NEWS NOTES ABOUT THE CITY.

What Our Reporters See and Hear Worth Giving to Our Readers—News in Brief.

Raleigh dirt "got up and got" yesterday. Let us all "whoop her up."

Almost cool enough for fires this morning.

The next fruit fair will be held at Greensboro, August 4th and 5th next. It will be a most important event.

The Clerk of the Superior Court and his clever deputy are busily engaged looking up claims for direct taxes.

Mr. Bilhorn who officiated with Rev. W. P. Fife in his recent engagement at Greensboro, has gone to his home in Chicago.

Another change of schedule on the R. & D. railroad is in contemplation, says the Durham Sun, by which the train from the east will reach Durham in the evening at 8:30 o'clock.

The Asheville Citizen says: Rev. G. W. Bell was appointed to collect exhibits for Buncombe county to be sent to the Raleigh exposition, under the direction of S. R. Kepler.

Applications for direct taxes are pouring into the Executive office by the hundred. The Private Secretary and Executive Clerk are having a rough time of it. They should have help if possible.

Attention is called to the change in the advertisement of Messrs. W. C. & A. B. Stronach. They have bread for the millions, and a fine assortment of other table comforts. Go and see them.

The new annex to the Yarbber House is looming up. It will be completed in ample time for the exposition and friend Raney says he will take all who apply. Raleigh will be on time, and no mistake.

The State Guard encampment will open on the 17th inst. at Wrightsville. Col. Olds, the Quarter Master, is now there, fixing up matters for their reception. The Virginia troops will be on hand, and it will be the greatest occasion of the kind, yet seen in the State.

We hope the committee having in charge the matter of locating the proposed Odd Fellows Orphan Asylum will give a careful consideration to the claims of Raleigh. There is no other town in North Carolina that can present better advantages from every point of view.

Mr. M. A. Murray, Wilmington, Del. writes: "I had one of my severe headaches and was persuaded to try your valuable (Brady's) medicine. I never had anything to do me so much good." j58 6t.

The VISITOR extends many thanks to Messrs. W. C. & A. B. Stronach for a couple of the largest and most delicious melons we have seen this season. They were grown by the Wilder Melon Company, of Anthony, Marion county, Florida. They are right fresh and exceedingly fine. Those who want real fresh melons will do well to call early and supply themselves.

Work on the street railway system is now being vigorously pushed, and there is no longer a doubt in the minds of the most skeptical about its early completion. We learn that the iron for most of the proposed routes has been ordered and will be promptly put down or arrival. The exact routes are still not definitely known, but it is certain that the extension to the exposition grounds will receive early attention.

It May Pay You

Citizens intending to visit the seashore may find it to their interest to call at the VISITOR office before deciding just where they will go and how long they will stay. A call will cost you nothing and may be to your advantage.

Postponed.

The lawn party announced to take place at Mrs. Wray's, corner Wilmington and Davie streets, tonight, has been postponed until next Tuesday night. The party is to be given by Miss Clara Womble's class of the Tabernacle Sunday school, and it is there purpose to give everybody patronizing their effort a very good time.

Grand Bicycle Tournament.

We note with pleasure that there will be held at the large Stronach Tobacco Warehouse next Monday night, a grand bicycle tournament, and from remarks we hear in regard to it, there will be a large attendance. There should be 1,000 people, as at a little place like Greensboro there were 600. We are glad to see among all our people a growing interest in cycling, as the wheel is one of the greatest labor saving conveniences ever invented by human skill, and is the best and most innocent amusement in the vocabulary of sports. And now to see our own Raleigh cyclists showing what practice and continual riding will accomplish in their marvelous feats on the wheel. They will catch rings with swords while riding at full speed. All who want to see something novel will be there; mothers will go out with their little boys and girls, young men, young ladies, married folks and all will be there; and the admission will be small, go as to fill the house, and we predict they will have it full, and everybody will say they spent a pleasant evening at the first grand tournament of the 3 C. Club.

Interview With Mr. Clarence Busbee.

A reporter of the VISITOR this morning sought, and obtained an interview with Mr. Clarence Busbee, the unfortunate young man, now in custody here charged with embezzlement of funds over which he had charge.

