NEWS NOTES ABOUT THE CITY.

What Our Reporters See and Hear Worth Giving to Our Readers—News in Brief.

Cold wave predicted.
Scuppernong grapes coming in.
New goods just pouring in today.
Scuppernong grapes are coming in.
What an air of city like the street cars put on things generally. It looks like business all over.
There will be a love feast at Edenton Street Church tonight. Rev. J. A. Cunningham, Presiding Elder, will officiate.

We learn that Auditor Sanderlin has arrived in the city. He is still very sore from his experience, but otherwise much improved.

Over one hundred and fifty students had arrived at Chapel Hill, yesterday morning. It was thought when the session opened today there would be over two hundred on hand.

Look out for the scoundrel. The R. & D. Railroad offers a reward of $10,000 for the party or parties who misplaced the rail and caused the late disaster near Statesville.

The reunion of the Ex Confederate Veterans to take place here Oct. 15, should be well attended. Every inducement in the way of transportation and otherwise should be offered them.

A barbecue was given today at Windell, Wake county, fifteen miles east of Raleigh. A very large crowd was in attendance. It was under the auspices of the Windell Sunday School.

The committee to solicit subscriptions to the Baptist Female University, are making some headway, but we are sorry to say are not receiving that encouragement which the matter deserves. Of the $8,000 required, about $1,400 has been pledged.

There is too much indifference shown about attending meetings of the Chamber of Commerce. These meetings should be well represented by its members. It is an important body, and has great interest to look after.

The wagon factory is booming. Ten wagons are being turned out today, and fifteen will soon be reached. They are as good as any ever brought to this market, and our people should patronize home industries, all things being even.

Modesty is that quality which should adorn men and women, but, unfortunately, "brazen impudence" is the thing that usually "gets there," and don't you forget it.

Mr. Sherwood House is neatly painting the store on Fayetteville street next to Messrs. W. C. & A. B. Stronach's preparatory to its occupancy as the Norris Dry Goods Store.

The Mayor had only a few trivial cases this morning to dispose of. One was a tramp on his way to Tennessee, who was found drunk. He was ordered to go on his route rejoicing. A hackman for leaving his horse standing unattended, was let off with the cost.

Mr. Moye, of the office of the clerk of the Superior Court, was engaged today in fixing up cases for the docket at the coming term. There are now seventy seven cases on docket. Joshua Harris, white man, will probably be tried for a burglary committed in New Light Township.

I feel it my duty to write you in regard to the benefit your Bradycrotine has been to my wife. Ever since a child she has been subject to the most dreadful headaches, usually several times a month. She has tried doctors from Maine to California but none could prevent these spells running their course. Bradycrotine has not failed to effect a cure in a single instance, one dose usually being sufficient. Oscar F. Frost, Monmouth, Maine. Sept. 2 6t

Robinson's circus next month.

Taxes will be due next Monday.
Blind Tom tomorrow night at Metropolitan Hall.

Over one hundred young lady boarders entered at Peace Institute yesterday.

School girls coming in by the score. It puts more life in the city to see their smiling faces.

Let the gravelling of Hillsboro road go on. It should be completed from the city to the exposition grounds by the time the "big show" opens.

Warning.

Complaint has been made to us that some parties have been digging potatoes and otherwise playing havoc with the vines, on the lot owned by Mr. J. N. McRary, situated on Saunders street next to Mr. Andrew Jackson's. Mr. McRary informs us that he will set a spring gun and also a steel trap in the lot, and should these invaders molest anything on the lot in the future they will have to take the consequences.

That Hydrant.

A young man of this city, went to one of our hydrants with a bucket in hand to get some water. He got hold of the chain and pulled for dear life for about fifteen minutes, but with no success. He finally turned to a gentleman close by and said: "Mister, please show me how to get this water out." The gentleman said: "There's the place to get water," pointing him to the pump. He said: "I thought that was the pump where I was trying to get water. He went away disgusted with his sell, a wiser man than before.

A Beautiful Sanctum.

In our rounds today we noticed a nicely executed sign in front of the premises No. 113 1/2 Fayetteville street, east side, on which were emblazoned in large letters the words "Biblical Recorder." It occurred to us that amid the hurried cares of business we had not called upon our esteemed Journalistic Brother, Rev. C. T. Bailey, who has recently removed the quarters of his well known paper from West Hargett street. We wended our way up stairs and found the brother wreathed in his usual smiles seated in a front room, fixed up in what might be termed, tip top style. This turned out to be the inner sanctum, or editorial room. It is furnished in a manner that shows most excellent taste, and is only one of four rooms devoted to the business of the Recorder. Adjoining the sanctum is the business department, where two young men were hard at work; then just across are the quarters for the compositors and the "make up room," reminding one of a busy hive of industry. Brother Bailey informed us that he had purchased one half of the premises, and now, so to speak, was monarch of all he surveyed. We had a most pleasant chat with him on the leading events of the day and, as usual found ourselves much interested. It would be a sad mistake to suppose that our brother, because he presides over a denominational journal, loses sight of the current events of the day. He would soon convince the most skeptical that he has an eye to business and even political current news of this mundane sphere, and can advance some of as good points on questions generally as any man we know of.

In a word, brother Bailey has settled down into his new quarters, seemingly for right down hard journalistic work, of which, we take it, he is unusually fond. He is in admirable health and his genial smile is an index of a liver in perfect order and a heart free from guile. He is a genial gentleman, a candid man, and an open-hearted friend. We have no mental reservation in all this. May he live long and continue to prosper.

Thanks.

Our thanks are hereby tendered for a complimentary ticket to the Cabarrus County A. & M. Fair, to be held at Concord, September 16th, 17th and 18th.

Removal.

The Real Estate firm of J. M. Broughton & Co., will tomorrow move into the office at corner Fayetteville and Martin streets, heretofore occupied by Col. Turk. We congratulate Messrs. Broughton and Moseley upon this change of location. They will now have one of the most eligible offices in the city, where we hope they will continue to prosper. They are hard working reliable business men. They deserve the success they have had.

Blind Tom in Town.

The many admirers of Blind Tom, who were shocked by the report that he was lost in the Johnstown disaster will be glad to learn that the report was unfounded, and that Blind Tom is well and doing well. He will delight large audiences at the Madison street theatre, October 12, 13, 14 and 15. He is as interesting as ever, and all who have heard him should hear him again, and others who have never heard him will lose a rare treat if they fail to attend his wonderful recitals.—The Conservator, Chicago, Ill.

Push On.

Where is the hitch in not running the street cars through on the Hillsboro street line? Surely, it is not very enticing to ride from the capitol to a point only a few yards beyond the railroad bridge. The line might almost as well not be run at all. St. Mary's ought, at least, to be reached, and, in fact, the public can see no good reason why the line should not be run as far as the rails are laid. It would seem that the company are much in their own light in this matter. The old "rule of three" would come in well here. If it takes one man ten days to do a piece of work, on the same principle, ten men of equal capacity ought to do the same work in one day. Put on enough hands, string the wires, put posts in the holes (now left open at night to the extreme danger of pedestrians) and then go ahead. Stopping at the present point, the Hillsboro street route is nothing more than a farce. This may appear a little too strong, but then it is true.

Will you examine our new stock of Carpets and Rugs? We don't think you have ever seen so extensive a stock of Carpets and Rugs as we are showing. Our Patrons.

Mr. L. R. Wyatt, No. 216, Fayetteville street, is the leader, not only in Raleigh, but in this section of North Carolina, in the way of farm implements, machinery etc. In fact in the general matter of business, he is one of our leading men; when he puts his shoulder to the wheel, progress is advanced. Call at his establishment and see for yourself. Every farmer visiting Raleigh should interview him. He can give good advice, and sell just what is needed.

L. D. Womble, at the corner of Hargett and Wilmington streets, is a prince of merchants as he is of good fellows. He has in stock almost any thing needed in the grocery and variety line, and he sells it at such prices as astonish the natives.

J. E. Francis, whose shoemaking establishment is on the east side of Fayetteville street, near Jones & Powell's store, is so well known in his line that he hardly requires an introduction. He is undoubtedly one of the best shoemakers in North Carolina and as clever a gentleman as can be found anywhere. Give "Bud" a trial. He will suit you.
