NEWS NOTES ABOUT THE CITY.

What Our Reporters See and Hear Worth Giving to Our Readers—News in Brief.

We are promised a break in the heated term next week.

Next Wednesday is the great championship firemen's race at Durham. Raleigh will be there in all her glory.

Notwithstanding the unusual long spell of hot weather, there is not more sickness in Raleigh than usual at this season of the year.

Poles are being placed in position between St. Marys and the exposition grounds for the electric street railway.

The Union depot is beginning to assume something like beautiful proportions. It will, indeed be an adornment to our city.

The lawn parties at the parsonage of the Edenton Street M. E. Church and at Mr. F. L. Bailey's were well attended last night and an enjoyable time was experienced.

There seems to be a general painting and brushing up in the city. Everybody wants to put on the best appearance for the exposition. This is all right.

Don't fail to gather up all the old curiosities you can and report to Mr. Gill who has in charge the matter of Wake county's exhibits at the exposition.

A country gentleman said this morning that there was a point twelve miles north of the city from which some of our church steeples could be seen. We did not get the exact locality.

We regret to announce the death of Dr. S. P. Waldo, which took place early this morning at his home in Cary. He leaves a family and a large circle of friends to mourn their loss.

Rev. C. Rowland of Italy, Texas, will begin a series of meetings at Wake Chapel church, some fifteen miles south from this city, on the 23d. He is said to be a great preacher. It will doubtless pay to go out and hear him.

There is not a prettier picture gallery in North Carolina than Mr. F. A. Watson's. Call and see it. No stranger should come to Raleigh without paying this emporium of art a visit. It is one of the most attractive places in the city.

Regular meetings of Raleigh Painters Union, No. 1, will be held hereafter in Rescue Hall on Friday night of each week at 8 o'clock sharp. Business of importance tonight every member requested to attend.

B. L. XMAS.

There is but very little moonshining business now being carried on in this section. Collector White and his efficient corps of deputies are constantly on the watch, so that the nefarious business of defrauding "Uncle Sam" of revenue is quite a risky one.

Raleigh was laid out in a city by commissioners appointed for the purpose in April, 1792. This will make us a hundred years old next April. Let us have a centennial celebration. What say all of our folks? The Visitor starts this now, mind you. Don't steal our thunder.

Under all circumstances, under all conditions, under all influences, Bradycrotine will promptly cure all headaches. aug. 18 ft

Mr. J. Schwartz, our model butcher, No. 123 Fayetteville street, has just had put up in front of his store a nice substantial awning. If you are in want of anything in the meatline, call and talk to him. He keeps it all in a splendid ice refrigerator, cool and nice. No pork at present as it is too hot now. But everything good and in season. The awning keeps all around cool, and the refrigerator attends to matters inside. Call and see for yourselves.

It is expected that the pension tax this year will yield $90,000. Last year Mitchell county did not collect any tax for pensions and hence no applicants will receive pensions from that county for 1890.

We hear that the prospects for both of our excellent Female Colleges the coming session are splendid. Everybody except the most prejudiced acknowledges our superiority in the way of location and other advantages. The only difficulty is we need more schools. Let the Baptist Female College be hurried up. There is ample room for all.

If you want to build or repair a house, just try to procure a builder for a contract for immediate work, and see how you will come off. The contractors are all far ahead in their business. See if they don't tell you so. Raleigh needs more workmen—no doubt about it. It also needs more investment in small sized dwellings.

We were told several days since by a friend that we overstated the matter in saying there were no houses for rent in Raleigh. We have taken occasion since then to make additional enquiries, and are firmly of the opinion that we are right. It is almost impossible to secure houses eligibly situated and suitable for families of small means. We are borne out in this assertion by those who ought to know.

Lives of poor men oft remind us honest toil don't stand a chance; more we work we leave behind us bigger patches on our pants. On our pants once new and glossy, now are patches of different hue; all because subscribers linger and won't pay up what is due. Then let all be up and doing; send in your mite be it so small, or when the snows of winter strike us we shall have no pants at all.

Mayor's Court.

