NEWS NOTES ABOUT THE CITY.

What Our Reporters See and Hear Worth Giving to Our Readers—News in Brief.

The latest accounts are that Ex-Gov. Seales has somewhat improved. Only about twenty days more before the exposition opens.

Students are still being entered at the Agricultural and Mechanical college.

The temporary hotel just outside the exposition grounds will be a great convenience.

Collector White has gone to his old home in Perquimans county on a visit.

This weather causes our summer tourists to be turning their attention homeward.

There are now sixteen prisoners in the county jail. Among them are several for offences against the United States.

The Superior Court for Wayne county commences at Goldsboro next Monday, with Judge Whitaker presiding.

Next week the electric cars will run as far as St. Mary's, and the week after to the exposition grounds. Good news.

Mr. R. Hibberd, of Durham, landscape gardener, came down yesterday and laid off the grounds of the Governor's Mansion.

Rev. Father Francis, O. S. B. is in the city and will while here conduct services in the church of the Sacred Heart. Services on Sunday will be at 11 a. m., and 5 p. m.

The north side of the market house building is being painted today. There will be no break in the work and it will all be completed in time for the exposition.

The Barlow Bros. Minstrel troupe paraded the principal streets today with their fine band and made a very creditable showing. The procession was much admired. Go and see them tonight.

There is much enthusiasm at Wake Forest over the increased attendance at the college, there being now over two hundred students. The ladies gave them a grand reception last Wednesday.

Mr. C. B. Edwards will leave next Thursday the 17th inst., to attend the Sovereign Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows which meets in St. Louis on the 21st.

The store of Mr. W. H. Hughes, on the corner of Fayetteville and Hargett streets is being neatly painted and renovated. It will present a handsome appearance when finished.

And now Messrs. Heller Bros., are painting and fixing up for the exposition. Raleigh will look like a new place entirely before the show opens. Don't let us forget the bunting however. It will make everything look patriotic.

Rev. I. McM. Pettinger, who sometime since resigned the position of rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, to take charge of a parish on Long Island, N. Y., is expected to return here tomorrow and resume his former rectorship. He will receive a most cordial welcome not only from his immediate charge, but from the people of Raleigh generally, with whom he was justly popular.

"A word to the wise is sufficient," but is not always wise to say that word to one who is suffering the tortures of a headache. However, always risk it and recommend Brandy-crotine. Sept 9 6t

Messrs. Weathers and Lawrence two young Raleigh boys have associated themselves together for the purpose of doing stenographic and type writing work. We have been shown samples which are most elegantly and correctly executed. We wish the little fellows much success. Let our people help them out. Such energy should be encouraged.

Cotton picking will soon be at its full height in this section.

The work of laying rails is fast progressing on the Factory Branch road to the Caraleigh Mills.

The front of the Yarboro House is being neatly cleaned. It will present a handsome appearance by the time the exposition opens.

Applications for space in the machinery department of the exposition are fast coming in. This department will be better represented than ever before.

The ceiling of the Baptist Tabernacle Sunday School room is one of the handsomest we have ever seen. The painting was done by Parish & Son. The school will hold services there on Sabbath next.

The fair of the Eastern Carolina and Stock Association which opens in Goldsboro next Tuesday will be the best yet held. The race course is the finest in the south and the racing this season promises to be better than ever.

If the Greensboro fox hunters accept the challenge of our fellow citizen Mr. Wm. Boylan, Sr., they will have to hustle—that's all about it. Mr. Boylan is not in the habit of being outdone in a fox hunt, and he won't be.

Now that the oyster season approaches, we hear the operations against pirates in the eastern waters of North Carolina, will be vigorous in case they make any threatening demonstrations. The oyster commission now own a very respectable sized yacht, and woe be unto trespassers from any source.

We tender our thanks to Messrs. A. Williams & Co. for a copy of a new Sunday school music book of which they have received a supply. The title of the book is, "Work and Worship," and from the examination we have given it, we regard it a very superior collection. The selections it contains are sparkling, spirited and at the same time simple and specially adapted for children.

Barlow's Minstrels.

This celebrated troupe appears at Metropolitan Hall tonight, and it will be an occasion of great interest to all amusement lovers. The company has gained laurels wherever it has appeared, and the press speak of it in the highest terms of commendation. The opening scene is said to surpass anything ever seen here in point of gorgeous display and arrangement.

The Twin City Sentinel is one of the most reliable papers in the State in point of comment, and here is what it says:

The famous Barlow Bros. Minstrels were at Brown's Opera House last night. The house was well filled with lovers of minstrelsy and fun and instead of a disappointment an agreeable surprise greeted the audience in the way of an aggregation of merit unexcelled by anything of the kind ever presented to a Winston audience. The "first part" is of unusual excellence and goes through with a dash and sparkle, unflavored with chestnuts, that is refreshing indeed. The second part is new although and has so many commendable points that to mention one would slight another equally as deserving of praise. The specialties were the best ever seen in Brown's Opera and the singing was the outcome of rich and well trained voices.

Barlow Bros. is a great minstrel. It is the event of the season.

Buy all kinds staple and fancy groceries at D. T. Johnson's. Fresh eggs and country butter received every day. 16 Hargett street.

Fine Dress Goods.

Our dress goods department is as complete as any dress goods stock can possibly be. D. T. SWINDELL.

Found.

A small sum of money; the owner can get it by applying at 415 Fayetteville street.

Quite Unusual.

Mr. Harrison Smith, living near Auburn, this county, informs us that a cow belonging to him dropped three calves, two females and one male, night before last. They are well developed and are as "lively as kittens." It is now in order for somebody to beat this for a calf story.

Died.

This morning at his residence on Swain street, Mr. J. D. Driver aged 33 years. He had been in declining health for sometime with consumption of the bowels. He leaves a father and mother and one sister to mourn their loss.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock from the residence of Mr. M. L. Haynes, No. 218 South Swain street.

Grand Success.

The following dispatch was received here today:

HENDERSON, N. C., Sept. 11. Maj. C. D. Heartt:

Barlow Bros. minstrels gave an exhibition last night to the largest audience that has been in Burwell Hall this season. I take pleasure in recommending it as a first class show in every respect. J. S. POYTHREE, Manager Opera House.

Our Exhibit.

We have on several occasions urged our people to make all the exertions in their power towards getting up a creditable exhibit for Wake county at the coming exposition. In order to do this, it is necessary that Mr. G. E. Gill, of Wake Forest, the representative of the county, should receive due notice of all articles intended for exhibition. In the agricultural department Mr. Gill has secured a large space, which he has decorated in a beautiful manner. We have reason to believe that the exhibit of Wake county will be full and creditable.

Mayor's Court.

The main features of the docket were two cases both for larceny.

Jim Wilkins, colored, took a notion to make a raid on the feathered tribe and stole some chickens. Evidence clear and Jim was sent on to court for further developments.

Henry Freeman, colored, appropriated to himself a bucket containing the dinner of a fellow workman at the new Union Depot. The evidence was conclusive, and Henry was bound over to the Superior Court.

Habeas Corpus.

A somewhat interesting habeas corpus case came up before Judge Whitaker, at chambers, this morning, it being an application for a writ of habeas corpus, applied for by J. C. L. Harris Esq., counsel for Lee Jones, a colored man charged with shooting his wife in Florida, and who was recently captured in North Carolina. The papers taken out by Mr. Harris, were made returnable yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, but, in the meantime the sheriff of Osceola county, Florida, where the crime was committed, appeared on the scene with requisition papers and secured the services of F. H. Busbee Esq., as attorney.

WRET DISCHARGED

After hearing the argument of counsel, Judge Whitaker discharged the writ of habeas corpus. An appeal to the Supreme Court was denied and the prisoner was remanded to the custody of the sheriff of Osceola county, who left with him this afternoon for Florida.

A Card.

Correspondence of the VISITOR.

A card was published in your paper of the 9th instant, by sundry colored citizens of Oberlin, which is calculated to do me injustice. It alluded to the fact that I have been asking aid for the establishment of a high school of learning for the colored people, and that I propose to locate it at Oberlin, and states that they disclaim having anything to do with said school, or that they had ever given me any authority to solicit aid for the same, or had expressed any desire to have said school in their midst. I have never alleged the contrary, but have acted on my own responsibility throughout, as every free citizen has the right to do. The amount of money paid me is small and has not been used for my own purposes, but all of it except a few dollars now on hand has been used in purchasing real estate for the use of said school, insuring the buildings thereon, &c., as shown by the Register's office of Wake county, at page 810, book 113, and the references to other deeds there made. The land has been conveyed to trustees for the use of said school. In this whole matter I have been acting honestly for the benefit of my race, and shall continue so to do.

Respectfully, M. L. LATTA.

Schwartz, the metropolitan butcher, has the finest beef and mutton ever brought to Raleigh. It is splendid and no mistake. Call and get some for your Sunday dinner.

That is, all kinds of carpets, and our prices we guarantee to be as low, and in many instances, lower than those of other houses. We are right now displaying the most complete line of floor covering that has ever been shown in Raleigh. In this exhibit are the cheapest cotton ingrain. Then all other kinds and qualities up to the Royal Wiltons. We make and lay carpets in the best possible manner. Our work is not even excelled by that of the largest Northern carpet houses. Now when you are in need of a carpet, it matters not the kind you want, we promise to please you both in style and price.

W. H. & R. S. TUCKER & Co.

Buy Carpets Before They Are Picked Over.

We have a most beautiful line of carpets, and we are having a big trade on carpets; are selling ten and fifteen carpets a day; and you can readily see that in a month or so the most desirable patterns will be sold. While if you are to buy a carpet and buy it now you will likely be suited better than if you wait longer. We are now (today and tomorrow) selling moquette and velvet carpets at 85c a yard. Now you know this price can't hold long, and you can now get a fine parlor carpet at a little less than half price. We are now showing the most lovely lot of hair rugs and Smyrna rugs that man has ever seen. And the most popular part of our business is the low prices at which we sell goods.

Respectfully, D. T. SWINDELL, 206 Fayetteville St.

SEPTEMBER—THE TIME FOR DRESS GOODS.—

THIS MONTH

Is the time to think of and buy Dress Goods

September is an interesting month for the customer who wishes to buy, and for the storekeeper who wishes to sell; and we are not going to let this September be any exception to the rest.

IT IS NOW

particularly interesting in dress goods, and will continue so, for our buyer is daily letting us have the best that money will procure.

We would like to tell you of every line of dress materials that he has sent us, but we can only tell you of a portion.

AMONG THE LAST

sent was a little lot of Dress Plaids

at 40c—very stylish. Then at 50c are a lot of beauties; one line of Striped and Plaid Scotch Cheviots, look almost like Cassimeres—but that is the right finish for this season.

Another lot at 50c in Plaids, very wide, 44 inches. This lot not at all rough finish, but still good sellers. Of 60c goods there is one line of beauties—medium and dark grounds with bright Roman stripes. Another lot equally as good, but less conspicuous—these Irish Tweeds—nothing wears better, and they closely resemble materials at twice their price.

The above are what we consider among the best at the prices, but probably after seeing the stock you will like others, for we have so many kinds, and we know the prices are right on all.
