NEWS NOTES ABOUT THE CITY.

What Our Reporters See and Hear Worth Giving to Our Readers—News in Brief.

Regular meeting of the Grocers Protective Association at 5:30 o'clock.

Keep out of the sunshine as much as possible. Danger of typhoid fever.

Extensive arrangements are on foot for the Dental Convention to take place at Morehead City next week.

One case of too much crooked lightning contrituted the Mayor's levee this morning.

Weeds are getting pretty rank in some sections of the city. They are great promoters of sickness and should be cut down.

If you don't appear next Wednesday and look after your real estate assessment it is your own fault. The commissioners will meet to hear you.

It is reported that Neuse River is again getting down to its usual height. The low ground crops however are much damaged.

The Board of County Commissioners will meet again next Wednesday when complaints relative to assessments will be heard.

A quaker excursion from Indiana arrived in Greensboro Tuesday night on their way to High Point where the annual meeting opened yesterday. There were fifty two in the party.

We hear that the cotton worms have made their appearance in some parts of this county. It looks like our farmers are having a hard time this year.

Our friend Mr. P. Linehan says that the spring discovered by him at the site of the Caroleigh mills possess fine Lithia qualities, and is most admirable water in the case of kidney affections.

Mr. A. B. Laforme, Boston, Mass., says: I ordered and distributed one dozen large bottles of Bradycrotine among my friends afflicted with headache, and in every case it has afforded almost instantaneous relief. Aug 4 6t Build more houses in Raleigh. There are none to rent and people are coming here every day. It will be a paying investment and no mis take.

The Colored Farmers Alliance met at the court house this morning. There was a small attendance and the meeting adjourned until tonight when it is expected that Superintendent Humphrey, of Texas will deliver an address.

It is stated that Mr. Spence, the young man who accompanied Mr. Wynne in the bicycle tour, was compelled to give in on account of physical inability. He took the excursion train as we learn to Richmond.

Mr. John W. Brown, undertaker of this city, has just received a "dead wagon" for hauling boxes for coffins &c. It is of beautiful design, nicely painted with glass sides. It was built in Cincinnati and cost over two hundred dollars.

There is a Justice of the Peace in Ohio who has overruled the decision of the Supreme court. If our old colored friend, Andy Lockhart was living he would make a note of this for future reference. Squires, Barbee and Whitaker wouldn't think of such a thing. They are too patriotic for such as that.

The suggestion made by Gov. Holt to Hon. Elias Carr, that the World's fair commissioners appeal to the liberal minded citizens of the state for aid, to be reimbursed in case a sufficient amount of the direct tax fund is left, is a good one. No doubt a snug sum could be raised in this way.

Dedication.

There will be an interesting celebration at Siler City, Chatham county on Friday the 14th inst. The Masons will have a gathering and their new lodge will be dedicated. Col. Thos. S. Kenan, of this city, will deliver the address. A large crowd is expected.

The Fruit Fair.

The fruit fair now in progress at the Banner Warehouse in Greensboro is a complete success. It was opened last Tuesday morning by Dr. D. R. Parker, of Trinity College, and the entries number about five hundred. The list of premiums will be very liberal.

A High Honor.

It was with much gratification we learn, that Capt. C. B. Denson, one of the principals of the Raleigh Male Academy was recently nominated as Fellow of the Society of Science Arts, and letters of London. Capt. Denson has accepted the honor and expects to present a series of papers setting forth the social condition of the South with a view to correcting misrepresentations. The honor conferred is a high one, but all will confess that it is well deserved.

Will Wynne and Neil Spence.

The Henderson Tomahawk of the 5th says: "Will Wynne and Neil Spence, of Raleigh, the Bicyclists, who are going, on their cycles to make a tour through the North, stopped over here last night on their way. They had ridden from Raleigh, but were as fresh as ever and after the Y. M. C. A. entertainment exhibited some very excellent riding on depot square.

Things to Talk About.

We need a public meeting in Raleigh, such a meeting as will represent all the different shades of opinion so that we can arrive at just conclusions about certain matters of great interest to our people. Among these may be mentioned the location of the Baptist Female College, the Colored Agricultural College and the building of an auditorium. These three things are of the utmost importance, and one, at least, the auditorium may be looked upon as a necessity. Let us have the views of all our people about it. As matters now stand we are losing ground. Suppose the Chamber of Commerce take the matter in hand at once.

Lecture on London Life.

At the request of friends of the cause, Rev. J. J. Hall, D. D., has consented to deliver his lecture, London and Life There, at Morehead during the session of the Farmer's Alliance next week. Fifty per cent. of the proceeds to be given to the North Carolina Soldier's Home. We have had the pleasure of hearing this lecture and we can safely say that he will picture to his hearers more of London life and tell more about its parks, museums, tower of London, St. Pauls, its docks and other things of interest than one could see if in that city for many months. Dr. Hall is a forcible and eloquent speaker and the delegates and other visitors to this seaside resort may expect a rare treat.

