NEWS NOTES ABOUT THE CITY.

What Our Reporters See and Hear Worth Giving to Our Readers—News in Brief.

The capitol was barren of news today.

The annex to the Yarrow House is rapidly approaching completion.

It is stated that the new Farmers and Merchants Bank of this city will open early in September.

Robinson's big circus with hippodrome attached is expected here in October.

Clean up your back yards and keep them so. This is the best way to preserve health and to avoid trouble.

There will be a splendid string band at the exposition grounds tomorrow night.

The freemens tournament in Durham next week. Let our Raleigh boys get ready.

Several of our merchants will go North next week and soon the busy season will be on us.

Chicken and garden thieves are beginning to make their raids. Look out for them.

Read the announcement of the New York Bargain House. The bottom has been reached in bargains.

The case of Mr. Zeb Koles, who had the difficulty with L. A. Emory, has been postponed until Saturday.

It is hinted that a wealthy citizen of Durham will soon give a very large sum to Trinity College. It is hinted that Wash Duke is the liberal donor.

Several parties for engaging in a fracas last night were fined $10.25 each by the mayor this morning. No bones were broken, however, and the fuss, after all, was "much ado about nothing."

The Supreme Court will meet on Monday, September 28th. On the Friday and Saturday preceding, applicants to practice law will be examined. It is thought that the case of the merchants' purchases tax will be taken up early in the session.

The store belonging to Mr. S. Smith, on the north side of the market square, is being rapidly finished. The front is of iron and is made to resemble granite. It is of beautiful design and will be a great adornment to that locality.

Under all circumstances, under all conditions, under all influences, Brandy-crotine will promptly cure all headaches. aug. 18 6t

The rush for the direct taxes, although not quite as large as at the beginning, still continues. There is every prospect that the entire appropriation will be called for within the prescribed time.

The oyster troubles in the eastern section of the State are still unsettled. It is now desired to dredge up on lands that have been registered in the name of individuals, and the matter has been laid before the Governor. It will no doubt be a matter for the courts.

A pleasant birthday party and picnic was given yesterday by Miss Mary Andrews the little daughter of Mr. Phil H. Andrews, at "Highlands," her father's farm four miles west of the city. A genial crowd of young folks participated and had a jovial time.

Capt. Kirkland who was shot at Hamlet last Friday is getting on very well and hopes are entertained that he will soon be able to resume his route. In the meantime the rough who shot him ought to be hunted down at all hazards.

We hear nothing lately about the chapel at Oakwood Cemetery. We hope this matter may not be lost sight of. It will be a convenience as well as a decoration. All cities of any size have them, and Raleigh should not be behind.

Don't forget the lawn party to be given at the residence of Rev. Dr. Cordon next Thursday night by the Cross Bearers of the Kings Daughters. The public invited. A good time may be expected.

There seems to be an erroneous impression relative to the admission to the exposition grounds on tomorrow night to attend the watermelon festival. We are authorized to state that no special invitation is necessary as the occasion is open to all the white citizens of this city and vicinity. Let there be a large crowd.

If the old lady from the country, who was selling eggs at 7 1/2 cents per dozen yesterday, will call around, we can tell her where she can get 8 cents per dozen and her snuff thrown in. We really think she has not been to town in sometime. We understand she sold two and a half dozen of eggs, half peck of tomatoes and a half gallon of onions all for 25 cents.

An Old Landmark.

Turners North Carolina Almanac, which, on account of its age and usefulness is now a household word in this State, is now in course of preparation and the edition for 1893 will be superior in all respects to any that has preceded it. For over half a century it has greeted the fire sides of tens of thousands of families and is each succeeding year gaining in popularity.

As an advertising medium, especially to reach the great purchasing class, it has no equal in the South. It has advertisers who have consecutively used it for ten and twenty years, which is the best evidence of its superiority as a medium to reach the people.

Mr. Theo. H. Hill will make a canvass of the city and the proprietor Mr. James H. Ennis is determined that the coming issue will surpass even the expectations of its old friends.

Our merchants and manufacturers should not forget this old friend while on its annual visit for 1893.

A Word More.

