NEWS NOTES ABOUT THE CITY.

What Our Reporters See and Hear Worth Giving to Our Readers—News in Brief.

Lumsden has a plenty of fruit jars. Merchants preparing to go north after fall stocks.

There is no news stirring to day in official circles at the capitol.

Col. W. J. Hicks has gone to Greensboro on business connected with the penitentiary.

Peaches, pears, apples &c., crowded the market today. All nice and cheap.

The Wake County Farmers Alliance met in the court house yesterday, but held its session with closed doors.

The spinning jenny is in full blast on the corner of Hargett and Blount streets.

Applications are coming in for space at the exposition grounds in the way of amusements.

Remove the grass from the side walks. It makes us look like a plain country village, which we are not.

Our young friend Dennis Heartt is getting on very well. It is hoped the wound made by the pistol ball will soon heal up and leave no bad result.

The New York Bargain Store is daily receiving additions to the stock and bargains are the order of the day. Read the advertisement.

"Alec" Stronach says he has about twenty different kinds of trees on his place. "Alec" is completely environed by shade, and has as pretty a home as can be found in a day's journey.

The Colored Normal School now at Franklinton, will be opened at Warrenton on the 1st of October, the citizens of the latter place having donated the use of buildings.

The net earnings of the State penitentiary during the month of July were about $6,000. This is a good showing and reflects much credit upon Col. Faison and his admirable board.

At 4.30 o'clock p. m. tomorrow afternoon, Rev. N. H. D. Wilson will preach at Mrs. Sylvester Smith's warehouse, corner of Harrington and Cabarrus streets, near the N. C. depot.

A meeting of the Board of Public Charities will be held next Wednesday in the capitol. Since the last meeting our fellow citizen W. N. Jones, Esq., has been appointed a member of the board.

Capt. Brooks, the deputy sheriff is out on the war path after the purchase tax on hacks and drays. Hackmen and draymen will save money by "calling at the Cap's" office and settling."

Under all circumstances, under all conditions, under all influences, Brachy-crotine will promptly cure all headaches. aug. 18 6t

The drug store of Messrs. King & McGee on the corner of Fayetteville and Morgan streets, has been fixed up nicely. The front has been beautifully painted, and all the surroundings undergone renovation. It is a neat establishment in all respects.

We are glad to welcome back our friend Mr. Alfred Moring, who has been on a visit to his daughter in the western part of the State. He has no doubt been in the enjoyment of most excellent health as his looks evidently show.

Messrs. J. A. Spence and Neil A. Spence returned yesterday from New York, where Neil A. Spence and Will Wynne accompanied each other on their bicycles. We are promised a full sketch of their trip in a few days. It is a distance of about 900 miles by dirt roads which they followed.

The Roles-Emory Case.

The case against Ruffin Roles and Zeb Roles for an assault upon a young man named L. A. Emory on Saturday, August 15th, came up for trial before the Mayor this morning. Mr. Geo. H. Snow appeared for the State and F. H. Busbee for the defence.

Mr. Emory sworn: Said Mr. Roles owed him for work; owed him balance $4.18; went to Zeb Roles for it; told him to come back between 3 and 5 o'clock; looked over matters; put sum on paper; he told me would have to see father about it; waited 15 or 20 minutes; Mr. Roles came to door; told him I wanted my money; he said he would not pay me anything; that he never owed me anything; he said I was the only man ever dogged him for money; I told him almost everybody had to dog him; he called me a liar; I told him he was a d-d liar; he drew back as if strike me with piece iron but did not strike at me; Zeb Roles got brick and told me to get out yard; they pushed me out; did not go there for fuse; I accidentally struck Mr. Ruffin Roles with umbrella; Zeb Roles then struck me with a brick and both grabbed me; I thought I would be killed and backed out of yard; he has since paid me the $4.18.

