NEWS NOTES ABOUT THE CITY.

What Our Reporters See and Hear Worth Giving to Our Readers—News in Brief.

The streets are getting dusty again.

The old Fowle residence is being connected with the sewerage system.

The Cotton Exchange and tobacco warehouses were lively places today.

Five thousand people are suffering with the gripe in Pittsburg, Penn.

The Mayor had only two cases to engage his attention this morning—one drunk, and a fight.

The grand jury was discharged this morning with many thanks and kind wishes by Judge Winston.

There is said to be 1,000 cases of gripe and measles in Raleigh at present.

Judge Thompson's office fairly swarmed this morning with witnesses proving their tickets.

That New York boy who was grafted to a dog's leg by the surgeons, should hasten to take something to keep the bark off.

There will be more building during the spring and summer in Raleigh than for years, among them a $150,000 hotel. Watch the progress.

Major Thomason's drum corps, with sixteen drums, raised considerable racket on Fayetteville street last night.

The funeral of Mrs. Pemborough Jones will be held from the residence this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The remains will be interred in the family burying ground.

Capt. Stronach will make an attractive place of Camp Russell. He only needs half a chance to make it one of the prettiest places around the city.

If this beautiful spring like weather continues until Monday, hundreds of people can be found on the streams around the city catching Mordecai minnows and Crabtree sinners.

The United States Congress, lately adjourned, were in session five hundred days. They expended money at the rate of $23 per second. How is this for high?

Wake county has nearly 60,000 in habits, her criminal docket being disposed of in three days. Speaks well for the county. No county in the State can beat this record.

By an accident the fire alarm was made to strike one tap last night about 9 o'clock, the whole department were ready and seemed anxious to move. There has not been an alarm of fire in Raleigh in over three months.

Mr. Jack Gill, who died yesterday at his residence in Brooklyn, was buried this afternoon. Mr. Gill was a good citizen and a faithful employee at the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad shops.

There will be a charming reception tonight at Somerset Villa, the home of Mr. J. S. Carr of Durham, complimentary to several visiting young ladies of distant States. Several young people will go up from Raleigh.

All the little mules belonging to the Raleigh Street Railway Company have been sold but two. The two remaining mules have been named Snodgrass and Jacob. Jacob was heard last night in a loud wail to say "listen to my tail of woe," when the chiming voice of Snodgrass was heard to say, "I had rather listen to the driver's whoa."

Capt. B. P. Williamson formally offered his resignation yesterday as County Commissioner. The resignation was placed on file, and was not acted upon by the board. Capt. Williamson is a progressive public spirited man, just such as Wake County needs at the head of her affairs and this information will be received with general regret.

These bright moonlight nights numerous couples can be seen hanging on the gates. It reminds us of old times, "befo' de wa'."

J. C. S. Lumsden has the greatest variety of bird cages ever seen in this city. The Old North State Cook Stove is still the leader on this market. Anything in the hardware line can be had of Lumsden at rock bottom prices.

There is more trouble in Washington. The country is in an uproar because Mrs. Harrison has appointed her sister as housekeeper. This, coming along at the same time with the New Orleans affair and the North Carolina revenue bill, the newly established oyster navy, trouble with England—all these things together, how can we survive it?

Street car gossip is certainly having a vigorous run just now. The hasty news men say work is about to begin, while the moss back croakers, with dropped chin and forlorn countenances, are shaking their heads and declaring that these iron street obstructions should be removed, as they will be of no use where they are any more. Hold on, gentlemen; things will come right after a while. Your croaking and gossip are alike useless.

I. O. O. F.

Regular meeting of Seaton Gales Lodge, No. 64, I. O. O. F., tonight at 7:30 o'clock. Candidates for the third degree will present themselves for the reception of the same, without fail, at a quarter to 8 o'clock.

Other business of importance will come before the Lodge, which requires the presence of every member.

A Mad Dog Scare.

A mad dog took the town of Youngsville, Franklin county, by storm Monday, his dogship came running down Broadway and turning into 4th street darted into a store and chewed up two cats; not satisfied with a bait of cats, he attacked six dogs, biting each of them. He was finally captured and killed by the Chief of Police.

Honoring Gen. Johnston.

THE CONFEDERATE VETERANS ASSOCIATION PAY A TRIBUTE TO HIS MEMORY.

At a meeting of the Confederate Veterans Association of North Carolina, held in pursuance to notice in the City Hall in Raleigh, on Tuesday, March 24, 1891, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted by a rising vote.

