LARGEST CITY CIRCULATION.

RALEIGH, N. C., JULY 9, 1891.

GRAPE BASKETS.

Wilmington has a grape basket manufactory. That's correct; somebody should make a profit in manufacturing them. Keep that profit at home.

RALEIGH MORE SO.

The Star says Gen. R. F. Hoke, president of the Georgia, Carolina and Northern railroad, in which Wilmington is commercially interested, reports that the road will be completed to Athens, Ga., by next Saturday night. The road is now graded within twenty miles of Atlanta.

CHARLOTT'S DELIMMERA.

There seems to be something like the old style "Rule or Ruin" spirit among the aldermen of Charlotte. The city treasury is empty, with only a small revenue, while the weekly demands to meet current expenses, is $15,000 to $20,000, and yet some of the aldermen seem determined that the city shall make an assignment, or disband if need be, unless their plans are not adopted. That's the way with some folks.

Governor Holt and the Trust,

The Goldsboro Argus says: Striking under the political belt is equally as objectionable to a fair minded man as any other dishonsst attempt to take advantage.

An Alliance has passed resolutions calling upon Governor Holt to resign because he is a member of the Plaid Trust. Farmers can easily destroy their cause by making themselves ridiculous or proposing absurd things. There would be just as much sense and sound reason in the resolutions if they had demanded the resignation of Governor Holt because he was at Tranby Croft playing cards with the Prince of Wales and Mrs. Wilson.

We all know that he was not at Tranby Croft, and it is equaly true that the Governor does not belong to a Plaid Trust. There is no Plaid Trust.

A number of cotton manufacturers in the Southeru States have made an arrangement by which their business is drummed up, their goods sold and sales guaranteed by a concern that does it for two per cent. less than charges heretofore paid, in consideration of handling the entire product of a number of factories. The man that can make a trust out of that is a romancer of the first order. Take the Alliance for instance. They ought to be fair about a thing of this kind when they are undertaking to do something akin to the efforts of the cotton manufacturers. The Alliance has a State agent. What for? To buy large quantities of everything the farmers need at the very lowest price and distributing it to county agents. The result of this is to deprive middlemen of an opportnnity to profit by sales to the farmers. That is a business convenience. the Alliance thinks, and one that saves money. Governor Holt happens to be a party to the agreement by which one concern agrees to take all the product of a certain number of factories and dispose of the same through its own flaws in the spirit and conduct of agents in this and foreign countries others, is the man who himself has a for two per cent. less than it need to flaw in his character.

cost the manufacturers, and guarany tee all sales.

There is no more reason to find fault with Governor Holt for making an arrangement to sell his cotton through an agent, than there is for Sid Alexander to buy his sugar and coffee through State agent Worth. Now, is there?

The price of the great Encyclopedia Britannica, $8 per volume for the English edition, and $5 per volume for the Seribner and the Stoddardt editions in the cheapest binding-has been a bar to its popular use.

Our new reprint of this work is furnished at $1.50 per volume, the greatest bargain ever known in the book trade. We have sold over half a million volumes in six months; proof that the public appreciate so great a bargain.

This reprint is not an abridgment, but a reproduction of the entire twenty-five volumes of the great Edinburg ninth edition, page for page, with new and later articles on import ant American topics, and new maps, later and better than in any other edition. In all repects it compares favorably with the high priced editions, and in point of maps and du-rability of binding it is superior to them. Heretofore we have sold only for cash. We now announce that we will deliver the set complete on small easy payments,

Special Offer.-In order that you may see the bargain we offer, and examine its merits, we will furnish Volume 1 by express for 60 cts, a fraction of actual cost; add 40 cts postage if wanted by mail.