A quarrel which did not amount to a row took place yesterday between Mr. Sylvester Pennington and Ralph J. Peace, a colored driver. It seems that Mr. Pennington had for some time been doing work for Peace in the shape of shoeing horses. Peace had not come to time with Mr. Pennington in the matter of pay, and yesterday when he went to Mr. Pennington to have a shoe put on, he told Peace in language not to be misunderstood, exactly what he thought of him for not paying for the work heretofore done, alleging that Peace had drawn certain money out of which he had promised to pay the debt. As the old saying is, "one word brought on another." Peace finally left Mr. Pennington's shop but left behind an old horse shoe which he said Pennington might have. Pennington said he would not have it, and pitched it after Peace. It entered the carriage and Peace said it struck him. Pennington said it didn't. The question of assault was raised, before Mayor Badger, as well as final jurisdiction of the mayor where deadly weapons are used. Messrs. Pease and Snow were present. They fixed it up in the way of a compromise. Pennington paid costs. Curtain dropped to slow music.

Meeting of Aldermen.

A special session of the Board of Aldermen was held last night, being called mainly for the purpose of considering matters relative to the Hillsboro street bridge.

Alderman Stronach, of the street committee made a report, stating that a conference had been held with Maj. John C. Winder, General Manager of the Seaboard System, in which that official expressed himself as willing to comply with the proposal for widening the bridge.

Alderman Pogue introduced the following resolution:

Resolved, that this board request the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad Company to add to the south side of Hillsboro street bridge one more section of fifteen feet in width. This was amended, requesting the bridge to be widened to the full width of the street and the resolution passed.

Accident.

This morning about 9 o'clock, as Dennis Heartt, the 14 year old son of our esteemed friend, Maj. C. D. Heartt, was handling a pistol with the muzzle pointed toward him it exploded, the ball taking effect between the middle and index fingers of the right hand and lodging in the back part of the limb. He went at once to a physician who, after administering chloroform, extracted the ball, and at last accounts he was doing as well as could be expected after such a painful shock.

It is fortunate that the ball entered the hand, because it operated as a breaker to the body. Had it struck him either in the chest or stomach the most serious consequences might have resulted. It was a narrow escape and we congratulate our young friend that it was no worse.

Exposition Notes.

The buildings are rapidly approaching completion. Spaces for the various States have been assigned.

The exhibits from North Carolina are to be divided into two classes—one by the Department of Agriculture and the other by the counties. About twenty five counties are known to be making active preparations for the exhibit of articles.

Large sheds have been prepared for cattle.

There will be four weeks of horse racing—two in October and two in November.

Bicycle contests will be a special feature.

The premium list will be more liberal than ever before.

Mayors of all cities of over 16,000 inhabitants have been invited.

There will be three educational days—Oct. 15th, 16th and 17th.

October 6th to 10th will be specially devoted to commercial travelers.

A regular camp will be prepared. Twenty five acres in front of the exposition grounds will be divided into lots 20x30 feet for wagons. As quite a number of families are expected to come in wagons, this will somewhat relieve the strain in the way of accommodations.

The colored department have a building 250x40 feet, and it is expected they will fill it.

There will be several bands of music in attendance and numerous shows and balloon ascensions will be frequent.

State days will be announced shortly.

Oct. 5th to 10th has been set apart as newspaper week. All the representatives of the press are invited.

The Great Carpet Sale Will Begin on the First and Close on the Tenth of September.

We will place on special sale September 1st, a big lot of Velvet and Moquette Carpeting at one dollar per yard. Sale to continue ten days. These goods are the greatest bargains ever offered on this market; we bought them at about one half their real value and we are giving our customers full benefit of the bargain. We will have on exhibit in a few days the largest and best assortment of carpets and rugs ever brought to this market.

Yours Truly,

D. T. SWINDRILL.

For the Growler.

Correspondence of the Visitor.

X. Y. Z. communication must have been written by one of those eternal grumblers that would have the whole business of the block between Hargett and Martin streets stopped for a whole day rather than have him go three steps out his way once a week. I suggest to you and all others of like nature, stop your growling at those who are striving to give people work and to build up the city. Attend strictly to your own business and you will find no time to growl at other people, is the expression of the writer and everybody else who adheres to that rule. L. R. W.
