the defendant is not to be found in Wake county, and it appearing by the affidavit of Sarah that the defendant Silas Cooper is in the State of Virginia and that personal service of the summons issued in the case cannot be had on the said Silas Cooper, it is therefore adjudged and ordered that service of the summons by publication once a week in the Daily Evening Visitor be made for six successive weeks, notifying said Silas Cooper that an action has been brought against him by his wife Sarah Cooper from the bonds of matrimony and that he appear at the next term of Wake Superior Court for the trial of civil causes which meets in the city of Raleigh on 23d day of February, 1891, and answer or demur to the complaint that will be filed during the first three days of the term; and if he does not appear and answer or demur that the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded in her complaint. This January 2d, 1891.