The surviving Confederate Soldiers of North Carolina feel it to be their sacred duty and high privilege to testify their devotion to their dead Commander General Joseph E. Johnston.

On every battle field from Bull Run to Bentonville, in which his valor, his genius and his strategy shed imperishable lustre upon the name of the Confederate Soldier, the troops of North Carolina were among his most faithful supporters.

By his unflinching courage in attack, his fertility of resources, his profound knowledge of the science of war in its broadest generalization and in its most minute detail, his ceaseless care for his soldiers upon the field and upon the march, has established a name that will live in history with those of Robert E. Lee and Stonewall Jackson.

When the supremacy of the Federal arms was thoroughly established, he indulged in no useless repining. His earnest endeavor, from the capitulation at Durham to the hour of his death, to restore permanent peace to the divided sections, gave him a warm place in the affections of every lover of his country.

His life work was over, his labors had borne their due reward, and full of age and honors he peacefully passed into the presence of his friends and comrades who had gone before.

We tender our heart felt sympathy to the bereaved relatives, and request the headquarters of the various associations in North Carolina to be draped in mourning for thirty days.

The Negroes' Exhibit at the Exposition.

A notable feature of the coming Southern Exposition will be the proposed display to be made by the colored people. Rev. J. C. Price, of Salisbury, N. C., was placed in charge of this work under the commission as chief promoter, and has been arranging for a mammoth exhibit for fully a year past, and at the same time has been more than any interested in the special exhibit to be made at Chicago Exposition by Southern people of color. Many wise heads look upon this move as the very best that could be devised through which the North can be brought to a more complete understanding of the Southern negro and his relations to the white people of the South. The colored people will have a display of their own, controlled by themselves and in a separate and distinct building, and they will be afforded every opportunity of showing off to the best advantage their skill and management.

This is an excellent feature, for if anybody loves the South better or can sing its praises louder than another, it is the Southern born negro; and besides all this, it will be a most effectual object lesson to Northern people who come to the Exposition.

New Alliance Secretary.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Farmers' Alliance held in this city today, Mr. W. S. Barnes, of Wilson, was elected Secretary to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Beddingfield. Messrs. Mewborne and S. B. Alexander composed the committee.

One colored couple decided to join themselves together "until death do them part" this morning. Register Myal issued the necessary papers.

Intelligent Shoppers.

People who go shopping with a level head, bent on spending there money where the best value can be had, where money will buy its full worth in good, honest merchandise; those people are intelligent shoppers. But when a man or a woman starts out to buy their goods from some merchant for friendship or any other personal feelings, that person is in the back ages—fifty years or more. If D. T. Swindell offers you good goods for any less money than any other merchant, then you will act wisely by buying from Swindell's. If Mr. A, B or C offers you better values than part with your money in their favor; but let it be strictly business with you; when you work for money you are strictly business; then why shouldn't you be just as business in spending money. If you wait your money by trading for friendship, you cannot get more by friendship, you must work for it. All we ask or desire is an opportunity to convince you that you can save money by trading at Swindell's. We have a stock much larger than any stock in town—of dry goods, of shoes, of clothing, of white goods, of carpets, notions, of gents' furnishing goods, and have the knowledge that we do sell for less price than any one else.
D. T. SWINDELL.

Four Good Things.

DR. KING'S ROYAL GERMETUER differs from ordinary medicines in four very important things:

1. IT DOES NOT TASTE LIKE MEDICINE. It is as pleasant as lemonade, and, sweetened, makes a most refreshing drink. Persons who object to all other medicines take this with real pleasure, because it is good.
  2. IT NEVER NAUSEATES. The most delicate stomach finds in this a perfect remedy without a single objection.
  3. IT NEVER SWAPS OFF ONE DISEASE FOR ANOTHER. It does not set up one form of disease in order to relieve another, as is the case with so many deadly drugs.
  4. IT DOES NOT PATCH SIMPLY. IT CURES. It reaches, as nothing else does, to the hidden sources of disease in the blood, and removes the cause. It does this with an ease and power that have never been equaled.
- NATURE, in her secret laboratories, has never produced a finer chemical compound, nor imparted to one such matchless gifts of healing. It is absolutely without a rival or a peer in its superb mastery of disease. It is truly, as Henry W. Grady said of it, "THE ULTIMA THULE OF MEDICINES."
Price $1.00 per bottle. Factory prices to dealers.
