THAT HOTEL AGAIN.

We feel to interested in the establishment of a winter resort hotel in Raleigh that we must be allowed to bring it forward again. Raleigh, like capital cities South generally, is 'specially suited for a winter resort, for Northern people of wealth. They cannot be induced to accept even our best hotels that do business with the general public. They want more of the unrestrained cocial features in elegant parlors and drawing rooms. but it must be with the select. They want such elegance and such coguests as will justify and require if you please, four or five dollars per day as the price for board.

For a man just to equip and open up a hotel and wait for northern people to come and apply for board, without any former information of his house, would be to keep on waiting. Let some enterprising citizen fit up a house in a first class style, then correspond with hotel men who run summer resorts North, get one of them to come down and arrange and conduct and put up a forfeiture if need be, to take the house, even if only half price is realized the first year or two. When it is established it will pay handsomely and permanently; and not only pay him, but soon require the multiplying of hotels of elegance and large capacity.

It is too distressingly slow and poky to sit quietly down and see other towns with less attractions, building up a transient trade that requires quadruple the hotel capacity that we can boast. A gentleman that helps along whatever is started in Raleigh for the well being of the city, by taking stock, stated to us yesterday that he was done taking stock in anything more until we get another hotel, that he is ready to help by taking stock in such an enterprise as soon as it is started. The Chamber of Commerce should turn their attention in this direction, and never "let up" until success is accomplished. Let the same committee that have been going around recently and succeeded so cleverly, now they have their hands in, go and get every body to take stock in a hotel.

Southern Pines' Barbecue.

Correspondence of the Visitor.

Excursions having been arranged between points in several northern and New England States and Southern Pines, many have improved the opportunity thus offered, to visit the South, and accordingly strangers (exenricaists)have been quite numerous in this resort for several days past Efforts have been made by the citizens to entertain the guests, by hunting parties, opossum and turkey dinners, barbecues and other fetes, characteristic of the South, with the success of all of which much satisfaction has been expressed. Notably a party was entertained at Hotel Ozone, Southern Pines, Couch & Holt, proprietors, on Wednesday evening, 11th inst. at a regular barbecue. Masses of beef and pigs entire, were served; roasted a la barbecue, together with all the accompaniments usual at such a feast. Evidently the caterers for the occasion understood their business and prepared a dinner which gave general satisfaction to the numerous guests-both of the neighborhood and strangers, who partook of it. This was made unquestionably evident by the relish with which the viands disappeared.

The dinner was followed by speaking, amusing and appropriate to the occasion, especially a desertation on the wholesomeness of pig flesh as on article of deet, in which several of the gentlemen present took part. As the discussion followed the eating, it made little difference what conclusion was, arrived at upon the question, whether pro or con-nor did it prevent the diners from consuming a generous allowance of the barbecued

Dr. Atkinson, of Philadelphia, was toastmaster, and added not a little to the general amusement by his humorous talk.

The dinner had been planned for the previous evening, but was postponed on account of stormy weather. It was feared this might interfere with the success of the occasion, but happily all fears were groundless, and both Mr. and Mrs. Couch have reason to congratulate themselves on the pleasure they gave their guests, who will doubtless avail themselves of an early opportunity to repeat the en-

SAVED A BABY FROM DEATH

Heroism of a Mother and the Thrilling Rescue of Her Child.

N. Y. Herald.

During a small tenemant house fire on the east side this week there was a thrilling incident that was not chronicled at the time. It occurred at a rear window in the second story. The flames had been extinguished with trifling damage, but the house was full of smoke.

Suddenly a woman tottered to the open window. In her arms she held a bundle, tightly clasped to her bosom. It was in white wrappings. Quickly the crowd of people in the yard below saw the woman. Great clouds of smoke whirled about her head in suffocating volumes, and the crodw called upon her to jump.

She hesitated, but extended the bundle at arm's length, from which at that moment there came a faint cry. It was a baby's voice. "Save my child!" implored the wo-

Instantly a blanket was procured and strong men held its corners.

"Drop it!" they shouted.

With her face averted the agonizing and imperilled mother let the baby fall. Down the little one fluttered like a white winged, wounded bird, with the despairing cry of "Mama" upon its lips. Lightly it struck the blanket, and a moment later it was taken up safe and sound, tut sobbing, by a motherly looking woman in the throng.

It required but a few minutes to raise ta ladder and rescue the selfsacrificing mother from her perilous position and restore her dimpled dailing to her arms.

This touching rescue was loudly cheered by the sympathatic speta-

FINDLEY, OHIO, February 10 .-Last Thursday Miss Demmie Mennet, the daughter of a wealthy farmer living south of the city, eloped with J. L. McClintock and went to Covington, Ky, where they were married. They returned home Sunday, but her parents refused to forgive her and last night she committed suicide by taking poison.

"Why do you put up that sign, Hands off," on the outside of the building?" "Because my men are on a strike."