Mr. Ruffin Roles sworn: Was in porch; Emory was standing out there; called me vile names, such as scoundrel, &c.; had told him I didn't want him any longer; I called him a liar; he called me d-d liar, thief, rogue, &c; asked him to leave; he said he would not; put my hand on him, told him to go out; had piece iron in my hand but made no effort to strike him; he struck me with umbrella; he struck me first; I did not offer to strike; he called Zeb little puppy; Zeb told him if he struck me he would strike him; he struck me and Zeb struck him with a brick; he went outside and continued to curse; what he done was not due until 5th Sept.

On cross examination, he said he paid Emory $20 and told him I could not pay him all on Aug. 5th when he called; I told him I had to hold back a little; he said he wanted all and there was a way to get it; on the 6th I paid more; don't recollect going into the basement; did not know Emory was there; don't remember calling Zeb but I might; I did not think I owed him a cent, but I afterwards paid it; I told him I did not want any trouble with him; deny that I have had trouble with hands generally; have always paid them but not when due; I did not owe Emory anything, but I paid him merely to get rid of him.

Mrs. Roles sworn. Heard cursing; it was Emory; Mr. Roles urged him to go out; both told him to go out; Mr. Roles told him he did not want to hurt him; he struck Mr. Roles with an umbrella when Zeb struck him; he fell, picked himself up and approached Mr. Roles again; he finally went out.

Miss. Faircloth sworn: Live with family; heard the lie passed between parties; Mr. Roles begged him to go out, Emory hit Mr. Roles with umbrella and Zeb hit him with brick; don't remember who called lie first. It was something about money; was not frightened; saw Mr. Roles push Emory out; Roles had iron bar; don't know whether or no it was raised; did not hear Mr. Roles curse. I came here from the Orphan Asylum; Mr. Roles had hold of Emory's coat.

Zeb Roles sworn: Emory came about 4 o'clock; asked me to inspect some work; it was done between August 1st and 5th, (witness explained manner and time of paying workmen) went down stairs; whistle blew and all left; heard father call me, said was time go depot; told Emory let it alone till Monday; he said he would like money this evening; told him others wanted money which was due; told father Emory wanted a dollar or so, father told him he did not owe him anything. I heard cursing; went out; told him if he hit father I would hit him; picked up a brick; told him to go off; father kept pushing him; he struck father with umbrella; did not wait to see result of blow, but struck him with the brick; he turned half round and went out; he stood there cursing; don't know who gave the lie first; saw father try to lead him out; did not see iron in father's hand; struck him with a brick (I think it was a brick; may have been a stone.)

Herbert Dexter sworn--Mr. Emory married my sister; Emory went there to look over some work; I work there; whistle blew; I went out shop; Mr. Roles came out, called Zeb and told him he had to go to the depot. Zeb and Emory went in office; Emory sent word to Mr. R. Roles, he wanted money; Mr. Roles said he did not owe him any money, and he would not get it. Emory told Roles that everybody had to dog him for money; Roles said it was a lie; Emory said he (Roles) was a d-d liar; Roles had bar of iron raised, when he came down on the ground; Emory did not get to step; Roles took hold of him and told him to get out; Emory said pay me and I will get out; Emory was backing; Zeb came out and picked up brick in each hand; Roles had iron raised all time; Emory had umbrella in hand, and struck Mr. Roles; Zeb then struck him with brick; looked like Emory raised umbrella to keep from being struck with iron; after hitting with first brick, Zeb picked up another.

Francis Hutchings, (colored) sworn: Saw tusseling; heard no cursing until Emory was outside; did not see hitting; was across railroad.

Mr. Ruffin Roles and Mr. Zeb Roles were bound over to court in the sum of $100 each.

Electric Freaks.

A very heavy rain accompanied by an unusual electric display, prevailed in this city and vicinity last evening. The lightning was incessant and seemed disposed to play pranks generally. A number of wires connected with the telephone service were burnt necessitating repairs which are in progress today. The service will, it is hoped, be ready for use next Monday. Although the rain seemed very heavy here, yet it was still heavier in the southwest.

No accident occurred in the city but Messrs. Harward & Hunter's cotton gin at Apex was struck by lightning and burned up. About twenty bales of cotton were consumed, on which there was insurance. There was no insurance on the gin. The loss above insurance is about $1,500.