Mr. Busbee says that he has recently been acting in the capacity of confidential bookkeeper and treasurer for the Buena Vista Saddle and Harness Manufacturing Company. His salary was a poor one, and not sufficient to keep up with what he deemed a proper social course. At different times he took for individual use, small sums varying from $1 to $5. These he frequently charged to his account, but, in some cases, failed to do so. Upon examination he found that the sum had exceeded his expectations or intention, and aggregated about $150 to $200. He found himself in a dilemma, and notified the president of the company of the deficit, but stated that he was unable to give the exact amount. After this he left hurriedly for New York, in the hope of obtaining employment. He had a small sum of money, and failed in his hopes. He then turned homeward, and got as far as Norfolk, Va., where he met with Mr. John H. Winder, superintendent of the Seaboard railroad. To him Mr. Busbee told his troubles, and Mr. Winder and his wife treated him with the utmost kindness, giving him some excellent advice. Mr. Winder aided him in reaching Raleigh.

The young man appears most deeply penitent, and expresses the desire to do all in his power to make restitution.

It is not deemed out of place to say that there is deep sympathy expressed for him, and the earnest hope indulged that it may prove a warning during his future life.

For Rent.

Cottage 5 rooms neighborhood and water the best. N. W. WEST.

It is probable that the Governor of Washington will declare martial law to unarm the strikers in the mining camps.

Died.

This morning, at the residence of his parents on Hillsboro street, Joseph Engelhard Boylan, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Boylan; aged one month.

Mrs. Sydney Scott, the mother of Mrs. A. J. Jones, of this city, died in Durham this morning at 8 o'clock. Her remains will arrive on the 1:30 train tomorrow, and be buried in Oakwood cemetery.

I. O. O. F.

Regular meeting of Seaton Gales Lodge, No. 64, I. O. O. tonight at eight o'clock sharp. Work in the first degree and other matters of importance will be brought before the Lodge, which requires the presence of every member. Candidates for the first degree will be on hand at 8:15 o'clock promptly. Every Odd Fellow cordially invited.

A Good Example.

Mr. B. N. Duke, of Durham, has opened a night school for the operatives of his factory under the most flattering prospects. This is a first rate and most commendable movement and should be followed by others in the State. The Durham Sun says:

The operatives of that factory are indebted to Mr. B. N. Duke for this grand opportunity of education. Mr. Duke has always deplored the fact that these people could not reap some of the benefits of the Graded School, but they were too poor to lose so many hours from their day's work, for their maintenance depended upon what they made at the factory, so he had the night school started for their benefit. This is a grand move on the part of our noble and liberal hearted citizen, and no doubt it will be the means of accomplishing much good. It is a worthy example by which many of the wealthy manufacturers may profit.

Just such generous acts as the above will do more towards developing a town than words or pen can portray.

Nearly an Accident.

Our former townsman, Mr. C. S. Poe, now a resident of Chattanooga, Tenn., had a narrow escape from death a few days since. A Chattanooga paper says:

Three drunken men undertook to wreck the broad gauge train coming down Lookout Mountain at 6:10 last night. They rolled a huge stump on the track just before the train came rushing round the curve at the deep fill where the old dirt road crosses the railroad track. The engine struck the stump in such a lucky way that the train was not derailed. The greatest excitement prevailed among the mountain people over the event. One of the men has been arrested and search is being made for the others.

Mr. Poe was on the train, having been over to the popular resort, Lookout Mountain, to spend a few hours, and writes a friend here that if it had not been for the engineer's promptly reversing the train in time all of the two hundred people on board would have been killed. His point over looked a precipice about 1,200 feet high.

To be Hanged August 10th

On August 10th Theo Signe (Swindell Signe) will be hanged above the door at 206 Fayetteville Street, Raleigh. Swindell has bought the Norris & Carter store and is retitling and lengthening and when completed will be the largest store in Raleigh. This mammoth store will have 100 by 33 feet more floor room than any store in Raleigh and Swindell will occupy this store on August 10th. This great store will be kept and run for the mutual benefit of D. T. Swindell his clerks and the masses of the people. We will give high prices a lick whenever we can. When this hanging takes place at 206 Fayetteville street Swindell will be there.

Remnants Straw Mattings.

We have taken from the regular stock, up stairs, all the short lengths of straw mattings, marked the number of yards upon each, and placed them just at the Wilmington street entrance, where our customers can find them during this week. Some of these remnants contain enough for a small sized room, while others have only a few yards. Prices have been marked in plain figures, and so low as to be quite interesting for our patrons. These remnants represent some of the best grades we have shown.

Norris' Dry Goods Store.

Entire stock to be sold within four weeks. No seductive advertisement to entrap the unwary or scheme calculated to mislead, but simply the unvarnished fact. The greatest "crash" in prices ever known in Raleigh. Miss this sale and the golden opportunity is gone, regret will haunt you ever afterwards. Call early and make the best selections. Everything as advertised. Note the reductions:
