NEWS NOTES ABOUT THE CITY.

What Our Reporters See and Hear Worth Giving to Our Readers-News in Brief.

New Hanover county contributed six convicts to the "pen" yesterday.

The spinning jenny is still running at a lively rate. Next Monday the small boy will be happy. It is fisherman's day. The State flags are flying at half mast in honor of Gen. Joseph E. Johnston. The North Carolina State Sunday School Convention met in Fayetteville today. The white man Medlin who was shot at the penitentiary brick yard, is dead. Governor Fowle this morning appointed H. R. Boyer, of Allegany county, a notary public.

A paper is being circulated asking names to call a prohibition election in June. It is said that names are very hard so get.

Our country friends are taking advantage of the open weather, and are hard at work. Very few of them to be seen on our streets.

We have heard a great deal about mean men, but the man who fired Frank Brooks' stable and poured oil on his horses and fired them-well, he just takes the cake.

A boy, a banana peel, a dog and a pavement, came in contact yesterday on upper Fayetteville street. The dog got the worst of it, for the boy fell on him. The pavement was not damaged.

The funeral of Mr. John W. Moore took place today at 3 o'clock from Central Methodist Church, Rev. Dr. Nash officiating. A large crowd of relatives and friends attended.

The different cities and towns in the State are falling in line on the Exposition question. Every town and county should be at work on this line. The more the merrier, and the more good the State will derive from it. Keep her moving.

The Raleigh minstrels will hold the board at Metropolitan Hall Thursday night April 2nd. This troupe is composed of Raleigh talent entirely. They will no doubt draw a crowded house, be sure that you attend, as it will be the chance of a life time.

We call especial attention to the advertisement in this issue of Mr. D. S. Waitt, who is receiving daily new goods in the line of readymade cloth ing. While Mr Waitt is confined at home by sickness, he has some of the most accommodating clerks to be found in the city. Go and see them and they will give you good hargains.

Federal Tax on Liquor Dealers Not a License.

General Nettleton, acting Secretary of the Treasury at Washington, has issued a circuler letter, in reference to United Internal Revenue Tax on liquor dealers, showing that such rea ceipt is not a license but receipt only. The stamp or receipt will in the future have across the face the fol lowing: This stamp is simply a receipt for a tax due the Government and does not exempt the holder from any pen alty or punishment provided for by the law of any State for carrying on the said business within such State, and does not authorize the commencement nor the continuance of such business contrary to the laws of such State or in places prohibited by municipal law. See section 3,245 Revised Statutes U. S.

Flowers and new spring hats are exquisitely lovely at Swindell's.

A company headed by J. S. Carr has bought 2,000 acres of iron ore lands at Kings Mountain.

Durham's revenue bill for last week Was $7,825.57.

Gen. Joseph E. Johnston Dead. Another veteran of the Lost Cause passed away peacefully on the 22d at the residence of his brother in law. Ex-Governor McLane, of Maryland, in Washington City. Johnston and Lee graduated together at West Point in 1829. General Johnston was Quartermaster General in the United States Army in 1861 and resigned to cast his lot with the Confederate cause. One by one the standard bearers are passing away.

Cigar Factory.

Mr. J. M. Norwood, a prominent cigar manufacturer of Oxford, has de cided to move his factory to Raleigh. Jim is an old Raleigh boy, and we are proud to see him coming back. The factory will be in the second story of the Briggs Building. We we wish him much success.

What are You Preparing For.

A gentleman this morning asked us what we were preparing for and why we were buying such a tremendous stock this spring for (and winked his eye). Now what he meant by the wink I don't know, but suppose he meant we were preparing to make a break, and as he did not insist on an answer, we did not tell him what we meant by getting in such a big stock of goods. "Well," said he "you are prepared to do the proper thing in dry goods this spring, upon my word. I have never seen such a stock of goods opened in Raleigh, and the people are talking about your stock-how lovely it is. Nothing in town to compare with it." "Why," said he, "one is bewildered by the immensity of your stock." Then we took the gentleman upstairs to show him really our stock and he was dumbfounded, went off without speaking, muttering to himself that Swindell was up. This tremendous stock of goods means something. The last remark he made was: "Swindell is a hummer." Again we were mysti-Yours truly,

If I may use and gives promise of keeping it up, but peters out completely at the end of that time and runs quite dry. to vary it a little, a girl is like Old Faithful,' that geyser in Yellow stone Park, which spouts every fifty eight minutes regularly. After you have seen it once you know exactly when the next eruption will take place, you know to an inch how high and how large the column of water will be, and you are perfectly certain that it will never be different in the smallest degree from what it was when you first saw it. But men are like those other geysers that some time spout a feeble stream and at others rear a tremendous bulk, so that you never know what to expect and always have a feeling that the next eruption will be mighty beyond all previous ones. To be plain, you can never flatter yourself that you really know a man. And then there is always the shadow of his unknown past.
