A Valuable Addition.

Messrs. Ellington, Royster & Co. are preparing to add to their already extensive establishment a well equipped large steam saw mill. This will be a very valuable addition to the business of these gentlemen, and will be a matter of great convenience to this section.

Canary Lost.

Loula, the interesting little daughter of our friend, Mr. C. C. McDonald, has lost her canary bird, and is much distressed about it. The bird made its escape last Wednesday evening and went to Mr. Dughi's, of whom it was purchased. It perched for awhile in a tree and would have been captured but for being frightened off by an English sparrow. The bird is no doubt in the city somewhere, and we hope that if captured it will be returned to our little friend.

True Nevertheless.

Some people are ready to say Swindell don't sell goods cheaper than any other merchant, but their saying so proves they don't know. Every thing goes to show Swindell does sell cheaper than anyone else if he does not. Why has his business grown so much? If he does not, why do people continue to trade there. Why do people quit trading elsewhere and go to Swindell's. For dress goods, for millinery goods, for clothing, for shoes, for hats, for carpets, and for thousands of other things, Swindell does sell cheap.

Rex Hospital Fund.

At the last meeting of the Board of Aldermen a committee was appointed to confer with the committee in charge of the Rex Hospital fund. A joint meeting was held this morning and appointed a committee consisting of R. H. Battle, R. T. Gray and J. N. Holding to advise concerning the selling of the property in the southeastern part of the city and invest in other property. The same committee is to appear before the Board of Aldermen tonight to ask for an annual appropriation of $2,000 for the hospital. The committee resolved that the co operation of the Board of Aldermen should be asked to get the institution in working order.

Funeral of Mrs. Franck.

The remains of Mrs. Mary A. Franck arrived on the 3:55 train on the Raleigh & Gaston road yesterday afternoon from Washington, N. C. The body was met at the depot by a large crowd of grief stricken relatives and friends. From the depot the remains were taken to the Baptist Tabernacle where the funeral was preached by the pastor, Rev. Dr. J. J. Hall. ### Enlarged.

Only a few months ago Messrs. Barbee & Pope commenced the manufacture of candy in this city. They went in with the determination to win success and it has crowned their every effort. They now have the largest working rooth of the kind in Raleigh and a large force of skilled workmen putting up both plain and fancy candies. It is a sight worth seeing watching the workmen rolling out the candy in long sticks, cutting and packing. The working room resembles a bee hive in every sense of the word. Mr. Pope, the traveling man of the firm took a run down the R. & G. road this week. He was gone only one day and brought in orders for eighteen hundred pounds of assorted candy. They manufacture only first class goods and find a ready sale. Their fancy candies are equal to any made in any city in the country. They pride themselves on their chocolate goods, and well they may, for no finer goods of this kind can be found. A great many people are under the impression that in the manufacture of candy cleanliness is an after consideration. No doubt it is in a great many factories. This building is a model of cleanliness and they would be delighted to show you through their work and salesrooms.

Messrs. Barbee & Pope are full of energy, and are pushing their business for all it is worth. That they are meeting with the success they so much deserve, is a source of much pleasure and gratification to their many friends.