Personal mention.

The little child of Mr. W. L. Davis, we are sorry to learn, continues very ill.

Mr. T. F. Causey has a sick child at his home, on north Halifax street.

Mr. S. M. Terrell, of Rolesville, is in the city.

Mr. H. M. Cowan has returned to the city from Ashboro.

Hon. A. H. A. Williams was in the city yesterday.

Miss Mary Carroll, who has been spending several days in Winston has returned home.

Capt. W. H. Kitchen, of Halifax, was here yesterday.

Miss Nellie Murray is visiting friends in Henderson.

Marshal J. B. Hill, accompanied by his daughter and Miss Susie Marshall have gone on a trip to Morehead.

Mr. G. Rosenthal and family have gone to Haw river on a visit.

Mrs. Harriet Andrews has gone to Alamance county on a visit.

And still the heated term continues.

I. O. O. F.

Regular meeting of Seaton Gales Lodge, No. 64, I. O. O. F. to night night at 8 o'clock sharp. The Initiatory degree will be conferred at 8:15 promptly. Candidates should be on hand at that time without fail—it would also be well for those who have already been initiated to be present to see this degree conferred on others which will make them more perfect in the work. Cordial invitation to all Odd Fellows. Other business of importance will also be transacted, which requires the presence of every member.

THIRM, Sec.

The Railroad Suit.

The suit now in progress before Solicitor Pon as referee is attracting much attention here. It is brought for the purpose of enjoining the County Commissioners from the collection of $169,000 of the cash of the road on hand June 1st 1890, and on its machine shops and round house one third of which the Board of County Commissioners is seeking to tax. The suit also seeks to restrain the collection of taxes upon the cotton platform. The Railroad Company claims it is exempt under its charter from tax on its cash as accrued profits remaining undivided in its treasury. As to the machine shops, although certain work is done in them for other railroads of the Seaboard Air Line, still the equipment of the shops has not been increased for this purpose but is only equal to the demands of the R. & G. Railroad proper.

In respect to the round house the commissioners insist that it is larger than the company needs by one third and that this excess is caused by the company's housing engines of the Raleigh and Augusta Railroad. The company says that it has use for every stall in the round house and that it will soon be obliged to increase its accommodation by reason of the Georgia, Carolina and Northern extension. As to the cotton platform the company contends that it can not efficiently serve the public without a proper place to receive and from which to ship the cotton that comes to this market. Before the platform was erected the cotton was unloaded in the mud back of the R. & G. warehouse. It is a great convenience and is almost indispensable. The commissioners also contend that the land in the Y near the N. C. Railroad depot is liable to taxation, although the railroad claims that it is necessary for unloading coal, lumber and wood in ear load lots.

Of course the whole question turns upon whether these several properties are reasonably necessary for the successful operation of the R. & G. Railroad and are not plainly in excess of its present or prospective demands.

We regret to note that Maj Winder in his evidence yesterday partly confirmed the rumor of the removal of the shops.

Are You Awake?

If you are awake to your interest you will get a carpet or rug at Swindell's new store while you can get them at wholesale cost; now this sale is nearly to the end, and while we will sell carpets and rugs just as low as any one can sell them, when the new stock come in then we must have a small profit on them. At this present time you can buy a carpet or any rug at Swindell's new store at the actual price the carpets and rugs cost, and the time is very short when we will stop this sale. Our buyers go North next week for a stock of goods which will be credited to the home of our adoption, Raleigh, N. C., No. 206, Fayetteville St.

Respectfully,

D. SWINDELL

A Murderer.

Maj C. D. Heatt has shown us a photograph of John B. Royster, a negro charged with the murder of John P. Eppes near the town of Suffolk, Va., on Wednesday July 29th, 1891. He is about 5 feet 10 inches high, weighs from 185 to 195 pounds, 35 to 40 years old, color black, thick lips, flat nose, small elongated eye, broad forehead, square shouldered, slew footed, usually looks downward when walking, has a swinging gait and wears a No. 10 to 12 shoe. He claims to be a preacher and is fond of talking of religion. He associates with the better class of his color. The sheriff of Nansemond county, Va., offers a reward of $200 for him.

Wait for the grand excursion to run Aug. 12 by Hope for All Lodge, 2645, Grand United Order of Odd Fellows, to Richmond and returning 14th over the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad. Fair for round trip $2.50

Special arrangements will be made for ladies and children. Special cars for white people and special cars for colored people. Those who went to Richmond last August on the excursion run by the Odd Fellows, will remember the nice time and are earnestly requested to wait for Aug. 12, as this promises to be equally as good if not better.
