

What Matters It?

What matters it, my curious friend, where lies
Our Heavenly harbor and our land of rest?
Whether it be beyond the azure skies
Or in some lower world, God knoweth best
It offers safety from our cares, and so
What matters whether it be high or low,
It offers rest; what more should mortals know?

Rest from the weariness of burdened days,
Of bitter longings and of evil hours,
Of duties leading us through the darkened ways
And into efforts far beyond our powers,
Of dark temptations into secret sin,
Of constant labor, earth's poor gauds to win,
Of spirits deafened by the strife and din.

It matters nothing as to when or where
We find the haven and the welcome home;
Let curious doubt give place to trusting prayer,
And no weak soul through speculations roam
To seek for sealed up secrets, hidden things;
Enough for us, if on eternal wings,
We reach the country of those better things.

Vex not thy spirit, O aspiring man,
But live thy days as earnest workers must
Nor try to pierce thy God's mysterious plan
Which obligates thee to a life of trust.
Some day, somewhere, while countless ages roll,
Thy hungry heart shall comprehend the whole,
The veil be parted for thy thankful soul.
—I. Edgar Jones, in London Echo

Myriads of Wild Fowle.

Baltimore Sun.
The myriads of water fowl seen on the surface of the Delaware river last week would be the envy of every sportsman who could witness the countless droves. For some unknown reason on Wednesday and Thursday last the river literally swarmed with wild fowl, principally ducks of the black, mallard and sprig tail varieties, with an occasional bunch of coo geese, who raised the alarm of danger with their "Honk! honk!" at every approaching vessel, and in dignified single file flew to sequestered quarters. The presence of these great flocks of ducks is accounted for. They came in a night from the South, hovered about over the river two days and then continued their flight northward. The massiveness of these huge droves would almost indicate that every other feeding ground had been depopulated, and the feathered gourmands had gathered for a tempting feast. Whatever they found so palatable no one can ascertain, but either through the yearning of an appetite, whetted by long fasting and a hard fight, or because of the luring nature of the deposit of food, the ducks were practically insensible to danger and would scarcely rise until boats were in their midst when the spectre sails or clouds of steam would distract their attention from the aqueous bill of fare and put them to flight for a short distance.

The Fate of an Armenian Girl.

A London cablegram says: Considerable excitement prevails on the Armenian frontier, owing to the fate of an Armenian girl named Mirkitch, who escaped from a Turkish harem at Biza, and got as far as the Russian frontier, where she was captured, and, it is said, carried back to Riza and murdered.
The girl had been kidnapped two years before from her house in Rus-Armenia, and sold to a wealthy Moslemarria. When the story became known to the refugee Armenians on the Russian side of the border, they were, with difficulty, restrained from crossing the frontier to invade Turkish Armenia.

"From personal knowledge and observation I can say that Castoria is an excellent medicine for children, acting as a laxative and relieving the pent up bowels and general system very much. Many mothers have told me of its excellent effect upon their children."

THE SECRET

OF OUR SUCCESS.

$1,000 Reward—a Humbug!

Don't Be Deceived by the offer of a large reward in case some medicine fails to cure you. If the reward is claimed, there is always some way to evade its payment; if never claimed, it is no evidence that everybody, or anybody, has been cured; but it speaks well for the intelligence of our people, that no one is fool enough to expect its payment. $1,000,000 might be offered with equal safety; for it is needless to say that the user of such medicines always dies before their proprietors are convinced that he "can't be cured." It is one of the most deceptive schemes that ever insulted an enlightened people.

We are disposed to give the public every protection possible against the imposition of scheming frauds or worthless nostrums, but NO DEPENDENCE CAN BE PLACED IN GUARANTEES. If Congress will pass a law by which all medicines are subjected to a thorough test, and their merits—in the diseases which they claim to cure—are fully established before they can be offered for sale, we will heartily favor it. An honest remedy suffers more from the failure of other preparations to establish their claims, than from all other causes combined—as disappointment in one medicine causes distrust in many.

DELAY IS DANGEROUS.

Past Failures Need not Discourage You.

Certain Catarrh Cure is mentioned so favorably, by our customers that we have great confidence in its merits.—Alexander Drug and Seed Co., Augusta, Ga.

Its Harmlessness.

Makes it entirely safe to try Certain Catarrh Cure for any trouble, without the slightest fear of injury. It is a purely vegetable preparation, and to the most delicate constitution, or organ of the body, can produce no bad effect whatever.

REMEMBER!

Certain Catarrh Cure is not simply a snuff or local application, to drive the disease from the nasal organs into the system; nor a blood remedy, to tone up the system and leave the nasal parts uncured; but it is a combination of both methods, and the only remedy which will give satisfaction in the many different stages of catarrh.

The genuine bears our Trade Mark. Take no substitute. Price, $1. Six bottles $5. Of Druggists, or by Express, prepaid, on receipt of price. Book of Information free.

3 C Co., Sole Proprietors,

We have handled Certain Catarrh Cure since its first introduction. It has given general satisfaction, and we have seen the increase in demand, that our purchases during the last six months have amounted to nearly twenty-five gross.—The Lamar Drug Co., Atlanta Ga., May 1st, 1889.