THE VISITOR has from time to time, had much to say relative to the bridge over the railroad on Hillsboro street. We have considered it a matter of importance, not only for the proper adornment of that portion of the city, but with a due regard to the safety of the public. Now, the time has arrived for something like pressure to be brought in the matter so far as public sentiment is concerned. We contend that the repairs now in progress does not, by any means fill expectation. It is almost impossible to put such repairs on the present structure as to make it at all suitable for the purpose. The bridge should be torn down and a new structure of iron put up. If this is not done, the bridge should be dispensed with entirely, and an arch made. This, we believe would be better and it would settle the matter for all time. Let this matter be looked into. The Board of Aldermen should demand something better than the present miserable excuse for a bridge.

House keepers should remember that our special sale of house furnishing is still going on, and is now as interesting as when first begun. Our Table Damasks, Napkins, Towels, Sheeting &c., are temporarily shown upon tables near the Fayetteville street door. The best values in Turkey Red Damasks, 25, 30, 35, 40 and 50 cents. Our 15 20 and 25 cents Towels are greater values than those of last season. In napkins our line is as complete as can be, prices from 40c. per dozen and up. These lines were recently bought for cash, at special sales in New York, and are offered to our people at prices lower than under the old tariff. These are not a few odds and ends, but fresh, clean, new stock, and our customers get all the advantage in prices, secured by our buyers.

Married

McMILLAN--DAVIS--At 12:30 o'clock this afternoon, at the residence of the bride's parents on Oakwood avenue, Mr. C. S. McMillan, manager of the telegraph office at Fayetteville led to the hymenial altar Miss Hunter Davis, daughter of Mr. Riddick Davis of this city. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. Dr. Cordon in the presence of a large crowd of friends and acquaintances. The contracting parties left on the east bound train for the home of the groom. The bridal presents were numerous, costly and beautiful. The groom's sister, Miss Louie McMillan, Mr. Jessie Powers, Capt. E. P. Powers, uncle of the groom, and Mr. Alston McMillan came up from Fayetteville to attend the marriage. After the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of the bride's father.

Miss Davis is held in the highest esteem by a large circle of friends who, in common with our community at large, wish her and Mr. McMillan the greatest happiness.

WATKINS--HIGGS--On Sunday last Mr. J. W. Watkins, of the Postal Telegraph office, was united in marriage to Mrs. Laura Higgs, widow of the late Jacob Higgs and daughter of the late Mr. Alvis Sorrell.

The ceremony took place at the residence of Capt. P. J. Brown, and was conducted by Rev. J. L. Foster. Our best wishes attend them.

A Fine Chance.

We have been shown a most beautiful poster now being sent out by Mr. Patrick in the interest of the Southern Inter State Exposition. It is intended to be distributed through the counties of Wake and Franklin. Mr. H. A. Chappell has the matter in charge and he proposes to give the widest possible circulation. They are finely gotten up, with a picture in the center representing the various vegetables, fruits, &c., to be on exhibition. Surrounding the picture are squares, 4x6 inches, in which the names of our business firms can be secured as advertisements at a cost ranging from $2.50 to $5 each according to location. The four corner squares are the best, and for these $5 is charged. It is a splendid opportunity for our business men to set forth their various callings. Mr. Chappell is now calling upon our merchants and others, and we doubt not will meet with great success.

Report.

We have been requested to copy in full the following report of the commissioners appointed to investigate the matter of the route of the factory branch of the N. C. Railroad:

NORTH CAROLINA--Wake County.
In the matter of the location of the Factory Branch of the N. C. Railroad Co.

To John W. Thompson, C. S. C:

We, the undersigned commissioners, appointed by the court, after careful examination of the matter, respectfully report that we affirm the present proposed route, the engineer on the committee being of the opinion that no other route is practicable. Respectfully submitted.

A Correction.

The following explains itself:
RALEIGH, Aug. 18, 1891.

Editor of the Evening Visitor:

Dear Sir—I will request that you will contradict the statement made in your issue of yesterday regarding the transportation of passengers from Raleigh to the fair grounds on the evening of the 19th. I understand that a notice appeared in your paper as coming from me that cars would be operated by four mules to the fair grounds on that date. I have never authorized any one to make this statement. The suggestion was simply made sometime ago, and but for my illness I may possibly have made some such arrangement. But as matters are now it would be impossible.

You will oblige me by inserting such a notice in your issue of this date.

Yours very truly,
LOUIS P. HALL,
Gen'l Manager.
